Celebrate Anniversary Of Walker Missionary Home; 400 See Pageant

Auburndale Missionaries Home
Founded 70 Years Ago By Mrs. Eliza Walker

The Walker Missionary Home on Hancock st., Auburndale, celebrated the 70th anniversary of its founding last Saturday by a pageant which depicted "Scenes from Seven Decades" and showed incidents connected with the founding of the home by Mrs. Eliza Harding Walker. Tall hats and bonnets, bustles and sideburns, hoop skirts and curls were the order of the day. The performers wore authentic costumes representing the periods portrayed. More than 400 invited guests from all over Massachusetts lived for a few hours in those early days when the home was founded in 1868.

Following the pageant the guests examined the historical exhibit which included old portraits, letters, stationery and the yellowed Day Book begun in 1870 with items which hinted at many human interest stories that might be written about the more than 1300 persons—missionaries on furlough, children left in the home land, retired veterans who have lived in these homes since the day Mrs. Walker took little Carrie and Freddy Snow of the South Sea Islands into her home along with her own four youngsters.

The story of the life of Mrs. Walker is a dramatic one. Born in Waltham, Mass., in 1826, the daughter of Rev. Sewall Harding, an Auburndale man, she attended Northfield Seminary and what was then called Mt. Holyoke Female Seminary. In October 1852 she married August Walker, Yale 1849, Andover Seminary 1852, and sailed as a bride for the Near East under the American Board of Foreign Missions located in Diarbekir, Turkey. Thirteen years later the young husband died of cholera and was buried on the banks of the Tigris River where already two children of the Walkers were resting. Mrs. Walker then started for America with her four children.

In one side of a pannier on the back of a strong mule sat Mrs. Walker with her six weeks old baby, Helen, in her lap. On the other side was Fred, the oldest boy, then ten, and pieces of iron to equal the weight. On a second mule came the two younger children, Dean and Hattie, with all the worldly goods of Mrs. Walker piled on the backs of other mules.

Thus the cavalcade started out on a 500 mile journey to the seacoast which led them over trails, through deep valleys, across steep mountain ranges and deep and rapid rivers. It was not a friendly country and often they spent the night at some isolated khan by the wayside. For 28 successive days this intrepid little woman pushed on with her children and one servant.

11 Girl Scouts To Be Awarded Golden Eaglets

Golden Eaglets will be awarded to eleven Newton Girl Scouts in Memorial Hall at City Hall on Tuesday, June sixth, at seven-thirty in the evening. The awards will be made by Mrs. Theron B. Walker, commissioner of the Newton Local Council, and an address will be made by Mr. William V. M. Fawcett, general chairman of the Newton Community Chest for 1939, and former president and commissioner of Norumbega Council, Inc., Boy Scouts of America.

The ceremony has been arranged by the Program Committee, of which Miss Adelaide B. Ball is chairman. The girls who will be honored for this highest achievement in Girl Scouting are: Marjorie Millard and Ruth Pike of Troop 8, Helen Meserve of Troop 10, Constance Linberg, Elizabeth Sheridan, and Mildred Tedeschi of Troop 11, Bessie Rilla Bacon and Jane Merrill of Troop 12, Joan Concannon of Troop 15, and Eleanor Leahy and Mary Murray of Troop 30.

Another Petition For Business Zone

Edward and Nora Rala of Arlington have filed a petition with the Newton Board of Aldermen asking that about 2½ acres of land on the Worcester turnpike near Florence st. and the Hammond Pond parkway be changed from private residence to business zone. A hearing on this matter will be held on Wednesday night, June 14, before the Claims & Rules Committee. Similar petitions in the past, in attempts to bring business along the turnpike, have been promptly turned down by the Aldermen. The Worcester turnpike was constructed at a cost of many millions of dollars as a speedway automobile thoroughfare between Boston and Worcester, and was planned to be kept away from business centers of the cities and towns through which it passes. To allow business along the turnpike would defeat the purpose for which this traffic artery was constructed.

Finally she reached Samsoun on the Black Sea and by coasting steamer was carried to Constantinople. There she met other missionaries and crossed the ocean landing in Boston in the summer of 1867.

Not wishing to be a burden to her father, Mrs. Walker decided to supplement her small widow's pension by taking in boarders from the city.

In October, 1868, the American Board met in Norwich, Conn., and a Miss

Summer Camp Solicitations

The professional solicitors have now turned their attention from the sale of tickets for Concerts and Dances that sometimes never materialize, to asking for donations to send children to summer camps that exist only in their imagination.

There is just one sure rule to follow and that is to tell the solicitor that you will be glad to investigate; then call us. We will give you a statement of the facts which will enable you to decide whether you should contribute. No solicitation is so urgent that sufficient time cannot be taken to check up. By so doing you protect legitimate appeals and help curb the fakes.

Youth Who Caused Accident Fined $50

William L. Babcock, 20, of 526 Beacon st., Boston, a student at M. I. T., was fined $50 by Judge Mayberry in the Newton court on Thursday for driving an automobile so as to endanger the safety of the public. On Memorial Day afternoon a car driven by Babcock hit another car at the corner of Newtonville ave. and Lewis st., Newton, and caused seven occupants of the car to be slightly injured. Lieut. Moan of the traffic bureau was the prosecutor.

In court the same day George Annal, 23, of 119 Rowe st., Auburndale was fined $25. On May 21 a car driven by him hit a tree on Charles st., Auburndale, and some occupants of the automobile were injured. Annal claimed he was not driving rapidly, but Patrolman Elliot testified that the car had skidded 85 feet before hitting the tree.

Chester Price, 20, of 116 Westland ave., West Newton used very poor judgment on May 24. In the first place, driving after his license had been suspended, he parked his car on a restricted street, Elm rd., Newtonville. In the second place, Chester allegedly made an impudent remark to a policeman when the latter ordered him to move his car. The policeman was Lawrence O'Donnell, who since his recent assignment to the Traffic Bureau of the Newton police department, had been wearing civilian attire while on duty, and was (Continued on Page 10)

High School To Present "Pirates of Penzance"

Light Opera To Be Performed In Quadrangle Friday, Saturday Evenings

"The Pirates of Penzance," popular light opera by Gilbert and Sullivan, will be produced at Newton High School on Friday and Saturday evenings, June 2 and 3, at 8:30 o'clock. Performances will be in the school quadrangle. In case of rain, the high school auditorium will be used. Staging and lighting effects have been arranged by Charles W. Peterson for both outdoor and indoor use. Sound amplification is being perfected by Mr. Peterson and Assistant Principal Raymond A. Green, who is general director and producer of the operetta.

Coach for The Pirates is Miss Louise Wetherbee, who has turned out many fine plays at Newton High in former years and this year produced "Pride and Prejudice." Direction of music is by Haydn M. Morgan and John C. Lingo. Newton High's first light opera is likely to rank in school history with the grand outdoor pageant, "A Midsummer Night's Dream," presented one year ago before an audience of nearly 5000 people.

The cast includes William Stark as the pirate king and Jane Cooper as Mable, the General's youngest daughter. Mary-Louise Shadman, Neil Cheney, Albert Robertson, Donald Finchbaugh, and John Durkee are in important roles. The three other daughters of General Stanley are taken by Ruth Pyke, Gertrude Foley, and Eleanor Sampson. There is a large chorus of daughters, pirates, and policemen. (Continued on page 2)

Newton Youths To Go to Greenland

Two Newton youths have been selected as members of the student crew which will accompany Donald B. MacMillan on the 1939 cruise to North Greenland. They are Clark E. Woodward, Jr., of Homer, Newton Centre, and Chauncey Waldron, Jr., of Highland ave., Newtonville. Harold B. Evans of 1057 Walnut st., Newton Highlands, will serve as first mate to MacMillan. It will be his third trip with the Maine explorer. The cruise will start from Boothbay Harbor on June 24.

A large number of young trees have been planted along Newton streets the past few weeks by employees of the Forestry Department. Urge your children to refrain from breaking or damaging these young trees. In past years many hundreds of young trees planted along our streets, have been destroyed by thoughtless boys.

Four-Day Program For Theological School Graduation

Saltonstall At Memorial Day Exercises Says U.S. Should Keep Out of War

Urges Peace In Tribute To Honored Dead At Soldiers' Monument in Newton Cemetery—Leonard Boyd, Lone G.A.R. Survivor

Outstanding in Newton's Memorial Day parade and the exercises at Newton Cemetery on Tuesday were Governor Leverett Saltonstall who served as chief marshal of the parade, and Leonard Boyd, 95, of Newton Highlands, the only G. A. R. man surviving in this city, and the last member of Charles Ward Post. Mayor Childs relinquished his prerogative to serve as chief marshal, and had requested the Governor to lead the parade. Mr. Saltonstall is a member of Newton Post, American Legion, and has for years participated in Memorial Day parades in this city.

The parade started at 2:20 p. m. at Washington st. and Centre ave., Newton. It was headed by a detail of police under Serg. Thomas Leehan. The Governor, who served with the A. E. F. as a Lieutenant in the 301st Field Artillery, wore the overseas khaki uniform and was escorted by an honor guard of Boy Scouts. John Scarlett was Chief of Staff, and J. Edward Theriault, adjutant general. The Governor's staff included Ex-Mayor Sinclair Weeks, General Daniel Needham, Col. Henry Comerais and Past Commanders of Newton veteran organizations. It was headed by Capt. C. Ray Cabot and among those who marched with the staff was Captain Gustave Adam, who served with the French army in the World War. The military staff was followed by members of the city government, headed by Mayor Childs and President Floyd of the Board of Aldermen, and Senator Arthur Hollis.

Included in the organizations in the parade were — Newton High School band; staff of 101st Q.M. Regiment; Company C, 101st Infantry; Headquarters Company, 101st Q.M. Regiment; J. Wiley Edmonds Camp, Sons of Union Veterans, escorting Commander Leonard Boyd, Charles Ward Post, G. A. R.; Mrs. A. E. Cunningham Tent, Daughters of Union Veterans; Thomas Burnett Camp, Spanish War Veterans; Y. D. Post junior drum corps; Chaplain Wm. Farrell Chapter, D. A. V.; Newton Post, A. L. band; Newton Post, American Legion, and auxiliary, Sons of V. F. W. band; Serg. Eugene Daley Post, V. F. W., and auxiliary; Boy Scouts with massed colors; Newton Red Cross motor corps.

The exercises at the cemetery opened with a prayer by Rev. Ben Roberts of the Newton Highlands Congregational Church. Governor Saltonstall gave a short address in which he paid tribute to those who served this country in past wars, and expressed the hope that the U. S. A. will not become involved uselessly in any future war. Past Commander Harold Ames of Newton Post, A. L., read General Logan's order of May 5, 1868, which gave directions for the observance of Memorial Day. Lincoln's "Gettysburg Address" was delivered by Leroy Gould, orator of the Sons of V. F. W. Wreaths were then laid at the base of the monument by representatives of the various veteran organizations, and also by Mayor Childs. "Taps" was then sounded, and the exercises concluded by the playing of the national anthem.

William M. Mick, of the Sons of Union Veterans, was master of ceremonies at the exercises in the cemetery.

May Procession At Our Lady's Church

The annual May procession at Our Lady's Church, Newton, last Sunday afternoon was witnessed by a large number of people. Included in the marchers were pupils of Our Lady's grade and high schools, and the clergy of the parish. Carmela Gentile was the May Queen, and her attendants were Rita Goodwin and Mildred Regan. The cross bearer was John Murphy, and the flag bearers were George Gubbins, William O'Brien and Norman Riley. The procession formed in the convent yard on Adams st. and marched along Adams and Washington sts. to the high school where a shrine had been erected at the arcade in the front of the school. Following a hymn by the children, Miss Gentile crowned a statue of the Blessed Virgin.

The statue of the Blessed Virgin was carried by Daniel Cardarelli, John Garvin, William Nugent and Patrick Pasquale. Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament was given by Rev. John Sheridan, assisted by Rev. James Fahey, Rev. Thomas Fallon, Rev. Daniel Riodan, and Rev. John Williams.

Quincy Firm Low Bidder on City Coal

Public Building Commissioner Campbell on Wednesday opened bids for the supplying of coal to the City of Newton for the coming year. Antonellis & Sons of Quincy submitted the lowest bid on the principal supply; $5.20 per ton on 7375 tons of run-of-mine coal; and $5 per ton on 3700 tons of nut and slack. The City Fuel Company of Boston, low bidder last year, submitted a price of $5.49 for run-of-mine, and $5.19 for nut and slack.

Lightning Hits Two Newton Houses

The lightning storm last Sunday afternoon hit two houses in this city. A bolt followed a wire into the home of Charles Hopkinson, 9 Carl st., Newton Highlands. It burnt out the electric lights in the house and shattered a fixture in the bathroom. Box 95 was pulled but the house did not catch fire from the bolt.

Lightning hit the house of Michael J. Thornton at 92 North st., Newton Centre, splintered a window sash in a second-floor room, and set fire to a curtain. The occupants of the house were not aware it had been hit until Paul Seagrave, a neighbor, rushed in and informed them. The fire damage was slight.

Walker Missionary Home Celebrates 70th Anniversary

Carrie Borden spoke of the grave problem of the education of missionaries' children and the hardships they endured. Mrs. Walker was put on a committee to study the matter. She wrote at that time:

"My roommate was Mrs. Snow of Micronesia. South Sea Islands, just home from 17 years of service. She had expected to leave her children with her mother in Maine when she went back to her work but saw that they would not have any school advantages there and felt she must make better plans. She came to me and asked if I knew of anyone who would give a home to her daughter, Carrie. Carrie was ten years old. My heart yearned over the child and the possibility of my taking her myself was brewing."

The result of this brewing was the establishment of what are now the Walker Missionary Homes with their splendid plant consisting of Walker House, Barton House, Hume Cottage, Harding East, Harding West, and the Howard House. Located in the heart of Auburndale, Mass., the Walker Missionary Homes cover an area of three and one-half acres with an estimated property valuation of $150,000.

The story of the Walker Homes was depicted in a pageant "Scenes from Seven Decades." The players were missionaries, past, present, and possibly future, for there were many children of the missionaries there.

The pageant began by showing the home of Mrs. Walker in 1869 and her response to the need she saw for some place where the children of poorly paid missionary parents could live while the mothers and fathers went back to the four corners of the globe into isolated areas with no companionship for young life and no schools.

This afternoon Miss Harriet Walker, the little Hattie who was brought to this country by her mother when only three years old, dressed in the costume worn by Eliza Harding Walker in the now famous portrait hanging in the Walker Missionary Home at 144 Hancock st., cut a huge birthday cake with 70 candles.

A peculiarly impressive feature of the pageant, "Scenes from Seven Decades," was the fact that so many Americans from every corner of the globe took the parts. Many of them had lived when children in the Walker Missionary Homes. Others were the sons and daughters of these youngsters who years ago faced separation from father and mother as they sailed away to Africa, India, China or the South Seas. Still others were sons and daughters of missionaries now on the field who are remaining in America for study.

Dr. D. Brewer Eddy of Newton presided. Rev. Carl M. Gates of Wellesley, President of the Board of Trustees, gave the invocation. Mrs. Frank F. Davidson of Newton, Vice-Chairman of the Board of Managers, extended a welcome. Greetings were then received from the Honorable Edwin O. Childs, Mayor of Newton, representing the City; Paul E. Elicker, Principal of the Newton High School, representing the schools; Dr. Ralph H. Rogers, Pastor of the Auburndale Congregational Church, representing the church; Dr. Rockwell Harmon Potter, of Hartford, Connecticut, Dean of Hartford Theological Seminary and President of the American Board, representing the American Board; and Mrs. Merlyn W. Ennis of Sachikela, West Africa, representing the missionaries.

The script for "Scenes from Seven Decades" was written by Miss Alzina C. Munger of China with musical preludes and interludes furnished by Mrs. Hazel A. Martin of Batangundi, India, and Miss Ruth Phillips, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Ray E. Phillips of Johannesburg, South Africa.

The prologue and epilogue to the pageant were read by Dr. Enoch F. Bell of Brookline.

In 1887 the Walker Home was deeded by Mrs. Walker to the American Board. By now the Home was no longer one building but four. It needed a staff and a head worker. So

Mrs. Sanders, a missionary widow from Ceylon, became the first superintendent. The present superintendents are Mr. and Mrs. Arthur G. Robinson, formerly of Tientsin, China.

Two Incendiary Fires at Newton

Two incendiary fires occurred at Newton last Friday. The first was in the old house on the Stearns estate on Watertown st. The fire was started at the rear of the house by an 8-year-old boy and worked into the kitchen, damaging that part of the interior. Box 173 was pulled at 1:28 p. m. and traffic was detoured from Watertown st. for about 20 minutes. Patrolman Walter Jenkins learned the identity of the boy who started this fire. Young vandals have broken many windows recently in this unoccupied house.

At 10:58 Friday night a large, old barn on the former Whittemore estate at 30 Washington st., Newton, was observed to be ablaze and Box 112 was pulled. By the time the firemen arrived the upper part of the large barn was all ablaze, and the flames bursting from a cupola on the barn could be seen for a considerable distance and attracted a large crowd. Two separate fires had been started in the building, and one burning a pile of papers on the first floor was extinguished by members of Engine 1 Company. The building was owned by Frank Ferrin of Hunnewell ave., Newton, and years ago had been used both as a stable for horses, and part of it as a cow barn. A short while before the fire was discovered in the building, a group of youths were observed running from the barn by neighbors. Newton police are investigating this case of incendiarism.

Annual Ladies' Night Held By Hunnewell Club May 25

The 10th annual "ladies' night" of the Newton Club, a neighborhood organization composed of residents of Hunnewell Hill, Newton, was held May 25 and proved a complete success. One of the features of the evening was an original poem dedicated to the club and read by its author, Albert S. Partridge, a leading member of the organization. A few of the verses, of which there were fifteen, read as follows:

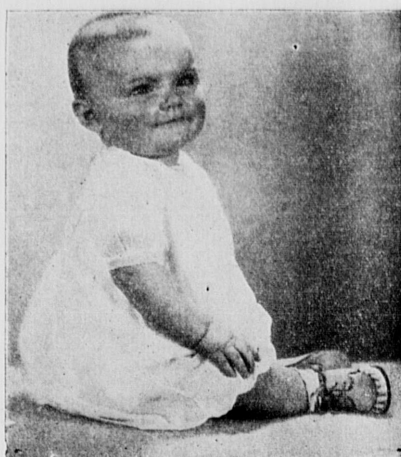

I may be a bit old fashioned, an' not much for show nor trill,
'Cause I sort o' like t' tell folks that I live on "Jest a hill."
'Sides, yer couldn't live 'n no place, that with joy yer heart will fill,
As among such friendly neighbors, same's ther' be on Hunnewell Hill.

This here Club be mighty different from th' ordinary run,
It's the most unique gathering in our County, barring none.
We've no use fer pesky by-laws, we just use plain common sense;
If we vote t' spend a dollar, what o' that? jest charge sump'n!

An' no politics is mentioned, no one airs ther' personal view,
We don't never have no arguments. In our Club they're taboo.
There's some members who from bus'ness have retired an' taken flight, While th' rest of us jes' thankful to retire at ten each night.

Costumes and properties are under the charge of Miss Jeannie B. Kenrick, Miss Alice Alden, Miss Gladys Davis, Miss Catherine Murray, Miss Mary Owens, of the home economics department, Miss Victoria Carpenter, and Miss Claremont Harper, and Miss Marywells Leiter of the girls' gymnasium staff. Miss Jean Aubrey is coach for all the dances. Ticket selling has been supervised by a faculty committee, Forrest S. Paige, Herbert Clark, and William Winston.

Ticket selling has been promoted by various devices. A parody, entitled "Smoot White and the Seved Pirates" was presented at Senior Night, May 20. Friendly pirates were discovered digging on the school grounds last Thursday. They unearthed a large chest of candy kisses which they shared with the throng of 500 pupils watching their act. Three large trunks filled with treasures donated by faculty members have been awarded to the rooms selling the most tickets. They were allowed to divide their booty at informal parties arranged for them by the publicity committee. The classes in freehand drawing made the art posters displayed in the Newton libraries and schools. Pupils in the language classes did a series of signs in French, German, Spanish and Latin. These slogans on the home room blackboards made the entire school polyglot-minded during the past month.

55 YEARS AGO

Newton Graphic, May 24, 1884

Monday was the first hot day of the season; the thermometer was up to 81.

There were 10 confirmations by Bishop Paddock at Grace Church last Sunday.

G. H. Blackwell and Eben Ellison took a ride to Bridgewater on their bicycles on Thursday.

Joe McCuller died of water on the brain last week. He fell into a brook and injured his head.

As Grace Church has a gift of $5000 toward a chapel, they will build it of stone instead of wood.

The Newton gentlemen who accompanied Mr. Nickerson of West Newton, president of the Mexican Central Railway, to the City of Mexico, to attend the opening of that railway, arrived home on Thursday. They were all greatly pleased with their trip.

The income of the Read Fund (the gift of Charles H. Read) to the City of Newton for this year, will amount to $1362.27 on the first of this July. In conformity with the provisions of the will it will be expended as follows: picnic to children of Newton Corner, $228.76; lectures on scientific subjects, $459.52; Newton free library, $344.14; poor widows, $332.85.

The dress parade on Memorial Day will be held at Newton Center. Instead of at Farrow Park, Newton, where it has been held previously.

The Boston & Albany railroad received a pretty general overhauling at the State House on Thursday. Between the discriminations in freight rates, and watering of socks, there were many sharp things said.

50 YEARS AGO

Newton Graphic, May 24, 1889

The City of Newton has borrowed $50,000 from the Potter-Lovell Company at 2 1/4 per cent per annum, payable next November.

On Monday Benjamin Tripp was at his work as a carpenter when a chisel in his hand slipped and was driven into his leg, barely missing the femoral artery. He was treated by Dr. Frisbee.

George Bush's harness room on the third floor of his livery stable is probably the best in the city. It is large, airy and filled with the best in harnesses, and is in proper keeping with the rest of this stable.

With the cars of the Newton Street Railway running every 15 minutes along Washington st., the north side of the track will be a great place for business, and the railway ought to bring a large amount of trade to Newton Corner.

The new Elliot Church will be used for the first time next Monday evening on the occasion of the organ recital. The organists will be Henry M. Dunham and Samuel Carr, Jr., of Boston, William H. Clark of Woburn and Walter Goodrich of Newton. The dedication exercises will take place next Thursday evening.

Alderman Kennedy introduced an order at the Board of Aldermen on Monday night about playgrounds, which ought to receive immediate attention. There is said to be a good-sized field at Nonantum which can be hired at a merely nominal rent, and that would make a good beginning toward public playgrounds. It would prove a great convenience to a great number.

At the meeting of the School Committee on Wednesday evening, with Mayor Burr in the chair, Thomas Emerson was re-elected superintendent of schools by a vote of 11 to 2, and his salary was increased from $3000 to $3200. The extra $200 is to be used to cover clerical assistance in his office. It was voted to appoint a trustee officer in each of the several villages, instead of one officer for the entire city. It was voted to appropriate $30 for the use of each of the principals of the grammar schools, to meet the expenses of graduating exercises. The exercises will be held at City Hall, West Newton, instead of at the various schools provided that two-thirds of the children's parents favor this plan.

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday evening a communication was received from Mayor Burr in which he said: "In view of the approach of the summer, and the unusual warmth of the season, it seems to be a fitting time to remind you that Newton provides no bathing facilities for public bathing. The necessity of establishing at least one public bath house near the center of population seems to be too apparent to be dwelt upon, the growth of the city in recent years having deprived men and boys of the privilege they formerly enjoyed of bathing in nearly every pond and at many places along the river. It is unnecessary to add that public health and public order suffer under the existing conditions. I recommend that immediate action be taken by you with purpose of supplying the need before the end of this bathing season."

(Signed) Heman Burr.

Powers' Paragraphs

Chief Randlett of the Newton Fire Department calls attention to the danger of using gasoline for cleansing purposes inside of any building. Fumes from gasoline are highly explosive. They can be ignited by a spark of static electricity, and such a spark can be ignited from the friction caused by rubbing an article of clothing or furniture in the cleansing process, or even by a person walking across a rug. And when gasoline fumes ignite, a room filled with them becomes instantly a blazing inferno. Last Saturday a young man at Newton Upper Falls was cleaning the furniture in the living-room at his home with gasoline when a flash occurred and the room at once became ablaze. Only his courage and coolness, and that of neighbors who assisted, saved his young children from probably being burned to death. The man himself was seriously burned.

The police detail, Governor Saltonstall's staff of war veterans, and other units in the Memorial Day parade, gave a weird exhibition of marching on Washington st. last Tuesday, but they could not be blamed. The tempo of the music played by the high school band was responsible. And this is no girls' composing it do well for student musicians of their age and experience, but in a military parade the music at the head of the line should be provided by a band trained to play in proper marching tempo.

The garden established on Centre st., Newton, near Church st., by the late Professor H. H. Powers, is again in attractive bloom, and continues to serve as a beautiful, living memorial to the civic-minded man who created it as a beauty spot.

If you want a demonstration of the value of public playgrounds, not only for children, but as recreation places for young folks and grown-ups, visit the Newton Center playground some Saturday and see Newton devotees of the ancient sport of archery engaged in this activity which requires both skill and muscle. Or you may witness the old English sport, cricket. The playground at Newton Center is the home field of one of the teams in the State cricket league. At Cabot Park, Burr playground and various other playgrounds scores of tennis games are in progress each day and evening, and at Boyd Park the men folks obtain even more enjoyment out of "soft-ball" games than do the youngsters. Newton leads in playground facilities, and they are one of our city's best assets.

Because the Governor of the Commonwealth was to lead the parade on Memorial Day, a larger number of spectators than for many years, lined the route of march. Several of these spectators commented adversely to us on the lack of numbers in the parade. They thought it was not creditable to Newton. Most men do not enthuse over marching several miles on a hot day and if the veterans won't parade, it has been suggested that civic organizations be asked to participate.

Congratulations to Freeland O. Stanley of Waverley ave., Newton, who celebrated his 90th birthday yesterday. He has had a long, useful and happy life. Born in a little village in Maine, he and his twin brother, the late Francis E. Stanley, by their intelligence and ambition, achieved success in various fields. They invented a high-quality dry plate camera, and later sold out their dry-plate business to the Eastman Company. They also invented the Stanley Steam Carriage, one of the first "horseless carriages" to be manufactured in this country, and thus started an industry which for many years gave employment to a large number of Newton men. Mr. Stanley's hobby has been the making of violins, and over a long period he has obtained enjoyment in this occupation.

Secretary of State Hull continues to advocate internationalism. He won't be satisfied until this country becomes more closely involved with those older civilizations across the seas which are headed for destruction unless they change their tactics; which we believe they will do. Because Hitler's advisers (or bosses), and Mussolini and his advisers, realize that another general European war will result eventually in the overthrow of the present dictators and their cliques, and the seizure of power by the masses of their peoples under radical leadership. It is encouraging to observe that more and more persons in this country have come to the conclusion that war in Europe is not imminent. The past few weeks' steamships for Europe have carried thousands of U. S. A. citizens who will tour Europe and the British Islands the coming months. And bookings for June and July sailings to Europe, England and Ireland show that many thousands more will cross the Atlantic. American newspapers are giving less space to "war scare" stories.

Despite the fact that a large, free parking area was established some months ago at Newton Corner, Washington and Centre sts., in that section continue to be used by autoists who disobey the parking restrictions and who are too lazy to walk a couple of hundred feet to the parking area. Herbert Kellaway of the Planning Board suggests that a sign conspicuously placed at the corner of Washington st. and Pearl Court might call attention of autoists to the parking area.

From comments we have heard about the city the action of the School Committee in lowering the pay of substitute school teachers does not meet with enthusiastic approval. While citizens favor economy in the cost of our schools, many of them believe that it should not have been achieved in part by reducing the pay of those who receive the least.

An old resident of Newton requested us to call attention to the fact that any man over 70 years of age may claim exemption from payment of the poll-tax.

It would seem that members of the Legislature, particularly that large majority of the House of Representatives who favor paying themselves $4000 for the biennial session, might favor Governor Saltonstall's recommendation for the large increase in taxes. But, citizens in general, having observed the calibre of this same large majority of Representatives, and some of the Senators, do not enthuse over the prospect of placing so many additional millions of dollars at the disposal of these members of our Great and General Court, especially when said citizens have to do the paying.

Quincy is the most prosperous city in this State today because of its big shipyard and the huge building program of the navy. If Quincy, Brockton, and the other cities and towns served by the Old Colony Railroad, want to retain that transportation service, why don't they make up the deficit, just as Boston and the other cities and towns served by the Boston Elevated pay for the huge, annual deficit of that company.

Automobile Accidents

Cars driven by Edward Slamin of Damien rd., Wellesley and Dr. Walter Denning of Davis ave., Brookline collided at Concord st., Lower Falls last Friday afternoon. Dr. Denning reported that his back was injured.

Raymond Hayes of Oakburn ave., Roxbury, was driving a new truck along Walnut st., Newtonville, last Friday afternoon to deliver it to its purchaser. At the corner of Cabot st., Hayes dozed at the steering wheel and the truck hit a tree. Hayes received a cut on his nose, and the truck was considerably damaged.

While automobiles were being detoured from Washington st. during the parade on Memorial Day cars driven by William Babcock, 20, of 521 Beacon st., Boston, and Thomas Carr, 18, of Tremont pl., Brighton, collided at Newtonville ave. and Lewis st., Newton. Carr's car was overturned and all its seven occupants slightly injured. Mrs. Mary Carr, her four children and Robert Brady, 17, of Tremont st., Brighton, received cuts and bruises and were taken to the Newton Hospital in the police ambulance.

Aileen Moran of 151 Winchester st., Newton Highlands, was slightly injured on Tuesday afternoon when she was hit opposite her home by an automobile driven by Charles Patton of 69 Erie ave., Newton Highlands. He reported that the child ran out onto the street into the path of his car.

Italian Veterans Meet on June 3

The Italian World War Veterans Association of Post 6 of Newton will be hosts to delegates at the State meeting on Saturday, June 3, in Nonantum A. Hall on Dalby st., Nonantum. The meeting will be featured by a spaghetti supper, and a musical program.

Find No Cash At Newton Shoe Store

Last Saturday morning at 4 Patrolman Sullivan found a window at the rear of McCammon's Shoe Store at Newton Corner broken. Police notified Mr. McCammon at his home in Weston and he came to the store. He found the place ransacked, but apparently nothing had been stolen. Evidently the burglar was looking for money. Several months ago the store was broken into and at the time a sum of money was stolen from it. Since then, cash has not been left in the store nights.

Dr. Chope To Talk At Oak Hill Assn.

At the meeting of the Oak Hill Improvement Association on Monday evening, June 5, at 8 p. m., in Oak Hill School, the speaker will be Dr. Harold Chope, Director of Public Health for the City of Newton. His subject will be—"If We Only Could." A discussion will follow, and there will be a social half hour with refreshments. The meeting is open to the public.

Among those fined $5 for speeding were Saul Hurwitz of Newland st., Auburndale, Gladys Joyce of Brookline and Elliot Harrington of Waltham. A speeding charge against F. Stanley Hallett of 12 Garden rd., Newton, was placed on file. Walter McLachlan of 21 Hunter st., West Newton, was fined $3 for not STOPPING before entering a through way.

Charged With Speeding On Washington Street

Carl Pierce, of 334 Linwood ave., Newtonville, was arraigned in the Newton court on Wednesday for speeding. Motorcycle Officer McGrath testified that Pierce had operated his car on Washington st. near Court st. at a rate of between 40 and 45 miles. Judge Mayberry placed the case on file.

Want Swampy Lot Of Land Drained

A large, low lot of land at the corner of Lowell ave. and Hull st., Newtonville is the cause of complaints from people residing in that neighborhood because it has become partly covered with water and is regarded as a breeding place for mosquitoes. There is a spring on the lot which is used as a drinking place by many persons who believe the liquid they quaff there is especially good because it is "spring water." Drainage from the high areas on both sides of Lowell ave. seep down into the lot in question. The land is owned by Israel Nisson of Boston, and Dr. Choze of the Newton Health Department has been endeavoring to have the owner clear the lot of decayed branches and vegetation so that the water can run into a drain that is located at one corner of the lot.

New Laundry Service Offers Customer Costs In Advance

"No more Guesswork about the cost of your laundry," declared R. H. Simonds, president and treasurer of the Boston & Suburban Laundry, as he announced their new economical "Bag-o-Wash" laundry method which was started recently. This new system involves the use of a laundry bag and the capacity to which the bag is filled determines your weekly laundry bill. Designed to meet the needs of every family, "Bag-o-Wash" entails no extra charges for the customer. "Know what you spend before you send" states Mr. Simonds as he explained the theory behind this new service. The laundry is packed in the bag, the chain then drawn around the narrow strap, and your laundry bill can be determined at once. "Bag-o-Wash" is not a bargain laundry service emphasized Mr. Simonds, who introduced the novel idea, but rather a meter of your laundry expense. Quality is not sacrificed; but your savings are greater and your budget safer.

Charged With Hitting Woman

Harold Thorne, 22, of 297 Parker st., Oak Hill was arrested on Monday night by Patrolmen Turner and Smith after Mary Orlanella had complained that the youth had hit her when she refused to serve him beer at a Union st. lunchroom. Thorne was arraigned in the Newton court on Monday and his case was continued until June 1.

Barbara Tower Wins Honors In National Piano Contest

Sixteen-year-old Barbara Tower of West Newton was awarded a National Superior Prize in the sixth annual tournament of the National Piano Guild it was announced early this week. Miss Tower is a pupil of Gladis Ondrick, and played 19 numbers during the contest. State Superior prize winner was Clara Sampson of Newton with seven compositions. Playing four pieces, Martha Tyler of Newton was awarded the District Superior title. Over 2000 young pianists all over the country were entered in the contest, and nearly 250 of the musicians were from Massachusetts.

Wellesley Recreation Camps Plan Seventh Season

For the past six years the Wellesley Recreation Camps have conducted summer day camps for a constantly increasing clientele. From 1933-1937 the sessions were held at the Beacon School, Wellesley Hills. In 1938 new grounds were occupied on a 21-acre tract of land with beach and shore front on Dudley Pond in Cohasset. The seventh season, starting July 3, will be operated at the same location with improved facilities. Organized originally in 1933 with 15 boys, the camps reached an enrollment in 1938 of 60 boys and girls, a number to which the maximum enrollment will be limited hereafter. Separate camps are organized for boys from 8 to 14, and for girls from 6 to 14 years of age. Camp cars call at children's homes in the morning and return them to the door again. Counselors are mature, experienced leaders and teachers, organized in different divisions under the direction of Mr. Herbert Snow, Director of Physical Education, Mr. Ralph W. Proctor, and Miss Elizabeth Hayden, Sargent School graduate and physical education teacher.

Want $16,000 To Provide Building For Playground

The Newton Playground Commission has asked Mayor Childs to recommend an appropriation to alter a large structure adjoining the Hawthorn st. playground at Nonantum so that the building can be used for playground and bath-house purposes. Alterations on the former automobile garage would cost the city about $16,000. If, however, the labor on this project would be performed by WPA workers, the cost to the city for materials would be $10,000 to $12,000. The building is of cement block construction and is 35 feet wide and 80 feet long. It would provide a play hall for children, shower baths, toilet facilities, dressing rooms and a director's room. The building was acquired by the city a couple of years ago.

Fined $50 For Drunken Driving

Mrs. Mildred Perino of 90 Rowena rd., Newton Centre, was fined $50 by Judge Mayberry in the Newton court last Saturday for driving a car while under the influence of liquor. She was arrested at Beacon st., Newton Centre on May 18 by Patrolman Halloran after the car she was driving had hit a car driven by Haskell Stollhoff of Dorchester.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"God the only Cause and Creator" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, throughout the world, on Sunday, June 4.

The Golden Text is: "The Lord reigneth, he is clothed with majesty; the Lord is clothed with strength, wherewith he hath girded himself: the world also is established, that it cannot be moved" (Psalms 93:1).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Thus saith God the Lord, he that created the heavens, and stretched them out; he that spread forth the earth, and that which cometh out of it; he that giveth breath unto the people upon it, and spirit to them that walk therein: . . . I am the Lord: that is my name: and my glory will I not give to another, neither my praise to graven images" (Isaiah 42:5, 8).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "There is but one primal cause. Therefore there can be no effect from any other cause, and there can be no reality in aught which does not proceed from this great and only cause. . . . To grasp the reality and order of being in its Science, you must begin by reckoning God as the divine Principle of all that really is" (pp. 207, 275).

You Expect Your Doctor To Know When, How, and Why You are Sick

The years of preparation by the Doctor are simply and solely to fit him to diagnose your case, make and keep you well.

The Doctor is not a super-human, with super-natural powers. Scientific methods, precedent, personal experience, and the experience of others, necessarily limit the Doctor's powers to human capacity.

However, your Doctor brings all these available sources of information to bear on diagnosis and treatment. Your Doctor wants to make and keep you well. Nine times out of ten, if instructions are followed, prescriptions carried out, if you cooperate with your Doctor—you will be better off physically and mentally. Give your Doctor a chance to check up on you regularly and keep you well.

The Newton Chapter of the American Red Cross has already sent off its quota of 108 Christmas bags which the National Red Cross will send to the service men to be received at Christmas. The calico bags to hold the gifts; and the sewing kits (equipped with black and white buttons, black and white thread, needles, and two sizes of safety pins) were made by the sewing groups in the various churches of the city. Mrs. Tyler L. Holmes, Chairman of the Production Committee, assisted by the following: Mrs. Arthur L. Nelson of Waban, Mrs. Walter B. Warren of West Newton, Mrs. Arthur A. Brickett and Arthur H. Brickett of Auburndale, filled the bags. As the gift wrapping is enjoyed by the men almost as much as the useful presents, each article was tied in holiday paper and decorated with seals. The bags contained the following: box of stationery and pencil; 2 handkerchiefs; pack of cards; tooth brush and tooth paste; diary; knife; Red Cross greeting cards, and postcard addressed back to the Newton Chapter. Interesting messages of appreciation came each year on the cards which the men return. Many state it was the only remembrance received and it is so good not to be forgotten.

OAK HILL P. T. A.

The final meeting of the Parent Teachers Association was held in the Kindergarten Room at Oak Hill School on Tuesday, May 23rd.

An enthusiastic and very large audience listened to Mr. Paul Drake, research and guidance department of the Newton Schools, who explained the system of testing the individual pupil, and the way in which a child's history is kept on file.

Mr. Drake also spoke of the group system and how an inferiority complex may be avoided, by placing a child according to his ability to read.

A short but interesting program was given by Eugene Flowers, Peter Cummings, Rodney Davis and Herbert Bailey, all first year pupils of Mrs. Estaver, teacher of the violin. This was followed by the "Twirling of the Baton" by Patricia Pettiner, who has had but a few lessons.

DANCE RECITAL

A large and enthusiastic audience attended a demonstration Thursday afternoon, May 25th, given by the Kathryn Pope School of the Dance at Waban Neighborhood Club.

From the time the school entered—all dressed in light blue tunics, to greet Miss Pope, to the last number of the afternoon, the audience showed deepest interest. Several of the girls gave short studies of their own composition, class group work and several colorful and well executed solos filled the afternoon. Miss Pope presented two solos. The last number, a group of five of the older girls in pastel colored ballet costumes, executing a Viennese Waltz, was very lovely. Solo numbers particularly enjoyed were those of Virginia Taylor, Barbara and Priscilla Clark, Joan Tickner, Robert Parker, Phyllis and Patricia Burt, Joan Beck and Rosalie Paddison.

Damon Hall Students Hear German Experiences of Baron

Baron Fray von Blomberg, International Secretary of the World Fellowship of Faiths, was the guest speaker at the final Assembly of the students at Damon Hall Junior College, Fairmount ave., Newton, on Friday morning, May 26th.

Dr. Frank Harry Damon, president, introduced the baron to the pupils and faculty and a small reception was held immediately after the talk.

In part the baron told of his experiences in Germany while his cousin, General Werner von Blomberg, was War minister. He told of his observations as a young American, thrown unexpectedly into the very center of German official life.

The story of his adoption which made front page news for several years proved most interesting to the girls at Damon Hall. Baron von Blomberg told how, while acting as volunteer secretary of the World Fellowship of Faiths, he came in contact with the Baroness Adelheid Maria von Blomberg, distant relative of the ex-Kaiser and bearer of the oldest title in the world today, which title he now possesses.

DOG NOTE
by PETER BOGGS

When you take your dog on a fishing trip be careful not to let him eat any raw fish, many of which are infected with a parasite which scientists classify as salmon fluke. This germ is most prevalent in salmon but is found also in other fish, especially trout. While this fluke is not injurious to humans (who don't eat raw fish anyway), it takes a startling toll of canine life. So if you land a trout, don't experiment with your dog to see what he would do with a wiggling fish if you put it on the ground—your experiment may prove fatal to your pet.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

NEWTON TOPS CHOATE
AT MT. HERMON MEET

Locals Have One Point Margin Completing "Grand Slam"

Climaxing another season the Newton High outdoor track champions nosed out Choate School on Memorial Day at Mt. Hermon School in Northfield to annex its 15th straight major meet crown. The orange and black had but a solitary point for its winning margin, with 43 points against 42 for the Connecticut school in its closest competition in many months.
The Newton victory was doubly merited as Coach Enoch's charges virtually stepped out of their class against prep school boys and in addition, were faced with the handicap of having no entries in several specialty events. The victory also marked Newton's second "grand slam" of all major indoor and outdoor meets in as many years.

In the morning trials Don MacKinnon, Tony Hines, and Bob Lining qualified for the finals. Don in the 220 and Bob in the 100. The finals of the 220 were held in the morning with Tony Hines placing fourth. In the afternoon events, Don MacKinnon won the high hurdles in the record breaking time of 15.8 sec—shading the old mark by 2 sec. In the low hurdles he again won, for his usual "double." In the 100 final, Bob Lining came up fast to take third away from Blau of Wilbraham. Pescosolido won the high jump at 6 feet for Newton and placed second in the running broad jump behind Gillis of Ayer.

The local long distance runners left Newton about 2:30 and reached Mt.
Hermon about 2:50. Their first car broke down in Framingham and a second car caught on fire after it had gone about 20 yards. They finally left Framingham shortly before 1 o'clock.
Stew MacNeil of Newton was with this group and did not arrive in time to participate in the pole vault. George Hutchings, for whom the mile run was held up five minutes so he could dress, placed second behind Elmer of Greenfield.

In the 440 Fred Hall ran a close second to Twomey of Mt. Hermon.
Art Hugh was shoved back into fifth by Nichols of Choate, and Gidman of Loomis, but as five places counted in the scoring this tally was vital to Newton's chances. In the half-mile, Bob Woods and Gaylor of Williston had a duel for first, Bob losing by a nose.

In the 1200-yard hurdle final, marvelous time over ten barriers and with a cross-wind. This mark may well be a world's schoolboy figure although Earl Vickery, now of Southern California and L. C. 4A champion, is said to have made similar time when a schoolboy four years ago. However,

Phil Chesarone of Newton placed in the hammer throw but as only a few schools entered this event no points were given.

Newton and Choate had things pretty much their own way as third place
Mt. Hermon scored but 21½ points with other competing schools string-ing along far in the rear. Last year Choate threatened to upset Newton, with the locals having a 3-point margin at the end.

EVERTS WINS SECTIONAL TOURNAMENT, QUALIFIES
FOR INTERSCHOLASTICS

Captain Albert Everts of the Newton high school tennis team added to his court laurels this past week-end by winning the sectional qualifying round for the national interscholastic tennis championships on the Divinity courts at Harvard last Saturday. Everts, second-seeded in the tourney, becomes eligible to compete in the national interscholastics at the Merion Cricket Club in Philadelphia in July with all expenses paid. Everts defeated his former teammate, Don Manchester, in a semi-final match, 6-4, 6-3, and Bill Power, defending champion, in the final round, 7-5, 6-3, 6-2. These two opponents stood in the Newton-ville youth's path last year when victory was denied him. Both Manchester and Power are students at Hebron Academy this year.

In upsetting Power, the Newtonville youth played steady tennis, coming in for a number of brilliant kills at the net and winning the final set-match point on a breath-taking placement to the corner of the court which was beyond his opponent's reach. Power showed considerable fatigue in the third and final set. Everts teamed with his Newton high school partner, Ernie Johnson, in the doubles and this pair waded through the early rounds to meet the Hebron Academy pair in the finals. As both Power and Everts were considerably spent, the match was put over until Sunday morning.

NEWTON TAKES STATE
TRACK CROWN 4TH TIME

Once again led by Captain Don Mac-Kinnon and Billy Pescosolido the Newton High track team won its fourth consecutive state outdoor track crown at the Dickinson Stadium oval last Saturday. The Newton crew piled up 28 points with Boston English second at 17, and ten other schools strung out with less than 15 points each.

Several records were swept away in some of the most thrilling races of the day, with four of these in the Class A competition and five in Class
B. Pescosolido and MacKinnon each figured in two of these new marks.
Pescosolido turned in a leap of 6' 1 1/4" in the high jump for a new height and MacKinnon was clocked in 13.6 in the 1200-yard hurdle final, marvelous time over ten barriers and with a cross-wind. This mark may well
be a world's schoolboy figure although Earl Vickery, now of Southern California and L. C. 4A champion, is said to have made similar time when a schoolboy four years ago. However, an attempt is being made to determine whether or not Vickery's time was made over ten hurdles, as was MacKinnon's, or less.

Both Pescosolido and MacKinnon were members of the Newton relay quartet, which with Fred Hall and Art Hughes was pushed to a new relay mark of 1m. 32.4s by the fast Brockton quartet. Pesky had the first leg and MacKinnon the anchor. MacKinnon was opposed by Howie Caldwell, Brockton star, who gave Mac plenty to worry about although failing to catch the Newton runner by a scant foot at the tape. Pescosolido also took a second in the hurdles to set up the individual scoring mark of the day at 8 1/4" to an even 8 digits for Caldwell.

The eight points in the hurdles, five in the high jump and five in the relay gave Newton more than enough to win its fourteenth consecutive major meet crown. By way of making it safer Fred Hall and Art Hughes placed second and third in the quarter, which was run in heats and places awarded on time; George Hutchings took second in the 880 under similar conditions; and Stewart Mac-Neill took a fourth in the broad jump to swell Newton's total.

KIMBEK HEADS STATE
COM. FOR TEAM SHOOT

Many spectators watched the arrows fly at the weekly handicap shoot held by the Newton Archers at the Newton Centre playground last Saturday as the archers began preparing for the state competition.

The Carroll P. Moulton handicap pitcher will be offered for the second time at the shoot this Saturday afternoon. This trophy is awarded to the senior member having the highest handicap score while the high junior scorer will receive a charm.

Clarence Doten topped the shooters in the men's handicap division last week with Dan Charbonnet capturing second place by six points over Burton Howarth who also placed second in the men's American round.

The women's handicap went to Vera G. Andrews. In a close contest for second place Dorothy Skinner edged out third-place Anita Howarth by five points. On the American round, however, the top position went to Anita Howarth with Vera Andrews placing second and Rose Gronlund taking third place.

With Scott Doten and Joseph Kim-ber shooting in the men's division, the junior competition was restricted to girls. Shooting her first recorded score, Althea Goodwin shot in the four hundreds to take the junior handicap and American rounds. Patricia Skinner placed second in both rounds with Sally Spofford trailing in the third position.

Walter Kimber captured the men's American round with Burton Howarth taking second place. Carl Spofford lost to Howarth in their duel for second honors by two points and placed third. Mr. Kimber will head the state committee for team shoots this year.

TEN-YEAR-OLD TENNIS PLAYER WINS TROPHY

Ten-year-old Bobbie Scanlon of Newtonville attracted considerable attention and praise for his efforts in the annual boys' tennis tourney at Longwood last Saturday. Defeated in his first round match, the Newtonville lad then walked away with the consolation trophy by taking five straight matches.

Over a hundred boys and girls from 10-15 years old competed in the several tournaments sponsored by Mrs.
George Wightman for some years past. One of the youngest lads competing, Bobbie faced boys nearly twice his size and several years older than he with the composure of a much more seasoned player. He is a younger brother of Phil Scanlon, Newton high junior and number three varsity tennis team player, and gives promise of helping Newton retain its high tennis standing in future years.

Mouzet Elected President Of Northgate Tennis Club

L. A. Mouzet was elected president of the Northgate Tennis Club of West Newton at its annual meeting, May 30, succeeding W. M. Taylor, tennis coach at the high school. Harold M. Chader of South Gate Park was re-elected secretary and F. H.
Anderson treasurer. W. K. Houghton, Jr., was elected to the club managing committee for a three-year term.

The holiday doubles tournament was won by Helen Rice and W. M.
Taylor who defeated Anderson and Houghton in the finals 6-4, 6-4. The club, now in its 9th year, comprises thirty families in the neighborhood and has sponsored badminton, bowling, bridge and dancing parties in its winter program.

Herrick Delivers Baccalaureate At Theology School

Four-Day Commencement Program Opened By Sermon To Class Last Sunday

A government cannot give out relief and freedom at the same time declared Rev. Everett C. Herrick, D.D., president of the Andover Newton Theological School, when he delivered the baccalaureate sermon to the graduating class last Sunday afternoon at Newton Centre Baptist Church.

The address on Sunday opened four days of commencement exercises at the school, and president Herrick spoke on "Bond Servants of Freedom."

"Liberty is not the bestowal of governments however conceived. Good governments restrict and protect freedom. Bad governments destroy it. Dictators do not take liberty away from people with the high purpose of returning it enhanced by their own glory."

Religious liberty is the corner stone of American freedom stated Rev. Herrick; and if this freedom is to survive, it will be through the fulfillment of the prayer-hymn of our nation. Freedom, he emphasized, may become an unholy thing when perverted into license and lust by unholy men.

"In times of stress, people may surrender or lose their freedom in the hope of relief; but there comes a tomorrow when this God-given instinct asserts itself and brave souls will surrender their hope of relief for the love of liberty."

In the same manner as people set their watches by the church clock, Rev. Herrick declared that people must set their standards of courage, conduct and faith by the examples of the men who represent Jesus Christ on earth.

Soldier's Relief Recipient Given One Year In Prison

Wonderley Received $1,459.95 For Soldier's Relief Under False Pretenses

Paul Wonderley, 44, of Hayden Row, Hopkinton, was found guilty of larceny in the Newton court on Monday by Judge Nagle for receiving $1,459.95 from the City of Newton as soldier's relief by false pretenses. He was sentenced to serve one year in Billerica prison, and took an appeal. City Solicitor Joseph W. Bartlett, assisted by Mr. Guersney of his office staff prosecuted the case for the city, and Wonderley acted as his own attorney. The complaint was made to the city because Wonderley is the man whose case was referred to by Alderman McCabe at meetings of the Board of Aldermen as evidence of abuses in the conduct of this department. McCabe had stated that an attempt had been made to have Wonderley adjudged insane, and that a keeper placed in Wonderley's home while he was in the hospital, treated one of Wonderley's daughters roughly.

Soldier's Relief Commissioner Dungan produced the application for relief signed by Wonderley and testified regarding the money which was paid to the defendant over a year's period. The latter stated that he had not read all the fine print in the application. He said the Newton Soldier's (Continued on page 2)

Testimonial To Kenelm Winslow Of Stearns School

Mayor Childs, Julius Warren Give Tributes To His Service In School Dept.

On Monday evening, June 5th, Kenelm Winslow, who is retiring as principal of the Stearns School, after thirty-one years of service there was tendered a complimentary dinner by the teachers of the Stearns and Eliot Schools. Former teachers of both of these schools and special guests made up a company of seventy who sat down to a dinner at the Shaker Glen House, Woburn.

During the reception to Mr. and Mrs. Winslow, which preceded the dinner, music was furnished by a small orchestra directed by Charles S. Goddard. Among the group of teachers present were three who had started with Mr. Winslow at the Stearns in 1908. These included Mrs. Abbie Munn Kimball of Harvard, Mass., Mrs. Ruth Piper Sherman of Newton Highlands, and Miss Maud Shippee of Newton. Among the out-of-town guests was Miss Mary Markham of Fitchburg.

Following the dinner, tributes to the long years of splendid service rendered by Mr. Winslow were paid by Mayor Edwin O. Childs, Julius E. Warren, Superintendent of Schools, and Miss Laura Hooper, Director of Elementary Education. At the conclusion of their remarks a purse with a substantial gift of money was presented to Mr. Winslow who responded with an expression of his joy in the years he had served at the Stearns School. A packet of letters from many former teachers who were unable to be present was also presented during the evening.

Born in Brewster, Mr. Winslow is the ninth in line to bear the name of Kenelm, direct descendant of a brother of Governor Winslow.

Newton Police and Firemen To Receive First Aid Diplomas

On Wednesday afternoon, June 14th, at Newton Police Headquarters, at 5:00 p. m., a group of members of the Newton Police Force will receive the award of their certificates for having successfully completed their training course in first aid. The larger part of the Police Force, with members of the Fire Department, at a second ceremony to be held at 7:30 p. m. on the same day, held on the grounds outside of Memorial Hall, will receive their awards. The necessity for the awards to the Police Department being made in two divisions arises from the fact that the entire Police Force of our City has taken the course, and in order not to interfere with the tours of duty (Continued on page 10)

Mayor Appoints Haughey Street Commissioner

Has Served As Acting Head of Street Department Since April 3

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night a communication was received from Mayor Childs which stated that he had appointed John D. Haughey as Street Commissioner. Mr. Haughey has been acting Street Commissioner since April 3. He is a graduate of Princeton University and a civil engineer. In referring to the appointment, Alderman Walker, vice-president of the Board, commented that the Mayor had not submitted a record of the appointee's qualifications, as he had been asked to do by the Aldermen twice in the past year when he had submitted the names of two other appointees for the position of Superintendent of Streets. Walker said that the submission by the Mayor of the qualifications of anyone he appoints to a city office is a sound principle to stand by. On his motion the Board voted to ask the Mayor to adhere to this policy in the future. In accordance with the rules of the Board, the appointment was laid on the table until the next meeting.

Newton Policeman Revolver Champion

Motorcycle Officer John McGrath of the Newton police won first prize this week at the annual revolver and pistol tournament of police marksmen from all over New England. The competition was held at the Walnut Hill range in Woburn, and competing against McGrath were 400 of the best shots from police departments in the various New England states. McGrath was first in the all around revolver championship, and also took first in the rapid fire contest. He won the two-man championship. Patrolman Joe Smith of Newton was one of the 20 competitors who received a medal from Commissioner McSweeney of the Boston police for making excellent marks in the competitions.

Richard Dwyer of the Newton Bullock Company, who for a number of years has coached the Newton police in revolver practice, is endeavoring to have members of the team continue their success at the coming national championship contest.

BECOMES RECREATION DEPARTMENT HEADED BY APPOINTED COMMISSIONER

Latter Will Not Be Under Civil Service; Authority of Present Commission To Be Vested In Sixth Member

The Newton Playground Department, by the action of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night was evolved into a Recreation Department, and the executive authority of this department was taken from the present playground commission of five members and will be vested in a Recreation Commissioner who will also serve as the sixth member of the commission. The action of the Aldermen was taken on recommendation of the Mayor, and the revised ordinance was made with the advice and approval of City Solicitor Bartlett.

SECTION 123. There shall be a recreation commission which shall consist of six MEMBERS to be appointed by the Mayor with the approval of the Board of Aldermen, which commission shall advise the Mayor and Board of Aldermen in relation to matters pertaining to sports and recreation in the City of Newton and the amount of money to be spent annually by the department and which shall exercise the powers of eminent domain conferred by Section 14 of Chapter 45 of the General Laws. The Mayor shall annually appoint such number of members of said commission as shall equal the number of members whose terms expire in the following March, each such person to be appointed for the term of three years beginning with the first Monday of March in the year of appointment and until their respective successors are appointed. The commission shall elect one of its members to act as chairman. Vacancies may, in like manner, be filled for the unexpired term.

SECTION 130. The Mayor shall designate, with the approval of the Board of Aldermen, one member of the recreation commission, who need not be a resident of the city at the time of his appointment, to be a committee of one, who shall be known as the Recreation Commissioner and shall have charge of the maintenance, care and management of playgrounds and shall have and exercise the power conferred by Section 14 of Chapter 45 of the General Laws except that of taking by eminent domain. He shall receive for his services such salary as shall be fixed by the Mayor and Board of Aldermen.

SECTION 131. The Recreation Commissioner shall have charge of the care, maintenance and laying out of the city's schoolyards and school grounds except as provided in Section A-132 and A-133. No layout of a schoolyard or schoolground shall be made by the Recreation Commissioner until the plan and design of the same has received the written approval of the school committee.

The revised ordinance specifies that the School Committee will have schoolyards and school grounds, but during vacation periods may turn over the control of their use to the Recreation Commissioner, if he applies for the same. The Street Department will care for lawns, walks, trees and shrubbery at school grounds, and the Recreation Commissioner will have charge of any land held for schoolyard purposes until such land is assigned to the use of some particular school. Present members of the Playground Commission shall be members of the Recreation Commission until the expiration of their terms, and the Mayor shall forthwith appoint, with the approval of the Aldermen, the sixth member, whose term of office shall expire in the year when the term of only one of the present members expires.

Alderman Rawson, as chairman of the Claims & Rules Committee explained the pertinent changes which had been made in the ordinance. One was that the Recreation Commission shall consist of six members instead (Continued on page 2)

WANTS WASTE RECEPTACLES

To the Editor:

May is supposed to have been "clean-up month." But as one walks along Walnut st. and sees the numberless bits of paper and other waste, it is hard to believe that any cleaning up has been done.

When I am on the way to my house it is easy to gather papers to be put in my trash barrel. But as I go toward the square I find no receptacle for such material.

If the city can not install waste containers, would it not be possible to have them placed in the buildings of the high schools in the hope that civic-minded students would help in keeping tidy the street for which they are especially responsible?

In Switzerland one sees in all public places the sign, "Commended to the protection of the public."

Girl Scouts

New Director for Camp Mary Day

Miss Kathleen M. Twombly of Saint Johnsbury, Vermont, and Field Captain of the Newton Local Council Girl Scouts since her graduation from Smith College in 1936, has been appointed Local Director upon the resignation of Dr. Hazel Richards. Her popularity among Scouts and Scout officials throughout the villages assures her of enthusiastic backing as head of the Newton offices on Walnut st., and also as director of Camp Mary Day in Natick. She will be assisted this summer by Miss Roberta Annon, and other members of the staff will be: Roberta Haas and Margaret Robinson, Unit Leaders; Arlene Webster, June Kreuger and Mary Elizabeth Sheehan, assistant Unit Leaders; Leona Angell, Waterfront Director; Priscilla Ham, Arts and Crafts; Florence Capobianco, Nature Guide; Eleanor Hanners, Nurse; Eleanor Greene, Secretary; Barbara Fuller and Rita Gallivan, Dietitians, and Jane Merrill and Dorothy Hanks, Dining Room Supervisors.

At Mary Day, which opens on June 29 for a season of eight weeks, the girls have the advantage of democratic living in a small group, and of planning their own program with a congenial staff. There will be outdoor cooking, creative crafts, music and dancing, campcraft, swimming and boating, dramatics, and opportunities to use and add to the nature museum, a very special center of camp interest. Applications may still be made at the Newtonville Headquarters, and Girl Scouts from any locality are welcome.

Speeding Costs Waban Youth $35

Because he drove his car too fast along Beacon st., Theodore Madden, 17, of 320 Quinobegun rd., Waban, was fined $35 by Judge Mayberry in the Newton court last Friday; $10 for speeding and $25 for refusing to stop when ordered to do so by a policeman. Patrolman John Green testified that when he observed young Madden speeding along Beacon st. and signalled him to stop the youth uttered a remark which Green's modesty deterred him from repeating in the courtroom. So, Judge Mayberry permitted Green to write the alleged scurrilous epithet on a piece of paper.

In court the same day Abraham Blackler of Dorchester was fined $3 for driving a car to the left of the center of a street, and Walter Silverman of Brookline was fined $5 for speeding and another $5 for driving without proper lights. Arnold Dixsee of Northgate Park, West Newton, was also charged with speeding, but his case was filed.

Mrs. Margaret Shillady of 31 Nehenden rd., Waban, charged with speeding, pleaded "nolo," and as Judge Mayberry placed her case on file she fainted.

Aldermen Pass Ordinance Changing Set-up of Playground Department of six citizens, as was first proposed. This change, he said, permits the appointment of a Recreation Commissioner who need not be a resident of Newton. He stated that the Recreation Commissioner will be a full member of the commission and will have a vote in all matters coming before the commission. Alderman McKay said it has been generally known that there has been a difference of opinion among the five members of the present Playground Commission regarding the new ordinance, and some of the five members did not desire to surrender their present powers. He called attention to the fact that the Recreation Commissioner's first term will expire in less than a year, and then it will come up every 3 years, thus keeping the control of the office by the city government.

Alderman Temperley said it does not seem logical to allow the Recreation Commissioner to have a vote in the commission, and by having six members, there will be the probability of the votes. He suggested that the commission be composed of 5 or 7 members. Alderman Walker said that the objection to a commission of 5 members is—that the Commissioner could cast the deciding vote, and that a commission of 7 members would be unwieldy. Alderman Hoffman asked if the present Superintendent of Playgrounds will be automatically retired, or can he be reappointed as Recreation Commissioner? Alderman Rawson said that the present superintendent (Ernst Hermann) will automatically retire from his present position, but that the Mayor can appoint any one as Recreation Commissioner, subject to confirmation by the Aldermen. Alderman Colby commented that the City Solicitor had advised that the ordinance as devised, is the only way the Civil Service requirement can be avoided. Alderman Tiffin asked if it is not possible to have the director appointed by the members of the Playground Commission instead of by the Mayor, and to avoid civil service. City Solicitor Bartlett answered that in accordance with the city charter, the Mayor must appoint all department heads. Tiffin said that he agreed with Alderman Temperley as to the impracticability of a commission composed of an even number of members, and he did not think seven members would be desirable. He said this matter should receive more study.

City Solicitor Bartlett said he had drawn up the ordinance only after he had conferred with the Civil Service Commissioner several times, and he confided that the Civil Service Commissioner had stated that he does not think the city can get around the civil service by this way. Bartlett, however, differed from the Civil Service Commissioner. Alderman McKay said that we don't have to close votes in the School Committee, Board of Health or Library trustees. McKay also commented that the matter should not be discussed publicly. Alderman Inghes said that if the right type of man is selected as Recreation Commissioner he will never vote at meetings of the commission. Alderman Hoffman said that if the Civil Service Commission is of the opinion that the ordinance will not cause the evasion of civil service, what are we accomplishing by passing it? Alderman Rawson said he always had faith in the advice of the City Solicitor, and believes the ordinance will keep the office out of civil service. A vote was then taken on the acceptance of the revised ordinance. Those who voted for it were Aldermen Ashenden, Bacon, Barwise, Colby, Everts, Fahey, Gaddis, Inghes, Jamieson, Lockwood, McCabe, McKay, Rawson, Schipper, Walker and Floyd. Aldermen Hoffman, Temperley and Tiffin voted "No." Hughes and Hutchinson were absent.

Thousands of Christian Scientists, meeting in Boston this week, challenged a troubled world to change its perspective from a material to a spiritual basis in its search for release from pressing economic and political problems. The occasion for the great influx of the followers of Mary Baker Eddy was the annual meeting of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts, which was filled to capacity Monday afternoon. Through an entire afternoon's round of addresses and reports from the field, the power of the Christ, Truth, to lift individuals above the ills of human sense was acknowledged and this same spiritual power was recommended for the healing of the nations and the establishment of a permanent world peace.

Looking beneath the surface ripples of troubled international relationships apparent in the world today, The Christian Science Board of Directors saw the deep-running currents of spiritual progress. "Keeping alive the vital realization of spiritual truth which Christian Scientists must always nurture, whether their work be along the specific line of healing or in the important channels connected with home, church, business, and government."

Various reports heard during the afternoon cited specific instances of spiritual enlightenment actively at work among the nations today. One revealed that Europe, seething center of turbulent political upheavals, is also a fertile field for spiritual growth. Indicated in the formation of 21 new branch church organizations abroad, 12 of them being in England.

Similar progress was reported in North America where 25 new branch organizations were launched. Africa saw the deep-running currents of spiritual progress. "Keeping alive the vital realization of spiritual truth which Christian Scientists must always nurture, whether their work be along the specific line of healing or in the important channels connected with home, church, business, and government."

Announcement of new officers constituted the main business of the meeting. George Shaw Chivley, C. E. of Brookline, Mass., was named President for the ensuing year to succeed Ralph H. Knapp of Needham. Edward L. Ripley of Brookline and Ezra W. Palmer of Marshfield were re-elected Treasurer and Clerk, respectively. The President is elected by The Christian Science Board of Directors for a one-year term, his chief duty being to serve as presiding officer at the Annual Meeting.

Mr. Cook is a native of Iowa, moving to Chicago at an early age where he received his public school education. Entering the commercial world he became a partner in a firm dealing in investment securities. He became interested in Christian Science in 1895, was class taught by Edward A. Kimball, C.S.D., served as First Reader of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, Chicago, and served successively thereafter as Committee on Publication for Illinois, member of the Board of Lectureship, First Reader of The Mother Church and Associate Editor of The Christian Science Journal, Sentinel, and Herald, which position he now holds.

As incoming President, Mr. Cook directed attention to the place that Mary Baker Eddy holds in the movement as Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science.

In handing over the meeting to the new President, Mr. Knapp traced the growth of spiritual healing from the Resurrection down to the revelation of Christian Science.

More Incendiary Fires In Newton

In addition to several incendiary fires which have occurred in Newton the past few weeks, two more were set on Tuesday. At 10:03 a. m. an alarm was received for a fire in the two-family house at 372-374 Water-town st., Nonantum. The blaze started outside the rear wall of the tenement occupied by Gaetano Del Gizi and caused damage estimated at $400.

At 2:35 p. m. Tuesday Box 432 was pulled for a fire in a barn at 62 Ash st., Auburndale, on the Henry Fowle estate. The building contained antiquities owned by Lee Porter. The fire was started on the outside of the building and worked into the interior. Chief Randlett expressed the opinion that it was of incendiary origin. The Chief received a cut on his right hand when he was opening a window. The damage to the building and contents was estimated at $900.

Annual Meeting of The First Church of Christ, Scientist

Thousands of Christian Scientists, meeting in Boston this week, challenged a troubled world to change its perspective from a material to a spiritual basis in its search for release from pressing economic and political problems.

The occasion for the great influx of the followers of Mary Baker Eddy was the annual meeting of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts, which was filled to capacity Monday afternoon. Through an entire afternoon's round of addresses and reports from the field, the power of the Christ, Truth, to lift individuals above the ills of human sense was acknowledged and this same spiritual power was recommended for the healing of the nations and the establishment of a permanent world peace.

Looking beneath the surface ripples of troubled international relationships apparent in the world today, The Christian Science Board of Directors saw the deep-running currents of spiritual progress. "Keeping alive the vital realization of spiritual truth which Christian Scientists must always nurture, whether their work be along the specific line of healing or in the important channels connected with home, church, business, and government."

Various reports heard during the afternoon cited specific instances of spiritual enlightenment actively at work among the nations today. One revealed that Europe, seething center of turbulent political upheavals, is also a fertile field for spiritual growth. Indicated in the formation of 21 new branch church organizations abroad, 12 of them being in England.

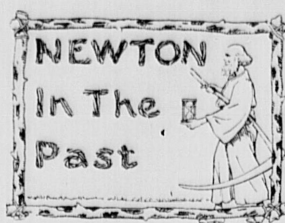

Similar progress was reported in North America where 25 new branch organizations were launched. Africa saw the deep-running currents of spiritual progress. "Keeping alive the vital realization of spiritual truth which Christian Scientists must always nurture, whether their work be along the specific line of healing or in the important channels connected with home, church, business, and government."

Announcement of new officers constituted the main business of the meeting. George Shaw Chivley, C. E. of Brookline, Mass., was named President for the ensuing year to succeed Ralph H. Knapp of Needham. Edward L. Ripley of Brookline and Ezra W. Palmer of Marshfield were re-elected Treasurer and Clerk, respectively. The President is elected by The Christian Science Board of Directors for a one-year term, his chief duty being to serve as presiding officer at the Annual Meeting.

Mr. Cook is a native of Iowa, moving to Chicago at an early age where he received his public school education. Entering the commercial world he became a partner in a firm dealing in investment securities. He became interested in Christian Science in 1895, was class taught by Edward A. Kimball, C.S.D., served as First Reader of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, Chicago, and served successively thereafter as Committee on Publication for Illinois, member of the Board of Lectureship, First Reader of The Mother Church and Associate Editor of The Christian Science Journal, Sentinel, and Herald, which position he now holds.

As incoming President, Mr. Cook directed attention to the place that Mary Baker Eddy holds in the movement as Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science.

In handing over the meeting to the new President, Mr. Knapp traced the growth of spiritual healing from the Resurrection down to the revelation of Christian Science.

The new telephone poles which have been distributed along Centre st. cannot be considered an ornament to the city. They are a crooked lot.

J. E. Kimball, superintendent of Newton schools, has sent in his resignation. He claims he has not been fairly treated by the School Committee.

Mrs. John Warner of Newton, while getting out of a horse-car at Cambridge on Monday afternoon, fell and broke her left arm above the wrist.

On Monday last Edward P. Burnham of Newton rode from Newton to Lynn and return on his Victor tricycle in the remarkable time of 3 hours, and 1-2 minutes; about 36 miles. He also recently won the Corey Hill climbing contest, going 20 feet higher than any other competitor. He rode a Royal Mail bicycle.

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night the contract with the Newton & Water-town Gas-light Company was amended to provide to the company a guarantee of 10 per cent on the cost of extension to Newton Upper Falls.

If it is the Boston & Albany's business to make a decent walk to the Newton depot, why is this not done? It is time for someone to act. Wading through mud after every rainstorm is not agreeable.

Mrs. Charles Robinson and daughter of West Newton were thrown out of their carriage on Thursday forenoon and severely injured. The horse started from Mr. Robinson's yard and after the occupants were thrown out, the horse ran down Highland st. to Margin st. where the carriage struck a hack owned by William H. Mague. The runaway then went along Margin st. to Chestnut st. and hit a carriage belonging to Mr. Perkins of Weston. The horse was stopped near Robinson's Block on Washington st.

The salaries of members of the Legislature is likely to be fixed at $850, and if it does not take too long to find out who offered Senator Whittier $1000 not to vote on the water-gas bill, the session may end next week.

The sale of pews drew a large number to the new Eliot Church building on Tuesday evening and great interest was manifested in the securing of seats. Mr. Henry E. Cobb made a very efficient auctioneer and made the sale pass off rapidly and at very satisfactory premiums. He opened the sale with a short address and reminded the people that they were buying not only for themselves, but for their children, and that they should choose a satisfactory church home. The bidding started in a spirited manner, the first pew being sold to N. P. Coburn at a premium of $675. The second and third pews were bid in at the same premium to J. C. Potter and Charles E. Billings. H. E. Cobb bid off two pews at $500 each. The first pews chosen were taken in the south-center aisle, which seemed to be a favorite place. The total amount of premiums on pews sold amounted to $14,000, and the remaining pews will be rented.

The high school pupils were dismissed last Monday because of the cold weather and the absence of artificial heat in the building.

The city provided a collation for the high school battalion on Memorial Day in City Hall at the fatiguing march. Post 62, G. A. R., turned out 150 men and the high school battalion 165.

EDWARD H.

Powers' Paragraphs

The action of the Board of Aldermen last Monday night in changing the city ordinances regulating the Newton Playground Department has its amusing features. Although Mayor Childs recommended this change, the man responsible for it certainly does not favor it, unless he has quite recently changed his viewpoint on this matter. We refer to Lyscom Bruce Jr., for several years a member of the Newton Playground Commission, but who was not reappointed by Mayor Childs when his term expired on March of this year. Until Mr. Bruce became a member of the Commission that body functioned only in a perfunctory manner and met infrequently. Bruce, however, insisted that the commission meet regularly and exercise its prerogatives as the executive authority of the Newton Playground Department. A couple of former members of the commission, not desiring to meet so often or to assume added responsibilities, declined to accept reappointments. One of the new members appointed by Mayor Childs, aligned himself with Bruce on policies affecting the playground department, and so did one of the older members of the commission. The friction between the five members of the commission the past few years not only involved the program of the department, but also the personnel. Mr. Bruce and his supporters favored more facilities for recreation for young people and the establishment of community centers throughout the city. Last year he and Mrs. Theresa Marshall were appointed as a sub-committee on program and personnel, and in January of this year they had a report prepared to present at the January meeting of the Playground Commission.

Unfortunately, or, fortunately, according to varying viewpoints, this report was made public a day or two before the date scheduled for the January meeting and it was revealed that it contained the assertion that Ernst Hermann, long-time superintendent of Newton's playgrounds, was not the head of the department, and therefore would have to retire in March of this year because of reaching the age of 70. The report also recommended that a full-time director of recreation be appointed, Mr. Hermann having been a part-time executive. When the report became public, Ralph Henry, chairman of the Playground Commission postponed the scheduled meeting and postponed the meeting for many weeks; until Bruce's term had expired and Mayor Childs appointed someone else to succeed him. In the meantime the Mayor recommended that the ordinances be changed so that the executive authority of Playground Department would be vested in a director instead of the commission. By doing this, the director would not have to be selected from a civil service list and could continue to serve after having reached the age of 70. It was supposed that the Mayor's action in this matter was partly to retain the services of Mr. Hermann, and partly so that the choice of the Playground Head might be made by the Mayor without civil service restrictions.

As the situation has developed, a real fight looms on the choice of a Recreation Commissioner. At least two of the members of the Playground Commission, and some of the Aldermen, will insist on a full time head for the Recreation Department. They contend this is necessary for efficient and economical management. On the other hand, friends of Mr. Hermann, both in the Playground Commission and the Aldermen, as well as citizens, will make a fight for his retention because of his long service, and the high reputation which Newton's playground system has achieved.

When the Aldermen last Monday night were discussing the changes in the ordinances affecting the Playground Department and its future director, Alderman McKay remarked that this discussion should not be held in public. Mr. McKay is not the only member of the Aldermen who in recent years has taken this attitude. In fact, a sufficient number of Aldermen have subscribed to this viewpoint to have caused discussions on most important topics by Boards of Aldermen in late years to be conducted behind closed doors in a committee room. This is not the writer's idea of representative government, or of a democracy. The people of Newton elect the Aldermen and pay the taxes. They have a right to know what is going on—and why. Alderman Rawson, during the discussions recently over the granting of a permit for the establishment of "Welcome House" at the Clark estate, referred to the "invisible government" in Newton. We certainly have had an "invisible government" to too great a degree, because of the practice of the Aldermen in conducting their meetings largely in secret sessions.

The small children, who pass daily by the land at the corner of Washington st. and Walnut Park, Newton, which was donated by the late Miss Spear to the City of Newton as a small park, deserve credit for refraining from trespassing on this place the past several weeks since employees of the city planted grass seed there after having graded and rolled it. Before the grass seed was planted, small boys on their way to and from school romped freely in this lot of land, but because of their good co-operation since the seed was planted, a good crop of young grass is growing there.

The action of Mayor Childs in sending to the Board of Aldermen on Monday evening recommendations for salary increases for two department heads establishes a precedent in the conduct of our city government. Heretofore, salary recommendations have been made in the annual budget early each year. When the first budget recommendations were received from Mayor Childs this year, they showed that the Health Department recommended an increase in the salary of Dr. Harold Choche, Health Officer, from $4000 to $5000, and the Mayor approved it. Later a communication was received from the Mayor by the Aldermen which stated that the item in the budget which stated that he recommended the $1000 salary increase for Dr. Choche was an error. In this year's budget, the Library Department recommended a salary increase of $500 for Julius Lucht, librarian, and the Mayor approved it. In contrast with other city departments, the Library Department is headed by a board of trustees, and the Health Department by a Board of Health. Members of these two bodies have consistently in recent years asked for salary increases for Librarian Lucht and Dr. Choche. During these same years heads of the other city departments, who have to make their own recommendations, have refrained from asking for salary increases.

Because of the increasing tax rate and the financial difficulties which beset the majority of taxpayers, the Newton Board of Aldermen this year announced an economy program and refused to increase salaries of any city employees receiving more than $1000, excepting the school teachers, policemen and firemen who receive step-rate increases. The Aldermen refused to grant the $500 increase recommended for Librarian Lucht. It was understood, however, that the Finance Committee had favored the increase for Dr. Choche, but the letter from Mayor Childs stating that his recommendation for such an increase was a budget printing error, settled at that time the matter of an increase for the Health Officer.

The principal argument which has been offered for increasing the salary of the Librarian (who received an increase from $4000 to $4100 last year) is—that his predecessor received $4500, and it was understood when Mr. Lucht came to Newton that he would eventually receive that salary. Dr. Choche's predecessor, Dr. Francis Curtis, received an annual salary of $2500. Dr. Curtis, however, received the Newton Health Department very efficiently and unostentatiously. A man of comparative wealth, he served at a salary lower than he could have and should have received, had he asked for an increase. In addition to the salary of $4000 which Dr. Choche receives from the City of Newton, he also has been receiving $1000 annually through an arrangement with the Harvard School of Public Health, but it is understood that this arrangement terminates this year. Dr. Choche has amplified the activities of the Health Department and advocates an ambitious program for this public activity, including a $200,000 health center near city hall, an increase in the number of public nurses, so that there will be one for each 2000 of the city's population instead of each 10,000, and other increases in the staff of his department. Members of the Board of Health have urged the Aldermen to increase his salary because he has been offered other positions at higher salaries.

the Finance Committee. The original order also called for the month of September, but that was stricken out by the committee. Alderman Murphy urged the majority of the Board to pass the order. Alderman Pratt reminded the Board that the city expenses are quite high and the tax rate will probably be increased. The order was passed, with Alderman Pratt the only one in opposition.

high rank of the alumni which represent the school in colleges and other activities.

Several selections were sung by Miss Dorothy Fairbanks Baesler, teacher at the school, who was accompanied by Miss Elizabeth Siedoff of Boston. Following the exercises, a reception was held by Miss Allen.

The Newton Men's Educational Association met at Groton Inn on Thursday, June 1st, for its annual spring outing. Lt. Gov. Horace T. Cahill and Everett J. McIntosh, president of the Massachusetts Teachers' Federation were guest speakers. A feature of the meeting was the presentation of a pipe to Kenelm Winslow, principal of the Stearns School, who retires this month after 37 years of teaching in Newton. The presentation was made by William C. Leighton, principal of the Burr School, who outlined Mr. Winslow's career and school changes during his time. Lt. Gov. Cahill talked on his experiences in the recent campaign and warned his listeners about a "change in form of our government" unless Americans concern themselves about democracy and defend its institutions. Clarence E. Churchill of the Hyde School is president of the group this year.

A direct hit receives a prize. Food will be on sale, including hamburgers, hot dogs, and coffee. Ice cream and strawberries, candy and soda pop will be available in addition to grab bags, ponies and athletic events. In the evening there will be a band concert at eight o'clock by the American Legion Band Post 48. COOLIDGE CORNER THEATRE BROOKLINE

Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's great detective thriller, "The Hound of the Baskervilles," comes to the Coolidge Corner Theatre, Brookline, for a week's run on Friday June 9th. Richard Greene, Basil Rathbone and Wendy Barrie share top billing in the famous Sherlock Holmes story. Rathbone proves the perfect choice for the celluloid reincarnation of the greatest of all fictional detectives; Richard Greene does a great piece of acting as young Sir Henry Baskerville; and lovely Miss Barrie is superb as Sir Henry's sweetheart, Beryl. Sherlock Holmes and his aide, Dr. Watson (Nigel Bruce) are called in to work on mysterious and ghostly murders and, after a series of amazing developments, Holmes solves the mystery of the moor, just in time to save Sir Henry from meeting the same horrible death as his uncle. The cast includes Lionel Atwill, John Carradine, Barlowe Borland, Beryl Mercer and Ralph Forbes. The co-feature on this program is a timely drama of youth. Its eager hopes, dreams and ambitions, all revealed in "Spirit of Culver," Jackie Cooper and Freddie Bartholomew share starring honors in the picture which turns the spotlight on boys of the modern generation and the way they are trained for the future. "Spirit of Culver" concerns itself with what happens to Cooper, a homeless, disillusioned boy in a breadline, when he is handed a scholarship and given a chance to prove himself at Culver. Others in the cast of "Spirit of Culver" in addition to Freddie Bartholomew and Jackie Cooper are Henry Hull, Andy Devine, Tim Holt, Gene Reynolds and Jackie Moran. A show composed of two dynamic features will be announced in this paper, for the week commencing Friday, June 16th.

Angier School Garden Project

One of the pictures in this week's GRAPHIC shows a group of children from the Angier School, Waban planting seeds in the garden at the home of Mrs. Charles Clark on Dorset rd. This activity is part of the garden project by pupils at the Angier School. Seeds are provided by the New England Toro Company and seedlings are donated by the Boston Gardening Company. During the past week the children have been transplanting these seedlings and in two weeks more the children will transplant other seedlings from their own garden at the school. The children are enthusiastic about this work, and during their rest periods at Mrs. Clark's garden enjoy watching the goldfish in the pool there. Incidentally these fish spend the winter months in an aquarium at the Angier School. The project is under the supervision of Mrs. Clifford Parcher of Fuller st., and has the whole-hearted co-operation of Principal Ray of the school. Each child who is going to be at its Waban home this summer, is given additional seedlings to plant in his or her own garden.

Who Wants to be Lazy with THIS one Around?

The model illustrated is the Buick SPECIAL model 41 four-door touring sedan $996 delivered at Flint, Mich.*

SUMMER'S COMING! Warm sun — deep shade — buzzing bees — long, lazy days inviting you to take it easy!

Gonna fall for that? Well, maybe — if that car in your driveway is just a run-of-mine job. But suppose it's a Buick — then what?

Then, good sir, you're in for an active summer. A summer of going places, seeing sights — and having some honest-to-goodness fun!

You'll boss around a brilliant Dynaflex straight-eight engine as thrilling to handle as a flyrod.

You'll go exploring over the little-traveled back trails — and soft springs of coiled steel will cradle every jolt and jar. You'll look out to the far horizons through windows wider, and bigger — there's as much as 412 square inches more space to make your outlook easier.

Yes, you'll pilot a carriage that's staunch and snug and firm beneath you — yet every nudge of your treadle foot gives instant-quick action that'll bring a grin of deep delight.

This far-ranging beauty is not only the car of the year for performance, but the value of the year. It's priced lower than a year ago — lower than you'd think to see it — lower even than some sixes!

And when you check all of the standard items that you're asked extra for elsewhere, you find that Buick costs less in the end even than some cars with lower advertised prices!

Arrest 3 Youths After Long Chase

Three youths, one from West Newton and two from Waltham, were arrested by Newton police early Tuesday morning after Patrolmen O'Neil and Scott had pursued them from Cherry st., West Newton along High and Moody sts., Waltham to Pelton st. in that city. The three, Francis McDonald, 19, of Arlington rd., West Newton; Francis Brooks, 19, of 280 College Farm rd., and Robert Henderson, 23, of Princeton ave., both of Waltham, were arraigned in the Newton court on Tuesday charged with possessing stolen property. McDonald was also charged with driving to endanger and refusing to stop when ordered to do so by a policeman. His case was continued until Friday. The other two were turned over to the Waltham police.

Patrolman Purcell was on duty at Newtonville square about 6 a. m. Tuesday when he saw a car being driven slowly along Washington st. As he approached it, the driver of the car speeded it away and Purcell phoned a description of the car to police headquarters. Shortly after Patrolmen Scott and O'Neil saw the car on Cherry st. and started to pursue it. The alleged driver, McDonald, according to the police drove the pursued car at a rate of 70 miles an hour. Before the chase ended the Newton police fired two shots at the fleeing car. In the car was a quantity of cigarettes, cigars and candy, allegedly stolen from the store of Francis Trefethen at Lakeview in Waltham.

Lt. Gov. Cahill's Chauffeur Sued

In the Newton court on Tuesday the trial of three civil suits against Sergeant Lawrence Crozier of the State Police was started with Associate Judge Frederic Crafts of the Waltham court presiding. Cosmo Cicciariello of 23A Lincoln st., Newton Highlands, and David Capobianco of Reservoir st., Needham, each brought suit for $5000 against Crozier, and Peter Chesley of 680 Boylston st., Newton Centre, sued for $2000. Crozier is detailed as body-guard and chauffeur for Cahill in the State-owned car which the latter uses. On February 21 the State-owned car operated by Crozier hit Cicciariello's car which had run out of gasoline on the Worcester turnpike and was stopped on the pike in Westley. Cicciariello testified that he and his companions had been pushing the car, but it started to rain and they entered the automobile and sat down. A few minutes later the car driven by Crozier came along, hit the stalled automobile, and according to Cicciariello, pushed it 120 yards. He said that the Lieutenant Governor claimed that Crozier was only driving 10 miles an hour. Judge Crafts went out and viewed the damaged automobile. The case was continued until Monday.

Suspend License Of Newton Youth

On Wednesday Registrar Goodwin announced that he has established a new rule whereby any automobile operator under 18 who operates recklessly shall have his or her license suspended until he or she reaches the age of 18. He announced that the first driver to be affected by this new rule is John J. McNamara of 357 Washington st., Newton whose license was suspended because the car he was operating at a high rate of speed went off the road and hit a tree.

Rotary Club

Paul W. Kieser, secretary of the Boston Rotary Club and a resident of West Newton, was the interesting speaker at the Newton Rotary Club's Monday luncheon at the Braeburn Country Club. Mr. Kieser's connection with Rotary began when the Rotary movement was only about ten years old. His topic was "Whence and Whither Rotary?" He told in a very graphic way of the founding of the first little club in Chicago by Paul Harris and of the interestingly individual characteristics of the first five members. Then he related how out of rather narrow selfish ideas the spirit of service grew, first after Chicago by a few clubs on the West Coast, then to the Middle West again and East soon coming to Boston. In fact, Boston enters the picture early with a number of men who were influential in Rotary's early development. Soon there were clubs in Canada and in the British Isles, and so the movement grew until it encircled the globe and became of international importance.

Mr. Kieser amused the club by telling how the establishment of a comfort station in one of the busiest sections of downtown Chicago first really put Rotary on the map in that city. Here was a club, said the people, which is ready to be of service and do things for the public health and safety.

In St. Joseph, Mo., two dogs were trapped between the side walls of two buildings while chasing each other near the opening. They could not move forward because the space narrowed, and much coaxing failed to make them back out. For two days the animals who appeared to be strays, remained in this plight. Finally the owners of the buildings decided that, rather than expose the animals to danger in removing them, they would risk their buildings. At considerable expense, two rock foundations were broken through and the dogs rescued. One of the men was rewarded by permission to keep one of the dogs. He refers to his new pet as his three hundred dollar dog, as that was his share of expense in effecting the rescue. But he always says cheerfully that the dog is worth much more than that.

of a disproportionate number of the men, the above program has been arranged.

Through the cooperation of the Newton Safety Council and of the Newton Chapter of the Red Cross, a series of classes, under the direction of Irving Appleby, Director of First Aid and Life Saving Training for the Metropolitan District Commission, has been conducted this spring at Newton Police Headquarters. A total of 122 took the course, including 111 members of the Police Force, 7 members of the Fire Department (1 from each station), 2 police candidates and 2 college students. All of those who enrolled passed the course. The highest mark was attained by Officer Philip Purcell of the Police Department, and for those of the Fire Department Ladderman J. G. Kovas attained the highest rank. Chief of Police Hughes and his Senior Captain Veducchio took the course along with their command, passing with high rank. All members of the Police and Fire Departments who took the course necessarily did it on their own time and at a real sacrifice, and for that reason are the more to be complimented.

Mayor Childs and members of the City Government have been asked to attend the ceremonies at 7:30 p. m., and to these exercises all members of the public are cordially invited. Immediately following the exercises at the Memorial Hall, there will be the annual meeting of the Newton Safety Council, at which the officers for the ensuing year will be elected, and two most interesting moving pictures will be shown. In behalf of the Newton Safety Council and the Newton Chapter of the Red Cross everyone is cordially invited to attend this meeting, whether a member of the Safety Council or not.

It is intended that one resident of the street who operates a fleet of heavy trucks carrying loam over the street should be equally subject to the ordinance restricting heavy trucks on Brookline and Dedham sts. The guest speaker of the evening was Dr. Harold Chope, Health Officer of the Newton Health Department. His topic was "If We Only Could."

Head of Procession At High School Graduation

Ernst Hermann, Retires After 27 Years of Service

Veteran Playground Expert Succeeded Temporarily by F. Ewing Wilson

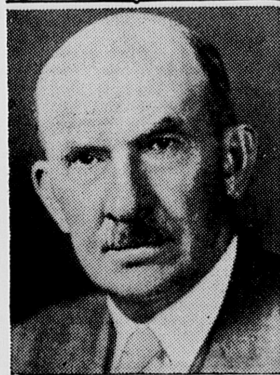

On Saturday, June 10, Ernst Hermann, superintendent of Newton's playgrounds since 1912, retired because of having reached the age of 70. On Monday night the Playground Commission met and appointed F. Ewing Wilson as acting superintendent of playgrounds. Mr. Wilson, who is head of the physical education department at Newton High School, will serve in this capacity until someone is appointed by the Mayor (and confirmed by the Board of Aldermen) to the newly created position of Recreation Commissioner.

Ernst Hermann has had a long and eventful career in his chosen profession, of which he was one of the pioneers. He was born on March 13, 1869, at Brunswick, Germany, and studied at the Gymnasium Martino Catherineum and the Technische Hochschule in that city. In 1895 he was appointed Director of Physical Education at the Foxboro State Hospital continuing in that position until 1902 when he became welfare director at the Plant Shoe Factory in Jamaica Plain. In 1907 Mr. Hermann was appointed director of physical education at Quincy and he also became an assistant director of hygiene and physical education in the Boston schools. In 1910 he became Superintendent of Playgrounds at Cambridge. In 1911 when Newton decided to establish a playground department, the reputation Mr. Hermann had won in this comparatively new field of public activities, caused his advice to be sought by the special committee which had been appointed to consider the establishment of a playground department in Newton. He recommended that a commission of five members be appointed, and a superintendent. At that time playground workers were not under civil service. When they were put under civil service 12 years later, it was understood that superintendents, or heads of departments were exempted from civil service requirements.

In 1912 and 1913 the playgrounds of Newton were cared for by employees of the park department, but then their maintenance was turned over to the playground department. A few years later, bathing facilities, which had been under the care of the Health Department; and skating, which had been under the control of the Street Department, were both turned over to the Playground Department. Later, at the request of the School Department, the care of school grounds and athletic fields was also turned over to the playground department. In 1913 the Playground Department had about 60 acres of grounds to care for. In 1939 the department cared for and supervised about 400 acres of playground areas, including bathing and skating areas.

Because of the short-sightedness of former governments, a number of districts in Newton were built up so that the acquisition of full size playgrounds was impossible. But, at Newton Corner by the generosity of the Burr family an excellent playground for Ward 7 and also for the Bigelow School was made available. A national committee of playground executives, of which Mr. Hermann was chairman, established standards of 6 acres for elementary schools, 10 acres of junior high schools and 20 acres for senior high schools and some Newton schools have playgrounds meeting these standards. Seventeen schools in the city have playgrounds which were sponsored by the Playground Department, and by the far-sightedness of former Playground Commissions in acquiring land, sites for a number of schools were made available at considerable savings of money to the city. When the first Playground Commission was established, Newton had but two public tennis courts, of poor construction. Now the playgrounds have 20 tennis courts of first class construction. It has increased the number of first-class baseball diamonds from none to fourteen. Newton's playgrounds all have landscaped settings and they also have many game courts not found in other playground systems, and which provide recreational facilities for adults as well as children.

Since the Playground Department took over the control of swimming at Crystal Lake a bathroom was built and nuisances which existed at this

New Telephone Rates Suspended

The new telephone rates, applicable to West Newton exchange, which were to have gone into effect on June 16, have been suspended for 30 days by the Department of Public Utilities. On June 1st a public hearing was held on these rates and the only persons to appear were representatives of the Telephone Company. There was no opposition. Because of the voluminous report presented by the Telephone Division of the Department of Public Utilities, the commissioners decided that more time is necessary to properly study the report.

McKay Not Against Public Discussion

In last week's GRAPHIC the article concerning the discussion at the last meeting of the Board of Aldermen on the question of changing the ordinances affecting the Newton Playground Department, stated that Alderman Donald McKay had remarked that this matter should not be discussed publicly. Mr. McKay informed the GRAPHIC that the statement did not quote him accurately. He said he was not opposed to the discussion of the changing of the ordinances, but that he referred to the discussion in open meeting as to whom would be appointed Recreation Commissioner, as the rules of the Board of Aldermen forbid the discussion in open meeting of the appointment of any department head.

Mr. McKay in his remarks at that meeting said in part—"It had been my intention to offer a resolution to the effect that we (the aldermen) would be guided by the wishes of the Playground Commission, (regarding the appointment of a Recreation Commissioner) and that he had submitted the resolution to the chairman of the Playground Commission, Mr. Ralph Henry. Mr. Henry had replied that in such an appointment, the Aldermen need have no fear but that the appointment would be satisfactory to the Playground Commission. Mr. McKay, therefore, decided not to present the resolution. Mr. McKay continued by saying that the changed ordinance gives control of the appointment to the city government, and that the Playground Commission will be consulted before the appointment comes in. He then said—"I do not think the appointment should be discussed publicly, in fairness to the appointee. In fact, a rule of the Board prohibits it."

Safety Council Elects Officers

The Newton Safety Council held its annual meeting on Wednesday night at Memorial Hall. General Daniel Needham was re-elected president. The following were elected vice-presidents: Richard Darr, Raymond Green, Alfred N. Miner, Mrs. Edgar Hay, Maxwell T. Gaddis, Rupert Thompson was re-elected secretary and treasurer. Lieutenant Edward Moan of the Traffic Bureau was chosen a member of the executive committee. A resolution was adopted at the meeting asking the city government to appropriate money so that first-aid equipment may be purchased and carried on police cars and fire trucks.

On Wednesday evening 111 members of the Newton police department, 7 members of the Newton Fire Department and 4 citizens, were presented certificates by C. The large number of policemen and the group of firemen recently completed a course in first aid training under the instruction of Irving Appleby, a Metropolitan District life-guard. About 30 members of the police department received their certificates at rollcall in police headquarters at 5:45 Wednesday afternoon before they started on duty. Fifty members of the police department, including Chief Hughes and Captain Veducio, were presented with the certificates in front of the War Memorial building at 7:45. At the same time the certificates were given to the members of the Fire Department.

Daniel Needham, president of Newton Safety Council, addressed the recipients of the certificates and praised them for giving their time in attending the course of lessons on first aid. He said that it showed their interest in their work. Alderman Joseph Jamieson, speaking in behalf of the city government, expressed appreciation for the willingness shown by the police and firemen in acquiring such useful knowledge. Committee To Report Against Zone Change At West Newton

Church School Altar Dedicated

Last Sunday morning in conjunction with the Children's Day program of the Newton Centre Methodist Church a church school altar was dedicated by Dr. John C. Wickett, Pastor, and a congregation. The altar and chancel were designed by Mr. Jess D. Traylor and all the labor connected with its erection was done by the men of the church.

Both chancel and altar are done in white and gold. A Greek, a Maltese and a Pattee cross in gold leaf adorn the front with the words "The Light of the World" in gold leaf above. The candlesticks in brass are given by Mrs. LeRoy A. Schall and the cross is presented by the Junior Women's Circle of the church.

Aldermen Favor Zone Change at West Newton

A large number of residents of the area including Watertown st., Eden, Davis, Adella and Orchard avenues, and Eliot ave., appeared at City Hall on Wednesday night to favor the petition to have that section changed from private to single residence zone. Alderman Max Gaddis, Charles R. Meeker and Chester Wilson spoke in favor of the change. Albert E. Scott of Belmont who recently purchased the Furbush property for development purposes arose when Alderman Rawson asked for the views of those who opposed the petition. Mr. Scott, however, surprised the gathering by telling them that he was 100 per cent in favor of the petition and had no idea of building two-family residences, as the petitioners had feared.

Chamber of Commerce Inquires Into Distribution of Unsigned Ballots

This week a large number of householders in the Newtons received a questionnaire which contained 72 questions, and each question was subdivided so that anyone reading it had to look at 657 items. Those responsible for the issuance of the questionnaire flattered the ability of the recipients of the information-seeking sheet, by stating that only 5 minutes would be required for its perusal. Although seeking much information, those responsible for the distribution of the "ballot," as they termed it, did not inform those who received the "ballot" as to who had it distributed, and why.

Printed on the ballot, or questionnaire, was the following explanation—"Your community has been selected to determine facts of nation-wide interest. One out of every three ballot will receive a copy of this ballot. Only five minutes are required for your complete vote. Answers are supplied below each question. Simply check your answer to each. Auburndale Bank Wants Howard Johnson Restaurant in Residential Area

City Hall was crowded on Wednesday evening with about 250 persons, practically all of whom evidenced opposition to a petition filed by the Auburndale Co-operative Bank asking that land in a single residence zone at the northeast corner of Washington st. and Commonwealth ave. be changed to business zone. Officers of the bank went on record in favor of the change as it would permit that institution to profit by the sale of a lot of land containing 33,969 square feet to the Howard Johnson restaurant company. Joseph Brennan, an attorney for the Howard Johnson Company, told how ornamental the building would be that is planned to be erected on the corner, and how it would add to the city's tax revenues. Brennan, in his argument, recalled a method used by the late Herbert Parker, when he told the members of the Claims & Rules Committee how the Boston Board of Appeal had decided in favor of the company after a petition for a similar restaurant on the Arborway had been turned down by Boston officials. Chairman Rawson of the committee informed Brennan that the Newton Board of Appeal has no power to reverse actions of the Aldermen on zoning matters.

Albert M. Lyon, a former alderman, speaking as a trustee of an estate that owns the lot of land on the opposite corner of the two streets, also favored the zoning change. He brought up the old argument that the (Continued on Page 2)

JEAN ROBERTS AND DANIEL NEEDHAM, JR. WIN SENIOR CUPS — HIGHEST HONORS

Powers Receives The Meserve Scholarship and MacKinnon The Dickinson Trophy at Commencement Exercises

The annual graduation exercises of the Newton High School were held last Saturday evening in the beautiful outdoor setting of the Dickinson Stadium before a large number of parents, friends, and undergraduates. Diplomas were awarded to seven hundred and ninety-two seniors who completed their high school careers as the largest class in the seventy-nine year history of the school. The impressive program was but slightly marred by the threat of showers which at one time almost forced the curtailment of the ceremonies as in 1938.

The audience of several thousand stood as the long procession moved across the high school campus to the stadium as the white of the girls' dresses contrasted with the deep green of the lawn grass brought into being an impressive sight. Accompanied by the high school band the march was headed by Mayor Edwin O. Childs, Superintendent of Schools Julius E. Warren, Principal Paul E. Ellicker, Chairman Franklin E. Smith of the school committee, and Dr. Carl Heath Kopf, pastor of the Mt. Vernon Church of Boston, commencement speaker. The invocation was given by Rev. John J. Crane, S. T. L., of St. Bernard's Church, West Newton, after the graduates had taken their places in the stadium and the principals their places on the platform.

Meserve Scholarship
One of the highest honors awarded annually is the Meserve Fund Scholarship in the memory of Charles D. Meserve, a former beloved teacher, to the boy "who best typifies the well-rounded character which Charles D. Meserve would recognize were he living." Frank Ashley Day, class of 1913 made the presentation of the scholarship to Thomas Brown Powers who has been president of the Newton Chapter of the National Honor Society, prominent in football, and a member of the "Newtonian" staff.

Mr. Ellicker presented the Dickinson Cup and announced the award of numerous scholarships and other prizes. The Dickinson cup is offered each year by the Massachusetts Coaches Association in memory of Alfred W. Dickinson, former coach, to the boy showing the greatest improvement in athletics together with good scholarship and character. John Donald MacKinnon, Jr., received the trophy in recognition of his athletic endeavors. During his school career he became an outstanding hurdler, was co-captain of the championship track teams, and prominent in numerous other school activities.

Foremost among the scholarship awards were those presented to fifteen students from the Lieutenant Stafford Leighton Brown Memorial Fund of fifty thousand dollars which was established by his mother a few years ago. Lieutenant Brown was killed in aviation service in the world war. These awards are noted in another column.

Following a selection by the high school band the commencement address was given by Dr. Kopf, who was introduced by Mr. Warren. His subject was "One Long River" and his theme was the 1100-mile journey of 62 days in a home-made boat by "Buzz" Holstrom which was completed after countless hazards had been overcome. The speaker compared the boat-trip with the journey through life which the graduates were about to undertake saying "he built his own boat, just as you will have to build yours." He recalled when at Heidelberg of looking out of a window and seeing a group of young people goose-stepping to a Nazi camp where they would be told what to do. He continued, "Thank God, we live in a country where we can still build our own boats."

"Holstrom," he related, "practised on the easier rough water of the Rogue river near his home before he tackled the harder rough water of the Grand Canyon. You will get ready for your big chance by meeting little chances victoriously. He found he could dispense with many impedimenta which weighed down his boat but served no necessary purpose. Do you know how to use a wastebasket and put your power into what is vital instead of what is trivial."

Mr. Russell said: "At the present time, there are building up in the world two tremendous spheres of influence, each of which is steadily and doggedly pursuing a course of conquest that threatens the whole world and either of which has brought under its sway already man-power and resources that are far superior to anything the United States can command under any possibility. Japan began its conquest of the Orient as far back as 1895 and has never been defeated; and Hitler has achieved step by step, almost paragraph by paragraph, just what he outlined in his book, until the conquest of the Ukraine alone is left to be accomplished. Those who advocate a policy of isolation forget how much we are dependent upon (Continued on page 2)

Miss Olivia Cate of West Newton, will represent the Newton Zonta Club at the convention.

Convention sessions will emphasize the responsibilities of women executives in activities relating to community service, to industrial affairs, and to public life. Consideration also will be given to plans for augmenting various service projects that will aid young girls in starting a business career; to a program that will advance women politically; and to legislation that menaces the progress of women in the professions and in business.

"Fortifying Democracy at the Base" is the timely subject of an address to be given by Harry Collins Spillman, of New York City, author and lecturer, at the final day's session.

Judge Camille Kelley, of the Juvenile Court of Memphis, Tenn., widely known for her work in juvenile delinquency, will speak on "Human Values" at the banquet.

Is aeronautical engineering a profession that should be left exclusively to men? Would it be advisable to use the Amelia Earhart Memorial Fund, established last year, for research in the field of aeronautics? These are two questions that delegates will have to settle before deciding whether the fund will be administered as a scholarship or whether it will become a revolving loan fund. Details of research that has been conducted at a score of universities, in order to determine opportunities for women in aeronautical engineering, will be presented by Dorothy McSparran Arnold, dean of women at New York University, before the convention body takes action on these questions.

Dr. Helen Pearce, of Willamette University, Salem, Ore., International president, will preside at the sessions. Miss Dora E. Neun, of Rochester, N. Y., a former president of the organization, will conduct a forum that will examine recent legislation affecting women, and it is expected that a plan will be drafted for acquainting the public with the fact that women work for precisely the same reason that men do—to support themselves and their dependents.

Others who will figure prominently in the convention sessions are: Miss Esther C. M. Gude, of Washington, D. C., Convention chairman; Miss Irene O'Crowley, of Newark, N. J., who will discuss phases of the organization's extensive international relations program that promote world peace; Miss Gladys Bogue, of New York City, who will report activities of the Group Action Council, an organization that serves as a clearing house for programs, policies, and research for eight of the country's business and professional women's groups; and Mrs. Margaret Benoit, also of New York City, who will report on career tours for women.

Co-operating in arranging tours of every type of business and profession in which women are engaged are twenty-nine organizations. A special tour has been arranged for Zonta Club members in connection with Zonta Day, June 29, at the World's Fair.

At other sessions Mrs. Martha Betz, of Glendale, Calif., will present a summary of one year's research on trade treaties; Mrs. Lois Peirce Hughes, of New York City, will report on work of the Women's Pan-Pacific Association; and Miss Frances Powell Hill, of Washington, D. C., will speak for the National Aviation Council.

International officers who will appear on the program are: Mrs. M. M. Moyers McElroy, of Washington, D. C., first vice-president; Miss Elizabeth Armstrong, of Cleveland, Ohio, second vice-president; Miss Ruth Gates, of Evanston, Ill., treasurer; and Miss Harriet C. Richards, of Chicago, executive secretary.

Delegates will represent clubs in the United States, including Hawaii, Canada, and Europe.

FLOWER SHOW OF AUBURNDALE GARDEN CLUB

On the afternoon and evening of Wednesday, June 7, the Auditorium of the Auburndale Club House was thronged with flower lovers who were enthusiastic in their praise of the artistic arrangements at the Community Flower Show of the Auburndale Garden Club.

There were nine classes, and no limits to the number of entries in each. Class I, which called for flowers grown in the entrant's garden, was open only to persons who had not received previous prizes in past years, and was in charge of Mrs. Thomas Young. A bouquet of all white flowers in a white vase, entered by Mrs. Lysecomb Bruce, Jr., was given a first prize, and a third award was given Mrs. Charles Tift for a similar arrangement of yellow tulips in a brass container.

Mrs. Egon Kattwinkel, Mrs. Harry Every, and Mrs. Clifford Parcher were winners in Class II (a) which called for iris; and Mrs. Charles Weden, Mrs. Richard Kenney, Mrs. Charles Grover, and Mrs. E. Graham Bates were given first honors in (b) of the same class, which included tulips. Mrs. Austin Fisher and Mrs. Everett Potter won second honors in the same class, and Mrs. Kirby Ducaet won third honors. Mrs. Wendell Burbank was in charge of this.

Arrangements on Period Tables, which constituted Class III, was in charge of the Misses Dike and was a very popular exhibit, giving the entrants great scope for originality. Blue ribbons in this class were awarded to Mrs. Richard Kenney, whose mahogany table bore a pair of old glass candelabra on either side of a brass container holding all white blossoms. Another winner was Miss Katharine Braithwaite, whose inlaid table held a vase of mixed flowers which carried out the pattern of the needle-point in the chair which accompanied the exhibit. Another winning table was that submitted by Mrs. Charles Brown, on which was an exquisite old sampler and an antique case holding sprays of bleeding heart, Miss Florence Tower, Mrs. Wendell Burbank, Mrs. Norman Cate, and Mrs. Harold Carnes won second prizes in this same class.

Trays used as a background comprised Class IV, and was in charge of Mrs. Clifford Parcher. Mrs. Ralph Keyes' arrangement of tulips and salpiglossis against a flowered tray decorated in the same colors won a first prize. Mrs. Austin Fisher's bouquet of the same flowers, and that of Mrs. E. Graham Bates who used the African daisies, both with backgrounds which blended with the coloring of the blossoms, took second prizes, and Mrs. Frederick Goode took a third, with blue iris against a silver tray.

A new feature this year was a table for neighboring Garden Clubs, with Mrs. James Dunlop in charge. A large spray of azaleas in a bronze kettle, entered by the West Roxbury Garden Club; and a branch of green currants beside a bowl of green fruits, submitted by the Newtonville Garden Club, were awarded first prizes. A bowl of fruit and a spray of honeysuckle with ferns, from the Lexington Garden Club; and a branch of rhododendron buds near a bowl of red cherries, from the Wellesley Garden Club, won third prizes.

Mrs. Basil Babcock had charge of Class VI, which featured flowers arranged in niches, and Mrs. Ralph Keyes showed an unusually graceful spray of gladioli and salpiglossis which won first prize, while a second prize was given Miss Kay Peterson, for her arrangement of yellow iris against a background of Mexican embroidery.

The Specimen Exhibit which constituted Class VII was in charge of Mrs. William Edison, and Mrs. Harry Every. Mrs. Victor Morgan and Miss Florence Tower had winning exhibits. The children of the village had a class of their own this year, but this was non-competitive. Among the youthful entrants were Ruth Kendall, Sarah Bruce, Patricia Law, Barbara Babcock, Jocelyn Clapp, Carolyn Keyes, Laura Tisdell, Harry Ballard, Tommy Burbank, and Gene Gerard.

The last class was for men only, and Mr. Richard Kenney won a first Hundreds Protest Zoning Change On Comm. Ave.

location is not suited for residences, and he made the offer of about one-fifth of the lot as part of a location for a traffic circle that was proposed some years ago.

A letter was received from the West Newton Men's Club protesting against the change. O. D. Fellows, vice-president of the Newton Centre Improvement Association, objected to the change, saying his organization desires to preserve the residential character of Commonwealth ave. Refuting Brennan's argument that the zoning change would benefit the city financially, Fellows said that if business were permitted at the locus, the many fine residential properties near that area would depreciate in value. He asked "How about the people who bought homes there, under guarantee that it would remain a single residence district?"

Mrs. Louis Heller of 1650 Commonwealth ave. said she had paid $20,000 for her home and if the Johnson ice cream stand and restaurant were allowed at the location sought, her property would become worthless. Lyman Hutchins of Angier Circle said that the Johnson restaurant would increase traffic and cause plenty of noise. Objections from R. W. McKenzie of Cheswick rd. and William McKenzie of 1778 Commonwealth ave. stated that they had spent large sums of money on their properties. They called attention to the fact that much of Johnson's business is done during the night hours. Dr. John Tabbot of Oldham rd. said the traffic from some of the Johnson lunchrooms continues until 1 and 2 a. m. Alderman Rawson asked for a show of hands of those opposed to the change of zone, and about 100 evidenced opposition.

The Claims and Rules Committee voted against the petition and will so report to the Board of Aldermen at its next meeting. By their action, the committee has defeated another petition which, if accepted, would mean the transition of Commonwealth ave. from a beautiful residential avenue to a business thoroughfare, and which would result in a radical change of the city as a whole.

Motorcycle Afire, Rider Not Burned

As Ralph Spencer of 22 Southwick rd., Waban, was riding his motorcycle near the intersection of River and Lexington sts., West Newton, on Tuesday night at 8:47 the motor burst into flames. Spencer was able to leap from the vehicle before he got burned. Box 321 was pulled and several pieces of fire apparatus responded, including two from Waltham.

prize by his spray of azaleas, Mr. Frederick Briscoe. Mr. Herbert Ames and Mr. Ralph Keyes won second prizes. Mr. Keyes very appropriately used a mortar in which to arrange his blossoms, the pestle beside them. Dr. Eugene Ufford and Mr. Charles Floyd were awarded third prizes in this contest.

The platform represented a garden filled with shrubbery which had been lent generously by the Auburndale Gardens, and Mrs. Thomas F. Brown, Jr., and Mrs. Richard Kenney were the decorators, using gaily-painted furniture and a deeply-tinted bird bath which gave a Spanish accent to the setting.

During the afternoon tea was served in the Club Lounge.

NEWTON ZONTA CLUB

The Newton Zonta Club convened Monday evening, June 5, at the home of Miss Caroline Freeman, 258 Mount Vernon st., West Newton, where a Porch Supper was served at 6:30 p. m., among very attractive surroundings.

The Annual Meeting was called to order by Miss Doris Lovell, president, and necessary business was transacted and officers for the ensuing year were elected.

The president, having presented the gavel to Miss Ethel Gammons, the new president, the Club tended to the retiring president, Miss Lovell, a fitting tribute for her efficient service.

Hermann Retires as Superintendent of City Playgrounds

nothing place in past years were abolished and good facilities provided. The Playground Department also has supervision of four other bathing places. For many winters when the weather was favorable the department has daily planned and brushed over 30 acres of skating areas, used by huge and orderly crowds, and supervised by playground directors with no police protection required. Newton playgrounds have decreased juvenile delinquency in this city. Mr. Hermann, although employed by Newton on the basis of one-third of his time, states that he never gave less than half his time, until recent years, in addition, gave all his vacation time, and never charged any of his personal expenses. Under his long supervision no city in the United States had as low a per capita cost for supervision and maintenance of a playground system comparable with Newton's.

In addition to his duties in Newton, Mr. Hermann from 1912 until 1929 was director of Physical Education in the Somerville schools, and since 1929 he has been dean of the Sargent College of Physical Education of Boston University. He has served as consultant on playground matters to cities and towns all over New England and the Middle West, and has designed 100 playgrounds. He directed large pageants in Newton and elsewhere and has served on a number of public boards including those connected with the Federal Housing projects at Cambridge and Dorchester.

other countries for our existence. Even a land pencil is impossible without imports from three countries; and agriculture and manufacturing are dependent upon export trade for selling from a third to a half of their production. If, under these circumstances, we were to truly adopt isolation there would have to be a regimentation of production and of living itself that would be terrific.

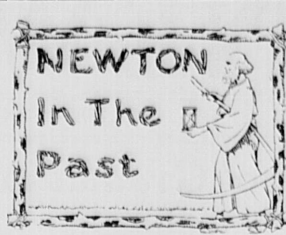

Mr. Russell argued that the group of isolationists who want us to stay out of war but want this country to supply war materials to Germany, Italy and Japan are favoring a program exactly to the liking of those countries and one that will cost the U. S. A. terribly in the future. He said that the Monroe Doctrine imposes upon us the problem of trying to exert a protective influence over a continent that is bound to Europe by ties of culture, race and economics far more than it is to us. Instead of isolation he advocated freer trade relations with all nations and a more equitable adjustment of resources and territories.

Newton Residents Get Questionnaire

address are not required. One of your local newshoys has delivered this ballot and will call upon you for it on Thursday, June 15.

Many persons receiving the questionnaire supposed that they had been left by the boy who brings the Herald Globe, Post or one of the other Boston dailies. But inquiries at the various newsdealers in the city revealed the fact that their boys had not delivered the questionnaire, but that some of the boys employed by the Shopping News had distributed them. Rupert Thompson, Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, substantiated this by telephoning the Shopping News office. The questions asked what newspapers are read, what radio stations listened to, what stores in Boston are patronized, and why; at what stores are one's grocery, meat and bakery products purchased, and why; what brands of automobiles are owned, and what brands of gasoline, motor oil and tires are used.

John McCammon is to open a boot and shoe store in the store formerly occupied by George Bush, undertaker, at the corner of Washington and Centre sts.

A runaway horse from Newtonville, dragging a heavy wagon, was stopped on Washington st., near Newton Corner this noon. He had been left unhitched while eating his dinner, and when stopped was still feeding from his grain bag.

After a chilly and disagreeable spring we find ourselves at one jump carried into midsummer. The thermometer went up steadily after Friday, and Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday were regular scorchers.

The Newton Bicycle Club will have their fourth run tomorrow, leaving Trinity square, Boston at 2:30 for Waltham, having supper at the Prospect House, and coming home by moonlight. The fifth run, next week Saturday, will be from Trinity square to the Watertown Arsenal.

Does our Water Department, like Providence, move in a mysterious way? Why are the water bills of those who use meters so much larger the past year than ever before? My own is just twice as large as last year and a few cents over. I find this experience to be quite general. Is there possibly a secret rig to these water-meters by which bills are to be increased annually by a geometrical progression, so that the man who paid $20 in 1883, pays $40 this year and will be mulcted $80 in 1885? Can't the water department folks be satisfied with arithmetical progression?

ONE OF THE SUFFERERS.

The School Committee could not well do otherwise than accept Supt. of Schools Kimball's resignation. The superintendent and the committee have never pulled together and after Mr. Kimball's sharp arraignment of the Board in his letter of resignation they could not ask him to remain without owning themselves at fault. He may or may not have been the right man for the place, but if there is to be a superintendent, he should be allowed to be one in fact as well as in name, and stand or fall on his own merits. His exit will reopen the question of several years ago, if there is any need for a superintendent.

50 YEARS AGO

June 7, 1889

Mrs. Catherine Bailey of Walnut Park is now the oldest person in Newton. Mrs. Allen of West Newton having died last week. Mrs. Bailey celebrated her 94th birthday on May 25th.

There has been a great demand for copies of last week's GRAPHIC which contained pictures of the old and new Eliot Churches and the full report of the dedication exercises.

There was an incident in one of the Newton churches on a recent Sunday which caused considerable amusement among the congregation. The pulpit was being filled by a clergyman whose home is in a small town in northern New England. His sermon was unusually long and the hour for holding Sunday School came and passed, the congregation grew restless, and the conclusion did not seem to be coming. The pastor finally arose and courteously suggested that the hour for holding Sunday School had long passed and would hardly do to trespass longer on the time belonging to the children. The preacher responded—"Just another thought, and I have done." The pastor very promptly replied—"Not another thought, brother," and then the benediction was pronounced.

The question of a new location for the almshouse has excited much interest in certain sections of the city, and the committee in charge of the removal gave a great deal of time to the matter. Numerous locations were looked at and discussed, but none seemed so convenient or suitable as the one finally selected on Cherry st., West Newton. There was some talk of locating the almshouse in the Oak Hill district near the Needham line, but it was found to be so far from any railroad station and the other city buildings as to be decidedly inconvenient. One Oak Hill man asked the committee if any of the inmates ever came from Oak Hill, and when they confessed that Oak Hill had not patronized the institution, he said that the almshouse should be in the districts where the inmates come from. There was some sense to this, and the committee finally decided that the building should be within easy reach of City Hall which would mean a great savings of time to city officials. There have been remonstrances against the selection of the site chosen, and the remonstrants are to have a hearing on June 24.

Property owners in the Cherry st. section are raising quite a commotion against the proposal to locate the almshouse there. Waban property owners want it removed from that section, and there will be protests from any part of the city where it will be proposed to locate it. One citizen suggests that the trouble is over the name "Almshouse," and if the place were given some other name, which would be beautiful or high-sounding, most of the objections would disappear.

EDWARD H.

Powers' Paragraphs

The problem of raising additional taxes continues to bother the Governor, the Legislature and the people of Massachusetts. One method, which has been repeatedly suggested, and which would provide ample revenue, has been frowned upon as degrading and unworthy of this Commonwealth—a State-operated lottery. And yet Massachusetts participates in and receives revenues from far more pernicious types of gambling, horse and dog racing—gambling which takes from its addicts much more money in one day than a lottery would take in two or three years. We read more and more of the doping of race horses. And among the regular patrons of the racetrack gambling plants are many of our "nicest people."

Ralph Robert, chairman of the State Board of Parole, accuses several Boston attorneys as parole racketeers. Mr. Robert's charges are nothing new. Some of these ornaments of the legal profession became established in this dirty racket several years ago during the administration of a former Governor who professes to be an idealist.

Back in the "horse and buggy" days a small, brick building stood on an ordinary sized lot of land at Newton Corner. This land, dignified by the name of "Richardson Park," was an island in the Newton Corner business section; it was a small triangle bounded by Washington, Centre and Hall sts. The building contained the offices of the former Newton National Bank and the Newton Trust Company. Back in 1894 the big project of lowering the tracks of the Boston & Albany Railroad was started. The purpose was to abolish grade crossings. Yearly, two or three persons would be killed at grade crossings, and in those pre-automobile days even this small number of fatalities was regarded with horror, and resulted in the highly expensive abolition of grade crossings in the Newtons. In conjunction with the lowering of the tracks, Washington st. from Newton to West Newton was widened. All buildings between Centre ave., Newton, and Felton st., West Newton, were either razed or removed except those at the Brackett coal yard. There was much justifiable criticism when the little bank building at Newton Corner was allowed to remain, narrowing Washington st. where it should be widest, and causing a bad traffic problem at Newton Corner.

A few years later, in 1897, the banks decided they required more room and plans were made to erect a larger building on the site of the old structure. Popular demand arose to have the business section at Newton Corner cleared of the big traffic obstruction by having the city government take the erection of the new building. To demonstrate the need of this improvement, Newton Corner business men headed by the late Charles G. Newcomb organized a parade of horses and wagons which circled Nonantum Square and the bank building several times. But, protests were of no avail and the present bank structure at Newton Corner was built in 1898. Not so many years after automobiles became more and more numerous, and since then a bad traffic condition has existed at Newton Corner. After many collisions had occurred, Washington st. was made a one-way street by the bank building, and so were Centre and Hall sts. Autoists not acquainted with the traffic rules at Newton Corner continued to drive the wrong direction on the one-way streets round the bank building, and after signs and more or less frail iron traffic beacons had proved ineffective, three substantial concrete beacons were installed near the bank building on Washington, Centre and Hall sts., and they have since proved effective and practical in regulating traffic there, and in preventing collisions. In addition the beacons on Centre and Hall sts., particularly the latter, have saved many pedestrians every day from being hit by speeding automobiles.

So, it was with surprise that the writer learned this week that it was planned, in the interest of economy, to remove the three concrete traffic beacons. When we received this information, we told Alderman Max Gaddis, chairman of the Committee on Street Traffic, and John Haughey, Acting Superintendent of Streets, that if they authorized the removal of the protective traffic beacons near the bank building, they would be inviting severe criticisms from the people of the Newton Corner district. During the two years and more that Mr. Gaddis has been chairman of the Street Traffic Committee of the Aldermen, we have found him unusually courteous and co-operative. We have also observed that Mr. Haughey has manifested these same qualities during the short time he has been holding his present office. So, we believe that neither of them will be parties to the removal of the traffic beacons near the bank building when they realize that such action would be condemned by the great majority of residents in Wards 1 and 7. The lives and safety of the people are of much more importance than saving a small amount of money to the city yearly, or a small amount of work to the employees who are supposed to keep the beacons in repair.

Last Saturday Ernst Hermann retired as Superintendent of the Newton playgrounds after 27 years service. In 1911 he planned the establishment of the Newton Playground Department and the following year was made the superintendent of the playgrounds. Under his leadership the truly outstanding playground system of Newton has been developed, and through his insistence this city has acquired playgrounds which otherwise would never have been created. A man of forceful personality, it was inevitable that in addition to making many friends, Mr. Hermann had some critics. But his knowledge of recreational activities and his determination to provide Newton with a sufficiency of playgrounds, have been of great value to boys and girls of Newton during the past quarter century, and will be of inestimable value to coming generations of Newton boys and girls, as well as to adults of this city who enjoy the recreational opportunities afforded by our many playgrounds.

We have received a courteous letter from William H. Rand, vice-president of the Monsanto Chemical Company of Everett relative to a paragraph we had in the GRAPHIC on May 26 regarding an odor which wafted into Newton on Sunday night, May 21, and which we believed came from one of the chemical factories at Everett. Our reason for holding this opinion is because the odor which in recent years has come into Newton several times on damp days when an East wind prevailed, resembles strongly the odor we have noticed as we drove through the chemical factory district in Everett. We differ with Mr. Rand in his statement that his company is the only large chemical plant in Everett, and we shall accept his invitation to visit his plant. We may be wrong in our contention that the smell comes from Everett, but it certainly does not originate in Newton, and it certainly is not that peculiar type of stench that emanates from the Brighton abattoir.

Mr. Rand's letter follows:
Dear Mr. Powers:
I have read your paragraph in which you stated that "disagreeable odors in Newton come from one of the chemical plants in Everett." I believe I called to your attention, after one of your earlier statements, that this odor did not come from the Monsanto Chemical Company. You state in your paragraph "one of the chemical plants in Everett." We are the only large manufacturing chemical plant in Everett. I would be pleased to have you come to the plant and investigate this matter, as any statements which you make in regard to these odors may be unjustly detrimental to the company's interest, and I am sure that you would not wish to make statements which are untrue.

Very truly yours,
WILLIAM H. RAND,
Vice President.

Newtonville Burglar Given Probation

Anthony Fabiano, 33, of Lynn, who was captured on the afternoon of June 2nd at Newtonville after he had broken into the home of Robert Rugg at 112 Bullough Park, was tried at the Middlesex Superior Court last Friday and placed on probation for 2 years by Judge Gray. Fabiano had no previous record and told the court that he had had a quarrel with his wife on the day he was arrested, because of the fact that he was out of work and could not find employment.

NEWTON DISTRICT NURSING ASSOCIATION

The Newton District Nursing Association held its final meeting for the season 1938-1939 on June 12th at 10 o'clock, with Mrs. Louis W. Arnold presiding. Reports were given by Mrs. J. Herbert Young for the Nursing Committee, Mrs. Philip Warren for the Finance Committee and Mrs. Irving J. Fisher for the Social Service Index Committee.

The proposed Budget for the year 1940 was submitted and explained, and it was voted that it be submitted to the Budget Committee of the Community Chest for its approval. Miss Helen Nelson, Executive Director of the Association, was not present at the meeting, owing to the fact that she was receiving her degree of Bachelor of Science from Boston University on that day. In her absence, Miss Ann Thompson gave the report of visits made by the nurses during the month of May, and announced that 143 new homes had been visited during the month and that the number of Pay Patients had increased to 69 as against 55 for the same month last year.

A Lecture on Christian Science

Entitled

Spiritual Achievement Through the Understanding of Christian Science

by

MISS LUCIA COULSON

of London, England

Member of the Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts

On Monday evening, June 12th, a lecture on Christian Science entitled "Spiritual Achievement Through the Understanding of Christian Science" was given in the Church Edifice of First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Newton.

The First Reader of the Church, Mr. Raymond Wilson, introduced the lecturer, and spoke as follows:

Friends:

First Church of Christ, Scientist, of Newton, welcome you tonight to this lecture on Christian Science entitled, "Spiritual Achievement Through the Understanding of Christian Science."

Throughout the world today there is much need of healing from all the ills and fears that beset humanity, and this healing will come through the universal application of the teachings of Christian Science.

This lecture will explain to us how we can overcome these ills and help others to attain this understanding.

Our Lecturer is a member of the Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts.

I am happy to present to you Miss Lucia C. Coulson of London, England. The lecturer spoke substantially as follows:

The desire to achieve is part of the make-up of every normal human being and is certainly commendable. Without it history would probably have recorded very little progress. The purest altruism is the desire to achieve for others, universally, rather than personally or individually. This tendency is even discerned in the animal and vegetable kingdoms, in the upward-reaching, aspiring branches of the trees, in the order and purpose of the ant heap, and the beehive. And why? Because what has been called the divine spark in man is not content merely to toil or to stagnate, but demands advancement and achievement. This is indicated in Browning's familiar saying, "A man's reach should exceed his grasp." We can, however, go even further than Browning has done, for since thought must precede action, and action is simply the outcome of thought, man is potentially already there, he is where his reach is. What is needed then in every event is to enlarge our thinking, to remove the limitations from our aspirations.

There are some who keep their desires in the valley of wishful longing, saying, "How I wish I could attain this or that!" adding in the next breath, "But it will never be mine." The more robust and scientific thinker says, "Such a goal is possible of attainment, and so I am already there." The importance of this point is illustrated in a very simple manner in the old English story of Dick Whittington, which most people know. The little ragged country boy had walked up to London Town to look for work, being of an adventurous spirit. All day he tried in vain, no one would listen to him, so at nightfall he turned his back on the city to return to the countryside. At the outskirts he halted discouraged to rest, and suddenly the bells of London rang out, and this is what they chimed: "Turn again Whittington, Lord Mayor of London. Turn again Whittington, Lord Mayor of London." Whittington turned and the prophecy of the bells came true, although this took place centuries ago, when it was not easy for the lowly to rise. This shows what even human hope and faith can do, but human hope and faith unaided are not enough. Today more than ever before humanity is conscious of its own inadequacy to stem the tides of events, to quiet the turmoil on every side and to maintain peace and equity. Therefore today there is a seeking in human thought for something outside of itself, better, higher, more dependable, a turning in this direction and that for help and support. This is good, for such a state of thought indicates receptivity, which is the first step towards the mastery of any problem.

Now there is today a Science of Life which is the same as a Science of being, and because it is Science it is exact, demonstrable. It takes as its premise that God, the creator, is Spirit, and that therefore His offspring, man, is spiritual. Consequently it states that power is spiritual, and the inheritance of man, and that the human being can attain to and utilize this power. Humanity as a whole has never recognized the fact that spiritual means have been shown again and again throughout human history to be the most potent and certain in order to achieve; that spirituality, spiritual understanding, brings opportunity and removes the injustices and inequalities which seem to keep so many from attainment, simply because it is thought to be dependent on money, circumstances, and the like. In other words, spirituality, which is possible to anyone and is no respecter of persons, has made the lowliest great and is more powerful than all the material ways and means so beloved of mortals.

Now to prove this let us turn for a moment to Bible history. Moses, brought up by Pharaoh's daughter, had as a young man a most promising future, for he had rank and influence on his side. He flung them all away, however, in a moment's impulsive indignation and had to flee the country. So we find him throughout a long period of his life looking after his father-in-law's sheep. That is all we are told; but what must have been the inner history of his first eighty years? It must have been a search after God, for eventually God revealed Himself to him and spoke to him, and the prophet says, "Ye shall seek me, and find me, when ye shall search for me with all your heart." Through those long days and nights in the Midian desert how Moses must have yearned and prayed and listened for God's voice! There must have been a changing and mellowing of his character until finally, as "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" puts it, he "illustrated the grand human capacities of being bestowed by immortal Mind" (Science and Health, p. 200). That is a wonderful sentence and a great promise for us: "grand human capacities" are ours if we choose. So let us choose!

More important still, the Christian Science textbook tells us that he advanced a nation to the worship of God in Spirit instead of matter. Because of his spirituality, because of his communion with God, Moses enabled not merely to lead his people out of bondage—that was only a step leading to his further achievement—but to give to humanity the moral law, the Ten Commandments, which are still the basis of human society, the law of all Christian nations. What fame or achievement of conquest or money-getting compares with the fame of this Hebrew lawgiver?

Then there was a man who was sold as a slave into a foreign country and became the leading power in that foreign country, "ruler over all the land of Egypt." He had absolutely nothing and no one to help him. He was at one time languishing in a dungeon, a man without a chance, humanly speaking, and one thing and one thing only, lifted him out of it all and placed him in the highest position of honor and authority. That one thing was Joseph's spirituality. Pharaoh himself recognized this, and said, "Can we find such a one as this, a man in whom the Spirit of God is?" When we consider the age in which he lived, Joseph's understanding of the Christ is almost unbelievable. Certainly if individuals and nations today were as Christlike and forgiving as he there would be no talk of wars and rumors of wars. Is there a more touching or more exquisite piece of literature than those passages which tell of the meeting of Joseph and his brethren? Remember, they wanted to kill him, and cast him into a pit, and then sold him as a slave to a company of Egyptians. Yet when they came to beg corn of him and were at his mercy he loaded them with benefits and begged them to forget and to forgive themselves!

Another example of the power of spirituality which we cannot get by the story of David and Goliath. Here again we see the spiritually-minded youth with everything against him according to ordinary standards. A great contrast is presented. On one side the huge giant, the mighty man of war with his helmet and shield and his great sword, boasting of his conquests—and on the other, a boy in shepherd's clothes without a weapon of any sort except his shepherd's sling, but with the battle cry of unselfed faith, "I come to thee in the name of the Lord of hosts." Again spiritual means won the victory and the achievement was with David. The Bible makes a wonderful comment on it. After describing the fall and death of Goliath it adds, "but there was no sword in the hand of David"—no sword! no resentment, no trust in material means.

We could take many more examples, but these three will suffice until we come to the great Example, Christ Jesus. From all we can glean in the Gospels and from tradition, his people were of simple, humble circumstances. He was spoken of scornfully as "the carpenter's son," and we are told that he had not learned letters, yet he silenced the cleverest scribes in argument. At twelve years the doctors of the law were astonished at his wisdom. He spoke to men and they left their profession and followed him. He fed thousands, he annihilated space, for as soon as he started across the lake he was at the other side. He raised the dead. All this was the result of Jesus' transcendent spirituality. And today, although skeptics and men of the world may scoff, they all have to date their correspondence with his era. Not a business deal is valid unless dated with the name of the Galilean. It was what Moses knew about God, the measure of his spirituality, that enabled him to lead a people out of bondage. It was what Joseph knew about God, the measure of his spirituality, that made him ruler of the land of Egypt. It was what Jesus knew about God, his conscious oneness with the Father, he to whom the Spirit was given without measure, that gave him his unequalled dominion.

Power is of God. To know God is power. If anyone wants power let him learn to know the facts of Spirit, and the knowing or realizing of these will safeguard his use of power. There is really only one thing you can know—Truth. You cannot know error. You can accept it or believe it, but you can know only that which is true.

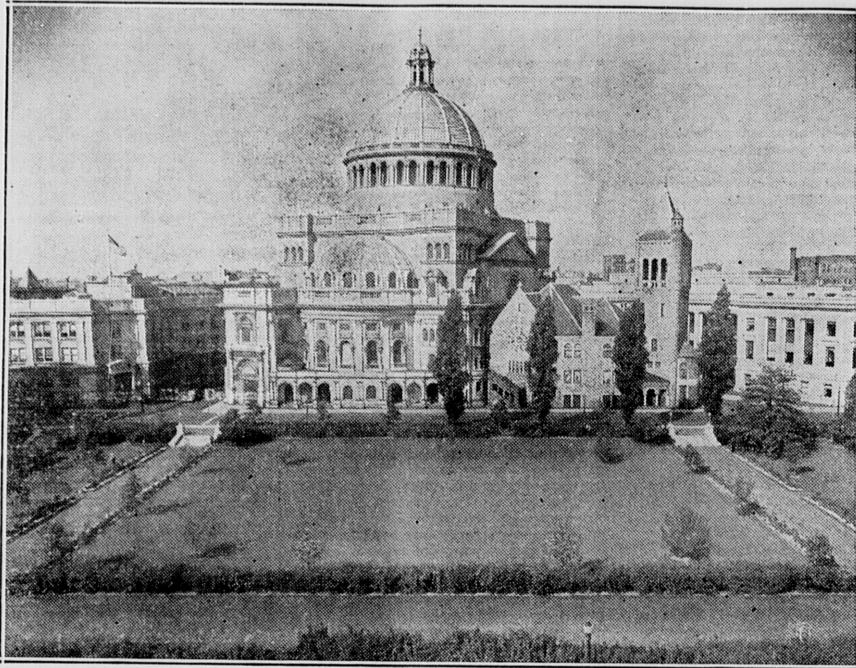

The spiritual dominion of the Master was manifested in a remarkable degree by his immediate followers, and indeed as late as the third century the healing works were continued without a break. From that date, however, they practically ceased and the Christian church became more and more material during what have been called the Dark Ages. Today these healing works have reappeared, and the example of the Master in healing the sick and the sinning is being followed in some measure. This is due to the work of a woman who towards the end of the nineteenth century gave another astonishing proof of what spirituality achieves. She grew up on a New Hampshire farm, amongst quiet, simple, homelike surroundings. The country around even now is sparsely populated, and the wide open spaces, the beautiful distant views and far horizons must have deeply influenced her thought and helped to feed the inner hunger for the ideal and the infinite which was always with her. Her afterlife was one of many trials and of constant seeking for Truth, until finally, as she herself says, her "immediate recovery from the effects of an injury caused by an accident, an injury that neither medicine nor surgery could reach, universal shows us that our affections cannot be limited to loving this or that person, but that it is natural and possible to let our love embrace all, shining forth as the sun shines forth impersonally, universally. This does not mean less tenderness for every individual, because the sun warms and illumines equally every little daisy, every tiny leaf, every blade of grass.

In this way we begin to see how this further understanding of God enables us to avail ourselves of Him in a much greater degree than ever before. It destroys the belief of separation and brings us nearer to God, therefore nearer to protection, nearer to intelligence, nearer to harmon, the other immortal. These two never mingle, although like the wheat and the tares they seem to grow side by side. That which is of the flesh remains mortal, imperfect, that which is of the Spirit, sinless, stainless, immaculate. Therefore we do not make a mortal good, but let the mortal give place little by little to the immortal. In so doing what appears to take place is the emergence of a better, happier, and healthier human being. What does it mean to be born of the Spirit? It means that the Christ-idea awakes in us, which from then on is the governing factor of our experience. It means that the intellectual acceptance of Truth bows before a knowing of Truth's actual-was the failing apple that led me to the discovery how to be well myself, and how to make others so" (Retrospection and Introspection, p. 24). From that moment she never ceased her search for what she calls "the Science of this healing" (Science and Health, p. 199), and in 1875 she gave to the world her discovery in the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures."

During this time of seeking, her income was very, very small. She had no friends to help her. Moreover, she had the drawback of being a woman in days when women had few rights and privileges. Added to all this she introduced a Science, a philosophy, that roused in opposition both the religious and medical thought of the day. Yet she succeeded! It is marvelous reading, the story of her achievement. What nameless struggles, what nameless faith in God it required, we may never know. How could she do this, alone, unfriended, persecuted by the carnal mind at every step? It was what Mrs. Eddy knew about God, her spiritual understanding of her relationship to God, that enabled her to achieve what no other woman had achieved, the discovery of the Science of healing, the founding of a Church and of a movement that is world-wide.

In the Christian Science textbook she sets forth this Science which will enable those who study it to achieve the spirituality which belongs to them and which is power. Now since Christian Science is Science this book defines for us the being of God, and it may be said that this definition brings a great light into human consciousness. The dictionary states that the word "definition" means "the explanation of anything by its attributes, properties or relations." The definition of Deity in the Christian Science textbook is composed of the seven synonyms, which are given as follows: "Mind, Spirit, Soul, Principle, Life, Truth, Love" (p. 465). Then these synonyms are further explained and described, and of Mind it is said that there is only one Mind, God. When that great fact was stated it instantly loosed human thought, and this liberation was shown in the extraordinary number of inventions which followed the year in which Science and Health was published. The reason for this is clearly to be seen. The more you know about anything, any art or science, the more power you have in that direction, the more you can use it. Ignorance spells limitation and separation. To be ignorant of the multiplication table would mean helplessness and uselessness in the business world and in other spheres as well. The same is true of art or music. The more you understand them, the more you get out of them. As your understanding increases, so your power of expressing them, using them, and enjoying them increases.

Then, to understand more of God is to understand and to express more of power, to understand and to express more of intelligence, to understand and to express more of Love. For the first time the Being of God has been scientifically and systematically defined. As we study this definition, as we contemplate these synonyms, we learn more about God and therefore more about ourselves. Since man is manifestation or reflection it is for us to identify ourselves in our true being with the divine nature expressed in these synonyms. To learn that there is only one Mind is to unite ourselves with the power and capacity of that Mind. To learn that God is Principle gives at once a profound sense of the perfect, unvarying law and government controlling man who is the idea of his divine Principle, and so is held in complete security. To learn that divine Love is mony. Ignorance of the divine nature has made people believe that grievous sickness brings them nearer God, whereas infinite goodness, infinite harmony, could not include, experience, or be conscious of disease. We come nearer to God only as we come nearer to the divine nature, approximating the purity which is innocent of the belief in evil. Thus the source of all error, the sense of separation between God and man, is destroyed. Again the constant insistence in the Christian Science textbook on the allness and infinitude of God is logically and fearlessly carried to its conclusion, namely, that evil is unreal, that there is no place for evil in an infinitude of good, and that there can be nothing outside infinitude.

A further contribution to revelation made by Mary Baker Eddy is that she speaks of God as Mother. Always from everlasting God has been the Father of all, but Jesus first taught men to say, "Our Father which art in heaven." Always the great I AM has included the feminine qualities of Mind, but it remained for Christian Science to give to us the tender, comforting title of Mother by which to know Deity. No consciousness is complete unless it includes both the masculine and feminine qualities. This has not been recognized. Human beings have sought to gain completeness from without rather than from within, but God being all, man in His likeness must express all, and so possess potentially all the qualities. When each one claims the qualities of thought expressed in true manhood and womanhood they will find themselves complete and satisfied, and each sex will understand the other better. Therefore without the title of Mother our concept of God is incomplete. Furthermore, this word helps us to a clearer vision of the nature of Love. We all know how a mother longs for her child to be happy, makes little plans constantly for his happiness, is concerned in all the details of his welfare, feeds and cherishes it without any thought of herself. Thinking along these lines makes God seem closer, more intimate. It makes us feel how dear our happiness is to the heart of God. It makes us realize that God, the divine Mother, wants us to be happy, just as much as He wants us to be good. How could the mother-love of God, whose nature it is to feed and cherish, ever let us lack any good or needful thing? From all this we see that the relationship of man to God is that of beloved child, the idea of divine Principle, the representative or radiation of Life, Truth, and Love. This higher sense of the nature and character of man as scientifically understood is demonstrated when by it the sick are healed.

It is sometimes asked how we dare to claim spiritual perfection for man when on every side there are evidences that he is both sick and sinful. The answer is that we do not claim this for a mortal. This distinction is made so clearly and convincingly by Christ Jesus in his conversation with Nicodemus that it is worth while to consider that story. When the ruler of the Jews came to him and questioned him, Jesus said that to see the kingdom a man must be born again, or as the exact translation has it, "be born from above." "That which is born of the flesh is flesh," he continued, "and that which is born of the Spirit is spirit." One may say, "But that is beyond all argument and beyond all doubting, because it is an inward conviction of that which is. Its first fruit is joy, and with it comes always a lessening of the trust in materiality. The mortal has begun in however small a degree to withdraw. That which is born from above has nothing of the human about it. Being spiritual only, it is indestructible."

Is there any experience equal in importance and desirability to this new birth? Without it we have only the letter, therefore without it heaven is not opened. With it the divine possibilities begin to unfold and even our human experience is bathed in a new and fairer light. If that light sometimes does not seem to last it is only because a further rebirth is necessary, for as Mrs. Eddy tells us, the new birth goes on continually until we reach eternity. Commenting upon his own words Jesus said: "The wind bloweth where it listeth, and thou hearest the sound thereof, but canst not tell whence it cometh, and whither it goeth: so is every one that is born of the Spirit." How true that is! Caiaphas had a high position but he had not been born again of the Spirit. The woman of Samaria had and so had the Roman centurion. Truly we cannot tell of the Spirit whence it cometh or whither it goeth.

How do we gain the new birth? Nicodemus laid down prejudice and was ready to learn and to inquire from one who had less authority and learning than himself. And it was night when he came to Jesus. If it is night with you, be of good cheer, for that is the moment when the mortal is most ready to yield and when the idea of beauty and glory which is your true selfhood is most likely to appear. It is this man "born of the Spirit" which Christian Science claims for each of us as perfect and spiritual and demonstrable. The maintaining of this truth about man brings the spiritual idea into view and results in healing.

Christian Science being Science also defines for us the nature of the Christ and defines it as Truth, as Saviour, as "The divine manifestation of God, which comes to the flesh to destroy incarnate error" (Science and Health, p. 533). This divine Christ was the spiritual selfhood of the man Jesus and was expressed by him in his mighty words. Christian Scientists have sometimes been accused of not according to Christ Jesus the honor and reverence of other Christian denominations. But this is a misapprehension of the doctrine of Christian Science. The greatest honor we can accord another is to follow and obey him. Jesus himself said, "If ye love me, keep my commandments." This Christian Scientists are endeavoring to do even to the extent of obeying his command to heal the sick. It may be said of all true Scientists that they adore the Christ. What does this mean or involve? It means to adore the qualities of the Christ, whose nature is perfection. How are these qualities expressed in human experience? The man who manifested them supremely, Christ Jesus, manifested a dominion or power which was God-like. In one of her books (Retrospection and Introspection, p. 91) Mrs. Eddy mentions three other qualities of the Master which she says "wrought infinite results." They are "humility, unworidliness, and self-abandonment." The first is humility—the rarest of all qualities, the one most unlike mortal selfishness. Here it may be argued that humility is merely a human attribute. But what are the effects of true humility? It is closely associated with peace, for it has abandoned the striving to be praised of men, the effort for aggrandizement. The desire for prestige is common to us all. It takes different forms in different circumstances according to our different walks of life, but it is foreign to humility, and is never Godlike. God needs no prestige. He does not desire the applause of men. All there is to be He is. All there is to have He has. This statement is true, therefore, of man in His exact image, and for that reason man manifests the meekness of reflection. To desire human prestige is to be ignorant of our divine prestige, the majesty of our being. The second characteristic is unworidliness. Many of us will say at once that we are not worldly, which may be true in the narrower meaning of that word, but it implies more than may appear on the surface. Worldliness does not consist merely of the temptations of society or of wealth. We are worldly when the things of this world interest us more than the things belonging to the world of Spirit. Let us cultivate unworidliness. The third quality mentioned is self-abandonment—the abandonment of the mortal for the immortal, the most joyful and blissful undertaking that can be experienced. Those moments which come to most of us when we have forgotten self in some vision of the wonder and the beauty of the truth are the most satisfying, divinely satisfying, that we can know. We would never upon the mortal, we shall take the immortal. It may take a sharp experience to loosen our hold of mortal selfishness. Progress consists of the attaining of divine concepts until at last the glory of the one ultimate idea or divinity bursts upon us. Then we are satisfied with His likeness. It is probably a question with some of us as to whether we are actually adoring humility, unworidliness, and self-abandonment. That which we adore we emulate.

One Christmas Eve, I remember that I was listening to carols sung by waits and trained choirs who were assembled to celebrate the festival, and crowds were gathered to listen and join in the chorus of the beautiful "Adeste Fideles," which is "O come let us adore him, Christ the Lord." As I listened I suddenly wondered how much meaning there was in the singing. International strife was acute at the time. The greed for gold and for possession was much to the front, and yet everyone was professing adoration of the Christ Child. The title given to him was Prince of Peace, and the salient characteristics of the Bethlehem babe were most certainly meekness, harmlessness, and simplicity. Indeed, looking upon the beautiful picture of the babe lying in the manger, one might say that "the harmlessness of being" was expressed.

This brings to mind some words of the Master that have been little commented upon, and surely little practiced. They are these: "Except ye . . . become as little children, ye shall not enter into the kingdom of heaven." Further, "Whosoever shall receive this child in my name receiveth me; and whosoever shall receive me receiveth him that sent me." What remarkable words and what a new light they throw on the nature of God and His Christ! It is worth while pausing to consider the inner meaning of these words. The thought of innocence is always associated with a little child, and the true nature of innocence is not ignorance but rather the unconsciousness of evil. It is defined in the dictionary as "the condition of being free from evil, from that which corrupts or vitiates." On page 585 of the Christian Science textbook the definition of the river "Euphrates" is given in part as follows: "The atmosphere of human belief before it accepts sin, sickness, or death; a state of mortal thought, the only error of which is limitation." Is this perhaps a reference to the child-thought of which the Master speaks? What is the reason of the spontaneous joyousness of the little child? Why does it skip as it walks, laugh and shout with that gaiety which has none of the pose that adults manifest when they try to copy it? The reason is because it is not weighted down by the belief in evil, the consciousness of discord and sin and sickness which makes the steps of the adult slow and heavy. Now we begin to see why Jesus said we must become as little children to enter the kingdom. We must lose the belief in evil, our dream-consciousness of wickedness and suffering—not by ignoring them, but by overcoming them. And Christian Science shows us how to do this, because it teaches us the unreality of evil, that it is not real, that it is a false belief, that it is a dream. It says, from the standpoint of reality as divine and eternal, which involves the denial of sense testimony. In so doing it bestows on those who accept it a joy and lightheartedness undreamed of before. It lifts the weight, it lightens the burden, it says to the captive, "Go free."

Let me emphasize here that this Science being Christian and compassionate does not teach us to heartlessly ignore suffering in any form, but on the contrary to go to the suffering ones and fix our gaze on the divine perfection that we have in ourselves through prayer and faith and understanding of the power of God to heal and to transform. You remember how Jesus did this. He was so certain that God would hear his prayer that he said, "Father, I thank thee that thou hast heard me," even before he told Lazarus to come forth.

Again, the little child is impartial and free from prejudice and never afraid of the future. Of course it will have all it needs tomorrow and the next day and the day after, because its father and mother will take care of it. It does not pause to worry or be anxious. How like the consciousness of the man who said, "Take . . . no thought for the morrow," "for your heavenly Father knoweth that ye have need of all these things." Do we despair of attaining this state of trustfulness and innocence? We need not do so, for in the heart of each one of us is the little child. No matter how weary or wicked we may seem, the child is there, hidden perhaps by the mists of error, but waiting to be uncovered by the sunlight of Truth. As that Truth penetrates our consciousness, all that is young and glad and unselfed by the world springs forth again, and we begin to become as a little child.

In order to demonstrate the Christ qualities we have been considering and in order to find our true childhood with which to enter the kingdom, we need the understanding of prayer. Through prayer we learn at first hand, so to speak, more of the facts of being. The Christian Science textbook gives us many stages of approach to the divine facts. Because we are dealing with an exact Science these stages and the nature and function of prayer are scientifically defined. The first simple definition given us is (p. 1), "Desire is prayer." The strong desire, the fervent petition, is a form of prayer never to be despised. Let no one think such prayer is unscientific. It is the appeal of the child-thought to the great Father, the great Mother, of us all. The Master used it in his deepest hour of trial, and again when he said, "Holy Father, keep through thine own name those whom thou hast given me." A second higher form of prayer is given us in the textbook (p. 14) when it is said of Jesus that his prayers were "prayers of Truth" or affirmation. This form of prayer is much used by Christian Scientists. They affirm the facts of being, the present power and availability of good. But the highest form of prayer, the textbook tells us, is demonstration. Now demonstration is primarily the result of communion, or the consciousness of our oneness with the divine. It is said of Moses that he talked with God "as a man speaketh unto his friend." God talked also to Abraham, to David, and even to Solomon. Jesus conversed with his Father constantly, and God's answer to His beloved Son was actually heard on one occasion by the bystanders. To their ignorant sense, however, it seemed to be thunder. Jesus, you remember, had said, "Father, glorify thy name," and then came a voice from heaven saying, "I have both glorified it and will glorify it again." Then the people that stood by heard it, but they said that it thundered.

Let us talk to God with our thoughts. Let us, as the Psalmist did, "commune with [our] own heart . . . and be still." Only when we have stilled the restless turmoil of mortal thinking can there be communion. A vivid word picture of how this is achieved is given us in Mark's Gospel, "And in the morning, rising up a great while before day, he went out, and departed unto a solitary place, and there prayed." First there was the arising, lifting thought on high, and this was done early, a great while before day, while consciousness seemed dull, and there was no spiritual light, which is what day stands for. So, rising out of that belief of gloom, he departed into a "solitary place"—a place far from the clamor of mortal thought, away from the insistent demands of friends and patients and disciples, a place where he would be undisturbed, solitary, alone, for the true meaning and derivation of the word "alone" is all-one—one with God. Then it was, in such an environment, that he prayed.

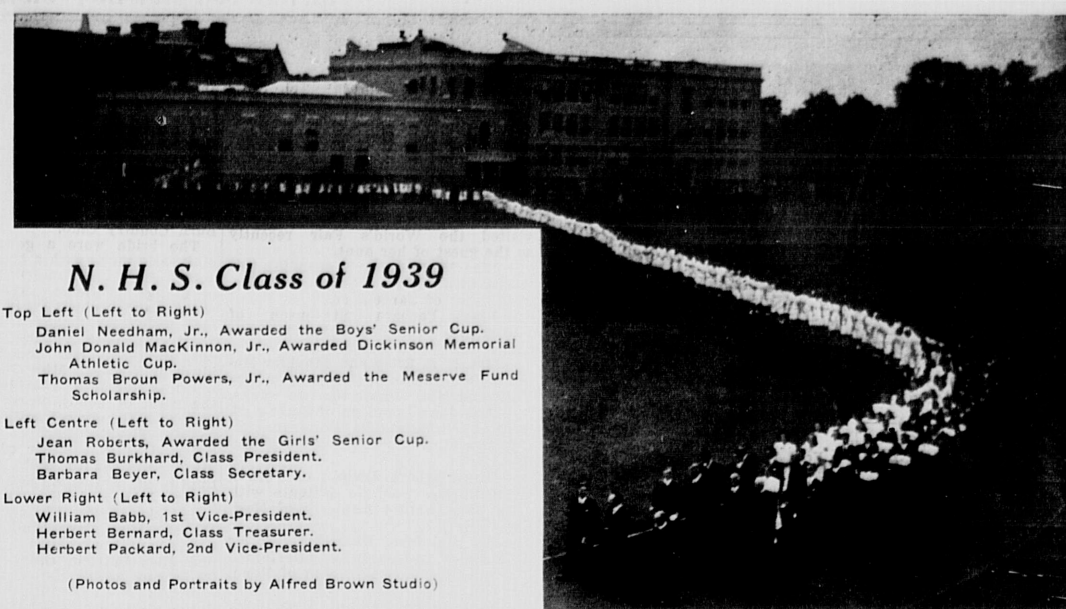

Now, it may be asked, How are these truths about the nature of God, of Christ, and of prayer applied to the healing of the sick in Christian Science? In other words, how is the healing accomplished? It is by gaining the Mind that was in Christ Jesus, or the divine consciousness. As we claim that Mind it changes our thinking, and thought takes on its natural, original purity and intelligence. The divine consciousness is not cognizant of sin, sickness, and death. God saw and sees His universe as very good. Lifting our consciousness to look out with God upon our universe, we see it as He sees it; and to see as God sees, we know as God knows, is to gain healing. This is the key to it, to avail ourselves of the divine Mind and power. A change of concept means a change of experience. Truly that which we conceive we bring forth. To conceive rightly is to bring forth rightly. To conceive spiritually brings spiritual consequences. If someone comes to be healed of sickness, his concept of himself as sick needs to be changed, to be lifted, and this may be done by the practitioner then needs to be careful not to accept the patient's false concept but to reject the sense testimony and accept God's concept of man, for God conceives man in the nature and character of Himself. "That which is born of the Spirit is spirit," said Jesus, and there can be no disease in infinite omnipresent Spirit. God is conscious of each one of His ideas all the time, and this may be said to constitute their preservation and perfection. Therefore we may say that God is conscious of us always as we are, for God is everlastingly conscious of His creation. As we recognize this fact it offsets the results of false beliefs and induces or confers healing.

Here let a word be said as to the mistake of trying to mix methods, or to give Christian Science treatment and the treatment of materia medica at the same time. We yield to one in our appreciation of the selfless toil and sacrifice of the best sort of physicians, but their standpoint is entirely material and ours is entirely spiritual. When two people are walking in opposite directions they do not meet. To try to mingle these methods means, generally speaking, success for neither and leads to much misunderstanding.

Now, in healing the sick, Christian Science teaches that all error is impersonal, and this at first may seem hard to understand, but as we recognize it, it enables us better to overcome it. I once had an experience which showed me this very plainly. I had just started in the practice of Christian Science in London when one morning I woke with a sense of great depression. Nothing seemed worth while, and I turned to the Christian Science textbook for help, but what I read seemed merely words. That morning I had to go early to my office, and I remember feeling that I was not fit to help my patients, but still I had to go. The first person who came in was a lady who told me

The center of these activities for Massachusetts during the summer is the Vineyard Haven Sailing Camp at Martha's Vineyard.

Mrs. Arthur T. Soule of Waban is chairman of the Local Council Mariner committee; and the two ships, Challenger of Newton Village, and Nantucket of Auburndale, are led respectively by Mrs. James B. Melcher and Mrs. L. W. Chandler.

Christian Science Lecture

she had never felt so depressed in her life, indeed life didn't seem worth living, and so on. I had to declare the truth to her, and in so doing I felt better myself. The next patient was a business man who said he was in the very depths of depression, everything seemed dark and hopeless, with more of a similar nature. To cut a long story short, I saw about six people that morning and five out of the six told me exactly the same story. When the last one started I burst out laughing. "You must excuse me," I said, "but I have heard this same story five times running this morning, and so I can assure you that it is not your depression." I have always remembered that lesson. Today the nations are swept by waves of fear, depression, and anxiety, and people not understanding the impersonal nature of these suggestions think it is their fear, their depression, their own personal problem, when it is nothing of the sort. As we see that the error is impersonal, reject its suggestions, and lift our concept of the universe to approach that which God saw as very good, we shall not only help ourselves but the whole world as well.

Here it may be asked, Can we in a measure help and heal the conditions of unrest and conflict and turmoil that are all about us today? Does spiritual understanding help here? It would be hard to say what else is sufficient for these things. What is the reason of the present state of the world? I am convinced that fear and suspicion are at the bottom of it all. Now in healing sickness we saw it was necessary to change the false concept for a higher, truer conception of man as God made him. The same thing needs to be done here. There is a place in the book of Exodus where Moses is told by God to make beautiful garments for Aaron, his brother, garments "for glory and for beauty." Let us make beautiful garments for the nations, our brothers. Let us clothe them with garments of trust and good will, of honesty and confidence. If in so doing we find ourselves thinking better of a nation than it deserves, or than we think it deserves, that need not trouble us greatly, for that will in itself make it easier for such a nation to become worthy of our confidence. It is only our own poor sight, our material vision, that sees men and nations as wicked and unworthy. God does not see them so. Our need is to improve our own concept of them.

Let us dwell on the thought of peace, a divine fact which can therefore be realized in human experience. To do this we must have peace in our hearts, and that in turn means the elimination of fear and suspicion. You cannot separate peace from the good will to men which goes before and after it. The first message—the salutation—of the risen Christ to his followers each time he met them was "Peace!" They were gathered together in a little upper room, with shut doors, for fear of the Jews. Frightened and bewildered they hardly dared to hope, when suddenly they were aware of a presence in their midst and these were the words that greeted them, "Peace be unto you." The resurrected thought of Jesus, so close to heaven, so conscious of the divine reality, evidently discerned the greatest need of humanity, and the first effect of divinity, to be peace. This word "peace" comes from an old Latin word meaning to make an agreement. Jesus was aware of the perfect agreement between God and man in His image, and the power resulting from this awareness spoke and it was done. The waves of the sea were stilled when he spoke to them, and the turbulent waves of human consciousness were likewise stilled. As consciousness rises to the Master's concept of perfect God and perfect man we too shall be able to say to the tumult, "Peace, be still."

From the human standpoint, when an agreement is made there must be give and take. Each must yield something of his point of view. To stand upon one's rights, refusing to yield an inch in any direction, accomplishes nothing. Therefore the practice of the royal law, "Give, and it shall be given unto you," enters largely into the noble work of peacemaking. This work can only be done effectively, however, by those who are individually practicing peace in their daily lives. The book of Revelation tells us that in the midst of the throne of power is the lamb. That consciousness which is innocent of guile, of resentment, and of greed is the consciousness of the true peacemaker.

The understanding of Christian Science can also be applied to the problem of lack or unemployment, to what is termed the pressing problem of earning a living. Here thought must be lifted from the limited, finite concept of things to the realm of the infinite and self-existent, therefore he simply has to be. As we realize this, it manifests itself humanly in what is termed "a living."

Man then, in reality, has not got to earn. He simply has to be, to be what he is, and this being includes all that is needed for a "living." Fundamentally from the human standpoint earning a living simply means being active, and active being is the nature of man. What, then, if error should say, "You can't be active; there is no work for you?" Such a lie could obtain only on the material plane of thought. From the metaphysical standpoint the scope of man's activity is immense and perpetual, and is in fact infinite, for it is to express the infinite individuality. This is his tremendous and satisfying employment. Anyone pondering and realizing this would be bound to find work, for to express the infinite means to express love, to be helpful, therefore to meet love, to be recompensed. It means to express intelligence, and therefore to be needed, to be in request. Since everything is thought, the only real activity is thinking, and no one can be stopped thinking. To think rightly and actively is to be employed and must result in right human employment. Consequently no one need be unemployed.

Supply consists of ideas. Even from the human standpoint this is true. Everything really is an exchange of labor, of value, or an exchange of ideas. Now there is never an idle idea, never a useless idea. In the universe of Spirit the perpetual unfoldment or interchange of ideas goes on spontaneously. "In God's creation ideas become productive, obedient to Mind." Science and Health tells us (p. 544). This is what we need to remember, to affirm, and to understand in order to make a business prosperous or to obtain needful supply. It must be borne in mind that there is never a shortage of ideas, they are infinite and limitless and belong equally to each of us. It is our attitude towards these ideas that matters. We need to appreciate their value. Let us suppose that a man has a shop and wants to make it a success. What is he dealing with primarily? Not things, but human thoughts. Translating things into thoughts, he needs to see how valuable and desirable are his wares. The ideas of willing service, of honesty, of efficiency, and graciousness are amongst those he has to offer, and everyone wants these and values them, and is glad to remunerate the individuals expressing them. Even the butter and eggs or the boots and shoes he may sell express thoughts of usefulness or nourishment, and so on.

Again let us see that there is no relation between money and needs. It is divine Mind that supplies all our needs. Here a distinction must be made between wants and needs. You might want to buy a large property or to take a world tour, but that would be a want, not a need. Everything you need you can legitimately claim and appropriate from the divine affluence without counting your money. If you say, "If I buy this now which I need I may not have enough to get to and so later which I also need," you are limiting yourself, and looking not to Mind but to money to supply you. Remember that the pounds, shillings, and pence are but the symbol of the infinite supply that is behind them. The widow's cruse never ran dry, and in the same way, the funds will never fail you if you look to the infinite Mind to supply them.

Lack is mesmeric in its tendencies, therefore it must be broken by iterating and reiterating the truth. The truth it is most essential to perceive in this connection is that of man's unity with his divine source. Lack presupposes separation from God. Maintain your uninterrupted unity with the inexhaustible source of all good, your oneness with the productive, sustaining, divine Principle of being, and you will prove its redemptive operation in human experience. In the last analysis, my friends, this thought of oneness with the divine, will be found to be the solution of all our problems. "I and my Father are one," said the Master, and he further prayed "That they all may be one . . . even as we are one." To be one with God means to be comforted, to be protected, to be empowered, and to be supplied at all points and at all times. It means the satisfying of all our desires, for God includes all, and so there can be nothing left to desire. Maintain this oneness, for it is God's free gift to man; and in the measure that you grasp it, you will find it to be the transformer of experience. Faber, who wrote so many well-known hymns, has expressed this thought in the following words:

"To think of Him as by our side
Is almost as untrue
As to remove His throne beyond
Those skies of starry blue.
So all the while I thought myself
Homeless, forlorn, and weary, Missing my joy—I walked the earth Myself God's sanctuary."

Adding to our list of dogs that lived to a ripe old age is one owned by a woman in Wilkes-Barre, Pa. Dr. Emory Lutes of that city reports that the woman recently brought to him a 26-year-old dog and asked that her pet be humanely put to sleep. Proof of the dog's exceptional longevity lay in the fact that, when a puppy, it was bought for a baby who grew up to be the 26-year-old woman who brought the animal to Dr. Lutes. As the dog had grown up with her, there is little doubt that its age was authentic.

A man in Fort Erie, Ont., Canada, had a misunderstanding with his neighbor. Attempting to avenge an imaginary wrong, he haled his neighbor to court on the charge of keeping a mischievous dog, claiming that the dog chased passing automobiles at which he barked. The judge cited the old ruling that a dog, that chases and barks at horse-drawn vehicles is a mischievous animal but found that an automobile, though powered by an engine sometimes rated in horse-power, is not a horse-drawn vehicle; therefore a dog which chases automobiles is not a mischievous animal.

Aldermen Confirm Haughey As Street Commissioner

John D. Haughey of 321 Lake ave., Newton Highlands, who was recently appointed Street Commissioner by Mayor Childs, was confirmed by the Board of Aldermen last Monday night. Although it is understood that a few of the Aldermen opposed the confirmation in a conference held as a committee of the whole, because they thought the position should have been given to Charles J. McCarthy, all twenty of the Aldermen present at the open meeting, voted to confirm the appointment of Mr. Haughey.

The new street commissioner, who has been acting commissioner for the past couple of months, was born at Indianapolis, Indiana 54 years ago and graduated from Princeton University in 1908 with the degree C.E. Following his graduation he worked on land and water projects in Idaho for several years, and from 1914 to 1917 was employed by the Du Pont Powder Company of Delaware on construction projects in Oklahoma and Delaware. From 1917 until 1919 he was in the United States Army and served overseas as a captain in the 56th Pioneer Infantry. From 1919 until 1926 he was employed by the Monroe Calculating Machine Company of New Jersey, and from 1926 until 1930 he was associated with Fairchild Aerial Surveys and "Skyways," a flying service and instruction company in Boston. From 1932 until 1938 Mr. Haughey was with the WPA in Newton and served for four years as project engineer. He has resided in this city since 1922.

"Competence Is Economy" McKay Says in Salary Debate

Board Votes To Raise Pay of Health Officer $1000 Yearly

Following an extended debate after midnight, last Tuesday morning, the Newton Board of Aldermen established a precedent by voting, on recommendation of Mayor Childs, a salary increase to a department head after it had been sidetracked in the budget recommendations. The Board of Health and the Mayor recommended in their budget figures an increase of $1000 salary for Choje, and it was understood that a majority of the Finance Committee of the Aldermen agreed. But, on the day of the meeting when the Aldermen were to act on the budget recommendations, they received a communication from the Mayor stating that the budget item recommending the salary increase for the Health Officer was an error.

At the meeting on Monday night (or Tuesday morning) Alderman McKay, chairman of the Finance Committee, urged the salary increase for Dr. Choje. He read the following prepared statement—

In December 1938 a member of the Board of Health was delegated to discuss informally with the Finance Committee the subject of an increase in the salary of the Health Officer for the year 1939. It was first taken up with me as chairman. The proposal seemed reasonable and the representative was invited to present it personally to the Finance Committee. A majority was favorably disposed.

In January the question was brought to us again as Dr. Choje had received three definite invitations to much larger salaries, one of which required a prompt answer. The full Board of Health was invited to meet with the Board of Aldermen and a thorough discussion was held. An informal vote pledged a majority of the Board to approve an increase of $1,000 when submitted by the mayor as a recommendation. It is my understanding that His Honor was agreeable, and consequently Dr. Choje declined the invitation.

In due course we received the budget and you will recall that it contained such recommendation, both by the department and the mayor. Shortly thereafter the mayor's recommendation was withdrawn. We assumed it was merely a temporary withdrawal and, therefore, have been expect-

Plan Ordinance to Stop Thumbing

Alderman Max Gaddis, chairman of the traffic committee of the Board of Aldermen proposes to present a motion to the Board asking for the passage of an ordinance prohibiting the "thumbing" of automobile rides in this city. City Solicitor Bartlett has been requested to draw up such an ordinance, and Chief of Police Hughes is in favor of the proposed restriction on "thumbing." Despite repeated efforts by the faculty of Newton High School and the students' organization of the school, some high school boys still persist in "thumbing," and the beggars of rides also include many other youths and boys of this city.

ing its reappearance on each subsequent docket. You recall that on June 5th a recommendation for $500 came to us and was held in committee. We have no official information why the reduction was made.

To the extent that we are permitted by law to keep faith with our word we recommend approval of this increase, interpreting it as applicable to the last six months of this year and thereby establishing it as a per annum increase of $1,000.

All of you have presumably examined the report of the Health Department, and you are familiar with its excellent administration. In some fields compensation may properly be fixed, and those performing more or less similar duties may be regimented under similar salaries. But the

Testimonial To Kenelm Winslow

Kenelm Winslow, principal of the Stearns School at Nonantum for the past 31 years, and who is retiring because of having reached the age limit, will be tendered a testimonial tonight in the hall at that school. A committee of his former pupils and Nonantum residents met last Friday evening and organized to make plans for the testimonial. Dennis Shea was chosen chairman, John Blakely, Jr. and William Quinn, vice-chairmen. Others on the committee include William Jasset, John W. Murphy, Capt. Nicholas Veducchio, Aldermen Edward Fahey, Capt. Henry Seaver, Mrs. Ragna Hovgaard, Miss Lillian Schwartz, J. Edward Theriault, Joseph Masse, Walter Sears and John Dacey.

Rubbish and Ashes To Be Collected Every Other Week

Starting next month the Newton Street department will collect rubbish and ashes from residences in all wards of this city once every two weeks, instead of once each week as in the past. According to announcements distributed by employees of the department this curtailment of service will be only for the months of July and August, and the weekly collection of ashes and rubbish will be resumed in September. The curtailment of service during the two summer months is in the interest of economy, because many residents of the city are away during July and August, because little coal is burned during that period, and because it is believed that householders in the city will not be inconvenienced.

Collections from stores and business blocks will continue as in the past, which has been about every day. In connection with the collection of commercial rubbish from stores and other business places, 90 per cent of

Start Campaign To Kill Ragweed

The Conservation of Natural Resources Committee of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs warns you that now is the time to start destroying Ragweed, the pesky weed that is such a menace to health and happiness. July is the month to pull it up—by the roots.

With the co-operation of Mayor Childs, the superintendent of public schools, the playground director, the forestry and street departments, the girl scouts and boy scouts, and through the publicity of our press and motion picture houses we hope to impress on every citizen of Newton that this is a job for everyone. As this weed must be pulled up by July 15 to get most lasting results, the week of July 10 has been named "Ragweed Week," at which time Mayor Childs assures us that extra city trucks will be available for rubbish disposal.

Wherever you see Ragweed growing along roadsides or in vacant lots pull it up—being sure to get all the roots—or notify the chairman of Conservation of Natural Resources, Mrs. Gordon S. Heath, 69 Dickerman rd., Newton Highlands, who will see that it is destroyed.

Aldermen Take Charge Of Soldier's Relief; Law Outlines Board's Powers

Chairman Colby Offers Motion Appointing Five- Man Committee To Administer Disburse- ments; Board Unanimously in Favor

Following a long session in closed meeting as a committee of the whole on Monday night, it was announced when the Board resumed its open meeting that hereafter control of the Soldiers' Relief Department of Newton will be vested in the Board of Aldermen instead of in the Mayor, as it has been since this department was instituted 8 years ago. A few months ago this department was the object of an attack by Alderman Frank McCabe. McCabe alleged that an investigator serving in this department, whom he characterized as a "stooge" of the Mayor, had treated some recipients of Soldiers' Relief unfairly, and had, himself, been paid a large amount of money through this department. As a result of McCabe's charges, the Board of Aldermen appointed a special committee to investigate the department. On Monday night, Alderman Colby, chairman of the special committee, reported that as a result of the committee's study of State statutes pertaining to soldiers' relief, it had been found that it is the Board of Aldermen which is supposed to control such relief. Colby said:

"Having been advised by the city solicitor that, under the statutes of the Commonwealth, the Board of Aldermen has the authority to determine the manner in which state aid, military aid and soldiers' relief shall be disbursed, and the amounts of soldiers' relief to be disbursed, under the direction of the soldiers' relief agent, and believing that the active exercise of the authority of this board in this matter is in the interest of the city, I offer the following motion." Colby stated:

"Article IV of the Rules and Orders of the Board of Aldermen is hereby amended by inserting after Section 14 the following new section, Section 15.

"Section 15. State aid, military aid and soldiers' relief granted under Chapter 115 of the General Laws shall be disbursed under the direction of the soldiers' relief agent, provided, however, that such aid or relief shall be granted only to such persons, at such places, and, as to soldiers' relief, in such amounts as the Board of Aldermen acting through a select committee of five to be appointed by the president of the Board of Aldermen shall direct."

The motion was unanimously passed by the Board and President Floyd appointed on the committee the following members who have been serving on the special committee which was appointed to investigate the Soldiers' Relief Department. It is composed of Aldermen Colby, Hoffman, Hughes, Lockwood and Schipper. Before the Soldiers' Relief Department was established in this city at the behest of veterans organizations, the distribution of such relief was in charge of City Clerk Grant. The

Charged With Drunken Driving

George Hansen, 30, of 99 Central st., Auburndale, was arrested early last Saturday morning by Patrolmen Barr and Lynch on charges of driving while under the influence of liquor, and drunkenness. Two men passengers in the car he was driving were arrested for drunkenness. Hansen was arraigned in the Newton court on Saturday and his case continued until July 5.

Upper Falls Garden Club Holds Outdoor Garden Party

The members of the Newton Upper Falls Garden Club were the guests of their president, Miss A. Gertrude Osborne on Sunday, June 18, from 6 to 8 p. m. The members met at 3:30 p. m. for a walking tour of the flower gardens of some of the members. A picnic supper, cooked over an outdoor fireplace, was enjoyed at 6:30 p. m.

A short business meeting was held with the president, Miss A. Gertrude Osborne presiding. Miss Nellie M. Osborne thanked the club for the gift of money for flowers for the soldiers for Decoration Day. Miss Osborne reported 240 bouquets made at Upper Falls. The May meeting was held in the Garden at Miss Osborne's on May 27th instead of at Camp May Day as planned. The president presided at a gift of money for the soldiers' bouquets. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

—Salary Increase

more technical and executive positions cannot be so indexed. Just any doctor appointed at random cannot accomplish what Dr. Chope is doing. There may be criticism of increasing a salary in these days of enforced economy. The answer is that competence is an economy. This department cannot be measured by dollars alone. The life and health of 70,000 people are in its hands. The department's budget is slightly over $70,000. But there are also substantial expenditures made in our behalf by Harvard University and the Rockefeller Foundation which do not appear in our tax bills.

The worth of men and of commodities is determined by markets. General unemployment today makes it a "buyers market" for the most part as regards men. Here we have an exception. Competitive bidding has raised the price of one man's services. The majority of the committee and of the board feel it is worth the price.

Now this may seem to establish a precedent. Others may report offers of higher salaries. So I suggest that we alternate hereafter and decline the next request. That may serve to delay the rush.

Alderman McCabe said that while he agreed that Chope has been doing excellent work as head of the Health Department, this is no time to raise salaries. He called attention to the number of Newton property owners who have been unable to pay their taxes, and to the policy adopted by the Aldermen when voting on the budget recommendations a few months ago, when they refused to approve salary increases for any city employee receiving more than $1000 yearly. McCabe also called attention to the efficient service given for many years by Dr. Chope's predecessor, the late Dr. Francis Curtis, who received only $2500 annually.

Alderman Temperley told of the large increase in the cost of the Newton Health Department in recent years, and said the benefits accruing to the city are not commensurate with this increased cost. Aldermen Fahey and Barwise stated that they had voted against an increase for Chope when this matter was discussed in committee last December, and so could not be accused of breaking faith, as suggested by Aldermen McKay, Walker and Floyd. Alderman Tiffin called attention to the stand taken by the Board of Aldermen a couple of months ago in refusing to grant salary increases to any city employees receiving over $1000, and to the Board's alleged efforts to affect economies. Alderman Hoffman, who was the leading advocate of economy when the budget was being discussed this year, and even favored reductions in the salaries of school teachers, favored the increase of Chope. Hoffman stated that while he usually is for economy, he favors applying business principles to the conduct of city government, and he believed Chope should receive the increase as a recognition of outstanding merit.

The aldermen, who voted in favor of the increase were Evers, Ashenden, Hutchinson, Floyd, Bacon, McKay, Walker, Inches, Hoffman, Jamieson, Rawson, Colby and Lockwood. Those voting against the increase were Barwise, Fahey, McCabe, Schipper, Hughes, Tiffin and Temperley. Alderman Gladis was absent.

Although Alderman McKay contended that the appropriation of $500 was to increase Dr. Chope's salary for the balance of this year and thus was on a basis of $1000 yearly, Mayor Childs states that his recommendation was on a basis of a $500 annual increase. City Comptroller White states that unless the Mayor signs an order making the increase retroactive to January 1st, he will consider the increase on a basis of $500 annually, and make payments in accordance.

—Ash Collection

cities in the State make a charge for such collections. Some years ago Newton did not collect all sorts of trash and rubbish from stores, or even from residences, but gradually a list of all descriptions was included in the rubbish to be collected by the street department. City officials are considering making a charge in Newton for the collection of commercial rubbish.

Notices have also been distributed informing residents of Ward 1 that starting Thursday, July 13, ashes and rubbish in that Ward will be collected on Thursdays instead of Saturdays. The regular collection of ashes and rubbish will be made in Ward 1 tomorrow and also on Saturday, July 1. The next collection will be on Thursday, July 13, and following that the collections will be made on Thursdays instead of Saturdays, with collections only once in two weeks during July and August.

The information circular distributed by the Street department also notified people that barrels must be placed on the outer edge of the sidewalk not later than 7 a. m. on the day of collection, and that all burnable materials must be placed in a separate container from the unburnable materials or the collectors will refuse to empty the barrels. Brush will not be taken unless it is neatly tied in bundles not over 4 feet in length, or in containers.

Newton residents should also know that it is forbidden to place ash barrels or rubbish containers on sidewalks on a Sunday, and that trash or ash barrels or containers cannot be left on sidewalks on Sundays.

A reorganization of the street department permits the collection of ashes and rubbish all over the city on 5 days a week instead of 6 days in the past.

Welcome Pastor At Upper Falls

Dr. Hobart F. Goewey and Mrs. Goewey and daughter Elizabeth were extended a welcome to the parish of the First Methodist Church, Newton Upper Falls, on Thursday, June 15, at 8 p. m.

An organ recital was given by Miss Margaret Hartshorn, organist of the church, followed by a reception to the new pastor and family in the chapel. Assisting in receiving were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bates and Mr. Herbert E. Locke and daughter Miss Gertrude Locke. The chapel was decorated with baskets of peonies and gladioli. Mrs. James E. Tully in behalf of the members of the Ladies' Aid Society, of which she is president, presented a beautiful bouquet to Mrs. Goewey expressing the wish for the society of their pleasure in welcoming Mrs. Goewey to her new church home and also that the paragon family will enjoy the fellowship with the members of their new parish. Mr. O. E. Nutter extended words of welcome for the parish and wished Dr. Goewey and family a pleasant ministry in the First Methodist Church.

Refreshments were served by a group of young ladies in the Parish Hall where Mr. John McMaisters rendered several tenor solos during the social hour.

Dr. Hobart F. Goewey is a native of New York State, an honor graduate of Union College, also of Boston University School of Theology. As Jacob Sleeper Fellow of the latter institution he studied for a year in Europe. He has been pastor of churches in Worcester and Northampton and for the past four years at St. James Methodist Church at Stoneham, Mass. He was given the degree of Doctor of Philosophy at Boston University in 1937 for work in Biblical Literature.

He has won recognition as a preacher, having been recently chaplain of the New England Area Council of the Methodist Church and last summer served as evening preacher for the week at the Heddling Camp meeting in New Hampshire. He also has served as a member of the faculty of Epworth League Institutes at Norton Pines, Laurel Park and Lasell.

Dr. Goewey is scheduled as one of the preachers on the summer program of the Durell Preaching Foundation of the New Hampshire Conference at Bethlehem, N. H., in the coming summer. Dr. Goewey succeeds Rev. C. Vaughn Shedd who has been the pastor of the Newton Upper Falls church for over 10½ years.

Costs $15 to Drive On Watertown St.

It cost Charles McBaron of Somerville $15 because he drove on Watertown st. at night when heavy trucking is prohibited on that street. On June 1 Sergeant Bannan of the Newton police saw the large truck enter Watertown st. at West Newton and gave pursuit. McBaron told Bannan that his truck was only 2½ tons in capacity, but the sergeant showed him that the vehicle carried a capacity rating of 9000 pounds. Judge Mayberry in the Newton court on Monday fined McBaron $10 for the traffic violation and $5 for operating without his registration certificate.

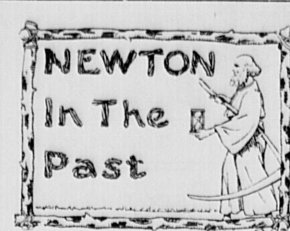

Sea Scout Ship 13, Norumbega Council, B. S. A., recently enjoyed an all day outing as guests of Pequot Council at New London, Conn. The occasion was a gathering of Sea Scouts of New England States, and there were present over 400, some from 250 miles distant.

Ship 13 left Newton soon after 9 o'clock in the morning in command of Skipper Donald McBurney Curtis. The motorcade was chauffeured by members of the Ship Committee. One stop was made at noon outside the city limits of New London for the purpose of enjoying a basket lunch.

Cars were parked at old Fort Trumbull, near United States Coast Guard base, and members of the party were devoted to sight seeing tours of the United States Coast Guard Academy, the United States Lighthouse Service, and the United States Submarine Base. A particularly enjoyable and instructive feature was the inspection of two types of submarines which were docked at the Submarine Base.

The evening meal was served in the mess hall by the Coast Guard after which an entertainment was provided in the gymnasium by Pequot Council and New England Regional Officers. Newton's Ship 13 was recognized for having won Vice Flagship honors of the Region.

55 YEARS AGO

Newton Graphic, June 14, 1884.
The high school graduation exercises will be held on Tuesday, June 24.

The enterprising thermometer at the Newton depot, which always beats the record on heat and cold alike, climbed up to 109 degrees in the shade on Saturday afternoon.

The horse-car from Boston was so heavily loaded last Sunday that passengers on two cars were obliged to get out and walk up the grade on Galen st. A tow horse is much needed at this place.

The trustees of the Newton cemetery have voted to accept John S. Farlow's gift of a mortuary chapel and a conservatory as a memorial to the late Dr. Bigelow.

The gallant young warriors of the High School battalion will hold their third annual prize drill on Saturday afternoon on the beautiful grounds of Ex-Mayor Pulsifer at Auburndale. The drill commences at 2:30 and visitors should take the 1:30 train from Boston.

Michael Enegress, driver for W. H. Brackett, was badly hurt in a runaway accident this noon. The two-horse team he was driving ran away on Franklin st., the wagon knocking down a lamp-post, striking a hydrant, and the driver was hurled to the ground. He was cut on the head and one foot crushed. He was attended by Dr. Utley and taken to his home by Patrolman Henthorn. He is an industrious and sober man and has a wife and five children.

The Eliot Church Sunday School's June festival on Thursday was a success and gave pleasure not only to the young folks, but to the older people. Prof. Bingham gave an exhibition of ventriloquism and magic, there was an exhibition by trained canaries, and excellent music was furnished by a brass band.

The committee of the City Council on the expenditure of the fund recently left to the city by Charles Read, has voted under the provisions of the will to give a basket picnic to children of Newton Corner at Morton's Dell near Bulbough Pond on next Thursday, June 17. Barges will leave Farlow Park at 10 a. m.; a band will provide music and lemonade will be furnished. The children are expected to bring other refreshments and a drinking cup.

Watertown authorities are shamefully neglecting Galen st. Night after night this street from the Newton line to the river is lined with hoodlums, and people who are compelled to walk along the street would be grateful for an occasional glimpse of a Watertown policeman this side of the river.

There was a sharp fight on Boyd st. at the Newton-Watertown line on Monday afternoon which resulted in a thorough defeat for Newton authorities. John Gleason's house now stands on its foundations at North Park st., between Boyd and Morse sts., after having crossed Newton territory in defiance of Newton officials. The house, moved from Galen st., Watertown, had stood on Boyd st. at the Newton line for 4 days, when Gleason was haled into Waltham court late last week and ordered to have the house off the street by Tuesday.

On Monday afternoon a corner lamp-post was taken down and the piazza taken off the house, so that it could be blocked up enough to go over the corner post at Col. Tripp's fence and just squeezed through without moving over the Newton side of Boyd st. Just as the building mover, C. S. Packard of Waltham began operations, E. J. Estabrook of Boyd st. planted a 20 foot pole at the corner of Col. Tripp's lot so that the house could not go over the fence. The movers then decided to move the house over Newton territory and take the consequences. Patrolman Henthorn, who was on guard, sent for City Marshal Hammond, who came with several policemen. Mayor Kimball, Aldermen Cobb and City Solicitor Slocum also arrived shortly after and a large crowd gathered. About 6 o'clock as the house came partly over the Newton line, the police attempted to stop further proceedings. As the workmen placed rollers under the house, Patrolmen Henthorn and Moulton took them out. Finally the foreman, Richard Jones, hit Officer Moulton and an indescribable scene followed. Jones is a powerful man and the police who tried to arrest him were thrown right and left like sticks of wood. He stood one officer on his head, wiped up the dust with another, and then threw both into the gutter. Marshal Hammond got a rap on the nose, but succeeded in subduing Jones with Officer Henthorn's club. Saunders, Jones' brother-in-law, hit the Marshal in the face and was also arrested. Work continued on the Watertown side of the street until the house was almost clear of the line. Monday night a conference was held with Gleason and his counsel and it was agreed that the house would stand where it was until Wednesday. Tuesday morning the movers went to work again, finding that by working under the building, they could keep out of Newton. The marshal and officers stood guard and arrested one man who stepped over the line, but found themselves obliged to stand by and see the house walk away from them. The house was soon on its foundations on the Watertown side. The cases against Packard's men for assaulting the officers will come up in court today.

Powers' Paragraphs

We would have more condemnation for Japan's strong-arm tactics against the British at Tientsin were it not for the fact that England is responsible for Japan's growing domination of China. In 1932 when Japan started its conquest of China by taking Manchuria, England refused to co-operate with the U. S. A. in stopping the Nipponese; and they could and would have been stopped at that time except for Great Britain's refusal. It is also a fact that Japan could not have proceeded with its invasion of China the past two years except for the huge quantity of munitions and war supplies which have been sold to it by Great Britain and the United States.

The Federal Theatre project of the W. P. A. would be sympathetically regarded by more citizens if they did not believe that many men and women (and quite young men and women) who have been recipients of relief payments through this project, never earned a livelihood as actors or actresses, and the wages paid to those in the theatre project are considerably higher than those paid to most persons receiving aid through the WPA.

The efforts of the Women's Clubs of Newton to eradicate ragweed in this city should receive the co-operation of residents of all parts of Newton. This common weed is generally regarded as the principal cause of hay-fever. Fortunately the majority of us are not allergic to ragweed and thus escape the sufferings which are annually borne by victims of hay-fever, but when we observe how many persons have a recurrence of this ailment each summer, we should be glad to assist them by eradicating the ragweed growing in our yards.

The annual nuisance caused by boys exploding firecrackers, caps and torpedoes has commenced. It will continue until July 5th, and will cause added suffering to sick persons, and to people with frayed nerves. It is illegal to sell any of these noise contraptions in Newton until a few days before the Fourth of July. It is illegal to discharge fireworks in this State, except by permission, until July 4th. But, every year inconsiderate parents who have no sympathy for sick persons in their neighborhoods, give money to their children to buy firecrackers or caps, and permit them to explode these noisemakers one or two weeks before July 4th. Eventually, this will result in a state law forbidding the sale or use of fireworks except for public celebrations.

We have been informed by Street Commissioner Haughey that men will be regularly assigned to the work of cutting the grass on the reservation along Commonwealth ave. This will enhance the appearance of Newton's most attractive street. Incidentally, the Board of Aldermen deserve commendation for turning down the petition presented by the Auburndale Co-operative Bank, which sought to have Commonwealth changed from an attractive residential to a business zone at the intersection of Washington st., and which, if granted, would have resulted in the progressive change of this beautiful avenue into a business thoroughfare, with rapid depreciation of real estate values on all streets near the avenue.

And no commendation will be given by most citizens of Newton to men who profess to have the best interests of this city at heart, but who, for the sake of profiting on one parcel of property, would jeopardize the future of hundreds of parcels of real estate by starting the deterioration of Commonwealth ave. It would be bad enough to have any business enterprises intrude on the avenue. It would be worse to have a type of business that would be more active nights than days, that would cater largely to outside as well as local trade, and despite contentions to the contrary, would be of little benefit to other Newton business enterprises. If all of us who have for many years been paying taxes on vacant land, would seek zoning changes so that such land could be placed in a business zone and sold at a good profit, every neighborhood in this city would be in a business zone.

Included in the photographs in this week's GRAPHIC is one of James Burns of Cook st., Nonantum, who has retired after serving faithfully for 42 years as a letter carrier at the Newton postoffice. Mr. Burns, who is a native of Newton, served under Postmasters Edward Ellis and George Morgan before the Newtons became part of the Boston postal district. When he was appointed to the postal service, all of the letter carriers and postoffice clerks in the various postoffices in Newton were residents of this city, and most of them were natives of the city. Today the reverse holds true. Mr. Burns' many friends wish him many years of enjoyable relaxation after his long career of efficient service to the residents of Newton to whom he brought mail.

Another photograph in this issue is that of John Miskella, highway patrolman at Newton Corner. This city has no more faithful employee than Mr. Miskella. Although he serves in a humble capacity, his gentlemanly demeanor, and high sense of honor, make those who know him hold him in higher respect than they do many men who loom more prominently in our social fabric.

A real hero was honored yesterday morning when Fireman Tom Maloney of Allston was awarded a medal by the Mass. Humane Society at the headquarters of the Boston Fire Department at Bristol st., Boston. Maloney is the man who rescued "Bob" Sproat, a former resident of Newton, last April, after the sedan Sproat was driving, was forced off Memorial rd. at Allston and sank in 12 feet of water in the Charles River. The ladder truck from Allston went to the scene, Maloney dove into the icy water, and by his diving skill, courage and strength, succeeded in extricating Sproat from the submerged car and getting him to the shore. By a miracle, Sproat was resuscitated after having been under water 30 minutes. Maloney, a modest, pleasant fellow, well deserves the medal he received.

50 YEARS AGO

Newton Graphic, June 14, 1889

Within a few years that part of Newton Centre lying between Parker st. and Institution Hill was woodland, with large oak and chestnut trees. Two new streets, Glenwood and Ridge aves. have been constructed through it and 13 houses built there within 3 years. It is one of the most elevated sites in Newton Centre and has attracted many families to that village.

Patrick Brennan, an Irishman, 26 years old, who had been in this country just one week, fell down exhausted while shovelling coal at Brackett's coal yard on Tuesday. He was taken to his boarding house on North School st. and died at 4 o'clock. Dr. Hunt said his death was caused by the heat and overwork.

department was instituted at the request of the then Mayor Weeks, and in drawing up rules for the conduct of the department, the City Solicitor specified that it should be under the control of the Mayor. Edward Dungan was appointed director of the department and has since held the office. It is understood that the committee of aldermen will take steps to end the condition where a person who has been the recipient of general relief allotments will also serve in the capacity of an investigator in the department.

The girls marched directly in the rear of the Governor's car, and were personally presented bouquets of beautiful flowers in appreciation of their service.

June 23rd Is Newton Day At Sharon Health Camp

Friday, June 23rd, has been designated as "Newton Day" at the Southern Middlesex Health Camp, Sharon, Mass. Many purchasers of the Christmas Health Seals who are interested in control of tuberculosis have voiced a wish to visit the camp and to see the Newton Cottage erected there last year. As it is not advisable to have groups inspect the camp after the children have been admitted, the date has been set previous to the opening when the fine facilities and the natural lovely surroundings may be seen. The Health Committee of the Family Service Bureau and the Christmas Seal Sale Committee of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs hope that a large group from this city will take advantage of this opportunity to visit the Health Camp, the facilities of which are made available through the sale of seals in Newton. The care of Newton children at this camp is one of several projects promoted and accomplished by this fund.

Costs Waban Man $85 to Break 20 City Lanterns

A. Craig Smith, 36, of 38 Gammons rd., Waban, was fined $50 by Judge Mayberry in the Newton court last Saturday and also ordered to pay $35 to the city for restitution. Sergeant Sullivan testified at about 2 a. m. on June 15 as street department employees were painting traffic lines on Beacon st. and Windsor rd., Waban, a car was driven by four times and each time broke lanterns which had been placed along the streets, until 20 lanterns had been smashed. The city employees gave the police the registration numbers on the automobile, and when Sergeant Sullivan went to Smith's home and the latter admitted that he was the driver of the car. Smith was fined $25 for wanton destruction of property, $25 for leaving the scene of an accident without revealing his identity. The other $35 was to pay for the broken lanterns and the cost of sweeping broken glass off the street.

Four Saved From Drowning In River Near Norumbega

Two men and two women, Boston residents, none of whom could swim, piled into one canoe which they hired at a boathouse near Norumbega Park last Friday evening, and were thrown into a deep part of the river near Norumbega Tower about 8:30. Their cries attracted Wilbur Fitzpatrick of Prospect ave., Waltham, and Edward Paul of Freeman st., Auburndale, who were nearby, and the two young men paddled a canoe to the scene and rescued Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ritchie of Linden st., Boston, and Arthur Alden of Myrtle st., Boston. Marion Sheffield of River st., Waltham, and Estelle Harris of Highland st., Waltham, went out in another canoe and rescued the fourth member of the capsized canoe, Beatrice Clark of Myrtle st., Boston. The canoe to which three of the persons in the river were clinging would have capsized but for the timely arrival of Philip Cox of 121 Cypress st., Newton Centre, who rushed to the scene and pulled the trio into his boat.

Several men who are charged with violations of the liquor laws by allegedly operating an illicit still in Waltham and storing the alcohol made there in a barn on Chestnut st., in the exclusive West Newton hill section were arraigned before the United States Commissioner in Boston on Tuesday before Donato Tucci; his sons, James and Dominic; his son-in-law Lawrence Van Tassel; Samuel Russo, and Richard Jones of Stoneham. Russo was arrested at an unoccupied, old mansion in Waltham on June 19, by Internal Revenue agents who had been watching the place for a few days. The big still was in operation there. The agents then went to the Chestnut st. residence at West Newton, which had been taken over by the Tucis, and found the alcohol stored in the barn at that estate. All of the defendants were released on bail, which was placed at $1000 for Donato and James Tucci, $10,000 for Dominic Tucci, $2000 for Van Tassel, and $1000 for Russo. They will have a hearing on June 27.

Alterations would have to be made in the building which will be abandoned for school purposes this month because of the new school now being erected nearby.

Incendiary Fire In WPA Tool Shed

The ninth incendiary fire in Newton within the past month occurred on Wednesday night when someone set fire to a tool shed at the Cold Spring playground in Newton Highlands. The shed had been used in connection with the WPA project there. Because there is no roadway leading to the shed over which fire apparatus could be driven, the firemen were unable to reach the structure in time to save it, and its remoteness from any hydrant also prevented the stoppage of the blaze.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Christian Science" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, throughout the world, on Sunday, June 25.

The Golden Text is: "Sing, O heavens; and be joyful, O earth; and break forth into singing, O mountains; for the Lord hath comforted his people, and will have mercy upon his afflicted" (Isaiah 49:13).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "And I will pray the Father, and he shall give you another Comforter, that he may abide with you for ever; even the Spirit of truth; whom the world cannot receive, because it seeth him not, neither knoweth him: but ye know him; for he dwelleth with you, and shall be in you" (John 14:16, 17).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The Science of God and man is no more supernatural than is the science of numbers, though departing from the realm of the physical, as the Science of God, Spirit, must, some may deny its right to the name of Science. The Principle of divine metaphysics is God; the practice of divine metaphysics is the utilization of the power of Truth over error; its rules demonstrate its Science" (p. 111).

THE DOCTOR'S HOURS

Rare indeed is the Doctor who can say his working time is confined within certain hours. Office hours may be thus and so, but what with free clinics, Hospital staff service, Hospital calls, operation hours and emergency calls, the Doctor's working day is long and arduous. Even the Doctor with a highly specialized practice is not immune to broken hours of sleep and rest.

Many Autoists
In Newton Court

Jeannette Pellerin, 22, of Benvenue ave., Wellesley, was fined $10 by Judge Mayberry last Friday for speeding. Sergeant Bannion testified that she signalled her on the night of May 31 as she speeded by Jackson road on Washington st., but she did not stop and he had to commandeer a car and pursue her 2 miles to Folton st. at West Newton. He estimated she drove her car from 40 to 52 miles per hour. Sigmund Yurick of Highland ave., Needham was also fined $10 for speeding.

For driving by traffic signals with red lights against them, Alice Crane of Cross street, Wellesley and Anthony Ciccone of Brighton each was fined $5. Harvey Wiley of Simms court, West Newton, was fined $5 for not slowing down at a street intersection.

A similar fine for a similar offence was placed against David Irwin of Lowell avenue, Newtonville, but he did not have to pay it as it was suspended.

For not stopping before entering a through street caused the following to be fined $3 each: Evelyn Berman, Clements rd., Newton; Haskell Sterling, Dorchester, John Swanson, Newton st., Brookline; George Najarian, Brighton.

In court on Monday Judge Mayberry fined Albert Coulter of Worcester $25 for speeding, as it was his second conviction for such an offense within a year, and the fastest driver in the town. Patrolman Halloran testified that Coulter went at a rate of 50 miles on the turnpike. For entering through streets without stopping Chester Webster of Needham and Blair Lamont, Jr., of Lexington were each fined $3, and a like charge against Phyllis Forbes of Westwood was placed on file. Joseph McCarthy of Haverhill was fined $10 for driving without a license.

CADILLAC SALES UP SEVENTY PERCENT

The highest percentage of price class in the history of the company has been scored by the 1939 Cadillacs and LaSalle. President P. E. Frost, of Frost Motors, Inc., Newton, reported this.

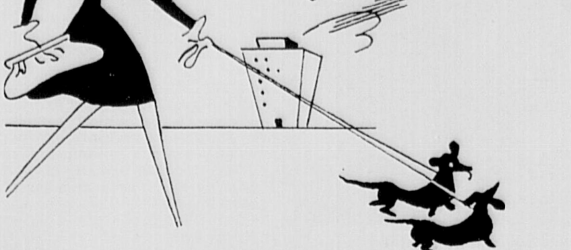

"Based on new car registrations for the first four months of the year for the country—the latest period for which we have complete data," Mr. Frost said, "we sold half of the passenger automobiles in the range of makes with sedans listed above $1300 or as many as all others combined."

"In the ranks of makes with sedans above $2,000, our record of 58.7 percent also set a new high. But it was in the Cadillac Fleetwood range that we believe we established a mark that shatters all precedent for the industry. In this bracket, based at the price of our Fleetwood sedan, Cadillac figured in 75 per cent of all sales."

Mr. Frost's price class percentages were revealed concurrent with a report on May business which showed the month continuing its wide margin over a year ago.

"Total customer deliveries were 3,595 units compared with 2,679 in May of 1938," he said. "The month was further noteworthy through the fact that customer deliveries of 1939 cars passed the total volume for all of the 1938 series."

"Our local sales are running 70 percent higher than those of 1938."

Sea Island Grows
In Popularity

Continually cooled by fresh breezes from the ocean, Sea Island, off Georgia's southern coast is a favorite destination for vacationists combining a coast-wise cruise with a stay at a glamorous semi-tropical resort. Three steamship lines now operate all-expense cruises from New York including varying numbers of days at the beautiful Cloister Hotel, Sea Island. Lazy days may be spent at the beach, riding the breakers in the surf, sunning on the sands, and swimming in the fresh-water pool with variety offered by bike rides on the firm beach, paddle tennis and soft ball games. The deck around the fresh-water pool is also popular with sun-bathers and every day the Cloister orchestra plays a concert there just before luncheon. Buffet service permits swimmers to lunch right on the pool deck in their bathing suits instead of dressing to go in the Cloister dining room when they wish, and at no extra charge. Every Sunday Water Carnivals attract crowds to the pool deck to watch excellent swimming and diving as well as the amusing contests.

For contrast there's golf on the superb Sea Island Club course, where the Georgia State Tournament in late June will attract some of the South's finest golfers for competition. Throughout the summer there will be an interesting round of tournaments there. Tennis on the Cloister courts is also a favored diversion as are fishing, skeet shooting, badminton, and the numerous lawn games.

At fresco evening events are most popular in summer when there's dancing every evening in the Cloister's Palm Patio to the music of Theodore and his Continental Orchestra, which also plays for dinner-dancing earlier in the Cloister dining room. At least once a week this program is varied with dancing on the swimming pool deck.

Dispute As To Who Owns Automobile

Albert Stark of Bigelow st., Brighton, a special policeman at the Woburn Arsenal, and Hazel Carey of Everett, a hairdresser in a Waban beauty shop, will appear in the Newton court next Wednesday to dispute the ownership of an automobile valued at $300. A complaint against Stark, charging him with the larceny of the car, was issued by Judge Mayberry on Tuesday, following a hearing. According to the testimony, Albert and Hazel formerly went together, and Miss Carey stated that Stark made payments on the automobile with money that she gave him, and when the final payment was made he transferred the ownership of the car to her. She testified that on June 12 he came to Waban and borrowed the car from her. Later, he returned the registration plates to her and informed her he intended to keep the car. Inspector Hammel told the judge that he interviewed Stark and the latter had stated that he had paid for the automobile.

Arrest Youth For Incendiary Fire

One of the several incendiary fires which occurred in this city recently was solved by the arrest last Thursday of Lewis Carter, 18, of 19 Woodbine st., Auburndale. The youth was taken into custody by Inspector Burke, who, with Inspector Murphy of the State Fire Marshal's staff, had been investigating the incendiary fire which occurred on June 6 at a barn at 62 Ash st., Auburndale. The building was owned by the Fowle estate and occupied by Lee Porter for the storage of antiques. The damage to the structure and its contents was estimated at about $900. Carter is alleged to have confessed that he poured kerosene on the rear of the barn, then set it afire and went away. He returned about 20 minutes later to find that the blaze had not been discovered. Then he went to Engine 5 station and turned in an alarm. Carter was arraigned in the Newton court last Friday. His case was continued until July 6 and he was sent to the psychopathic hospital for observation.

Serve Needs of Children Home For The Summer

Many parents, whose plans for the summer do not include leaving home, are finding the day camp idea, as expressed in the program and activities of the Brookline Day Camps, an admirable solution to the problem of how their children can most profitably spend the summer.

The comprehensive program of activities similar to that found at the best boarding camps, including all sports—archery, tennis, campcrafts, handicrafts, nature hikes, riding, interesting trips to historical points and beaches, as well as a daily swim under expert instruction—makes for a wholesome, healthy and happy summer.

Folk dancing, dramatics, and other suitable activities for experience.

Both camps are under the direct supervision of Miss W. Leydon, 74 Puritan rd., Newton Highlands, Director of Athletics at River School, where the boys' camp is conducted.

Assistant Director in charge of the activities in the girls' camp, which is conducted at Longwood Day School, is Mrs. John C. Clifton of Wellesley Hills.

R. C. Henry Resigns From Playground Commission

Favored Reorganization Plan; Mayor Not Decided On Successor

Ralph P. Henry of Nonantum st., Newton, a member of the Playground Commission since February 16, 1925, and chairman of that body the past 2 years, has tendered his resignation. In his letter of resignation Mr. Henry stated that the office placed a demand on his time and energy which he cannot longer afford, and that he will have to give this time to his business. Mr. Henry also stated that he quite approves the recent action of the Mayor and Aldermen in reorganizing the playground department, evolving it into a recreation department, and making whoever will be appointed Director of Recreation executive head of the department, thus relegating the commission to an advisory capacity.

Mayor Childs stated that he has not decided on anyone to succeed Mr. Henry. The playgrounds will open on July 5 and will be operated for only 7 weeks and with a reduced personnel as was the case last year. Two causes contribute to the curtailment of the playground season and the reduction in the staff of instructors. One is—the diversion of playground funds for the operation of more community centres. The other is—a lower appropriation for the Playground Department in conformity with the economy (not 100%) program of the Aldermen.

Want Pomroy Home Community House

The Pomroy Home on Hovey st., Newton, established about 55 years ago by Rebecca Pomroy as a home for orphan girls of Newton, will evolve into a community center if the State Legislature passes an act authorizing a change of the home's charter to permit the proposed new use of the place. The home, supported mostly by contributions of Newton people, had facilities to accommodate 17 young girls, but in late years the demand for accommodations there has fallen off, and now there are only 7 girls in the home, as the modern trend is to place orphans in foster homes.

Award Contracts For Tel. Building

The Telephone Company has just announced the awarding of four contracts for the erection of their new building located at the corner of Central ave. and Washington st., Newtonville, according to Manager E. J. Campbell.

There are four contracts involved—the General contract going to John Bowen & Company; the Heating contract to J. W. Praught; the Plumbing contract to Frank T. McDonald Company and the Electrical contract to Connor Electric Company.

It is expected that work will be started in the immediate future inasmuch as the buildings that formerly occupied the site have been demolished by the wrecking contractor. The new building, on its completion, will house equipment serving all Newton customers and it is expected that the work will proceed apace so that telephone operations necessary for the consolidation of all the Newtons may be effected as rapidly as possible.

Bishop Cushing at Newton Centre

Sacred Heart Parish, Newton Centre again has the distinction of having a bishop as its pastor. On Wednesday Cardinal O'Connell announced that he had appointed the new auxiliary bishop of the Boston archdiocese pastor of Sacred Heart parish, to succeed Archbishop Francis J. Spellman who had been transferred to New York. Bishop Cushing was consecrated as Bishop of the Titular See of Meia at impressive ceremonies in Holy Cross Cathedral, Boston yesterday. Most Reverend Richard J. Cushing was born in South Boston 43 years ago, attended Boston College and St. John's Seminary and was ordained a priest 18 years ago. For the past 15 years he has been diocesan director of the Society for the Propagation of the Faith. Archbishop Spellman came from New York to be present yesterday in the cathedral when Bishop Cushing was consecrated.

OWEN MC DOWELL, ASSISTANT TO COACH LOU LITTLE, WAS BEST ATHLETE IN 1934

Will Also Teach as Physical Instructor; Succeeds Coach Ralph Sanborn, Who Requested
Relief From Duties of Past 8 Years

The appointment of a new instructor of physical education and football coach at the Newton High School was announced yesterday by Superintendent of Schools Julius E. Warren. Owen McDowell, former University of Columbia star athlete, will succeed Ralph M. Sanborn who has coached Newton football for the past eight years. Mr. Sanborn requested his release from the duties of coaching football but will continue as an instructor in the physical department and will be assigned to new important responsibilities.

McDowell, familiarly known as "Mac" to his associates, comes to Newton with a fine background as a teacher, player and coach. Born in Dallas, Texas, on Oct. 17, 1911, he was graduated from Sunset High School of that city in 1930. While a student there he earned varsity letters in four sports—in football as an end, in basketball as centre, in baseball as a first baseman, and in track in the high jump, pole vault, and relay. He was captain of both baseball and basketball.

At Columbia he participated in three sports winning letters in football, basketball, and baseball. As a varsity end on the football team he was one of Coach Lou Little's outstanding stars. Playing all but a few minutes of the Rose Bowl game in 1934 he made possible the only touchdown of the game enabling Columbia to top its West coast rival, 7 to 0. In his senior year he was captain of both baseball and basketball and was named to All-Eastern intercollegiate league teams in both sports. In addition to holding a scholastic scholar-

In addition to receiving the degree of A.B. from Columbia he also holds an M.A. degree in Health and Physical Education from Teachers' College (1939) and has practically completed his work for the degree of Doctor of Education in Health, Physical Education, and General Administration.

The new Newton coach stands 6 ft. 2 in., and weighs about 135 pounds. As an assistant to Coach Lou Little, he is an exponent of open football. He will assume his duties at Newton immediately after Labor Day. As usual the Newton squads will report for the allotment of equipment on Wednesday, Sept. 6th. The Newton schedule for the coming season has also been announced with a ten-game list in the offing, due to the lateness of Thanksgiving Day which permits another Saturday game in November. With Fitchburg taking this additional date and Medford being signed to a two-year contract earlier in the month and replacing the former "breather" with one of the Worcester teams, the orange and black faces one of the stiffest assignments in years.

Opening on Sept. 23 with the Cambridge Latin eleven as usual, the locals then go to Arlington. Quincy retains the third spot with Everett being entertained on Oct. 14th. The orange and black then makes three trips away to Brockton, Rindge and Medford. Fitchburg will come to Newton on Armistice Day and Waltham a week later with the team getting its usual twelve-day rest before meeting Brookline in the finale which this year will take place at Brookline.

Sneak Thief Loots House For Sale

A slick sneak thief posing as a prospective customer of the house owned by George E. Harding, 76 Park ave., Newton last Saturday, stole two diamond rings and two gold watches. He came to the house, which is for sale, and was shown through by Mr. Harding. He then asked permission to go through the house again, as he desired to inspect it more closely. Mr. Harding did not stay with him as he made the second tour of the residence, and after he had departed, it was discovered that the jewelry was missing. The police were notified. The thief was about 50 years of age.

Old Pupils Honor Kenelm Winslow

About 250 former pupils of the Stearns School gathered in the hall at that building last Friday night to honor Kenelm Winslow who was retiring as principal of the school after 31 years of service. Dennis Shea was

Mr. Winslow is a native of Brewster, Cape Cod, and after teaching school in Warren for 7 years and Foxboro for a year, came to Newton in 1902 and was in charge of the Hamilton School for 6 years. He was then made principal of the Stearns School. He studied at the Hyannis Normal chairman of the meeting. Before the various speakers paid tribute to Mr. Winslow, an entertainment of songs and dancing was provided by pupils of Jack Murphy.

Mayor Childs told of his long association with Mr. Winslow in connection with the boys and girls of the Nonantum district and he praised the work which Mr. Winslow had done during his long term as head of the Stearns School. He called attention to the fact that Mr. Winslow, a direct descendant of the Pilgrims, had labored among the races more recently settled in this country. Rev. Joseph Robichaud, pastor of St. Jean Evangeliste Church, told of his pleasant associations with Mr. Winslow, and of the latter's courtesy and cooperation. John Blakeney and Alderman Charles Hughes reminisced of their school days as pupils of Mr. Winslow, and Alderman Edward Fahey told of the efforts of the guest of honor in behalf of the people of Nonantum.

Mr. Winslow was presented with a large portrait of himself, which he in turn donated to the school. He was also presented with a purse of money. In responding he expressed his gratitude to his former pupils and friends for honoring him. Referring to Mayor Childs' statement that he is a direct descendant of the Pilgrims, Mr. Winslow commented that while his pupils might have been children of newer immigrants to this country, their ancestors were of races civilized long before the ancestors of the Pilgrims. He referred to the Jews, descended from Abraham; the Italians, whose ancestors were of the Roman race; and the French, whose fore-

Arrested For Drunken Driving

Frederick Winsor, Jr., 39, of 12 Meadowbrook rd., Weston, was arraigned in the Newton court last Friday on charges of drunkenness, driving a car while under the influence of liquor, driving after his license had been revoked, and leaving the scene of an accident without revealing his identity. His case was continued until June 29. Winsor was arrested the preceding night by Patrolman James Jenkins after his car had hit an automobile that was parked on Watertown st., Nonantum. Jenkins commanded the car which was struck and pursued Winsor to the corner of Crafts st. and Linwood ave., Newtonville.

Man Hit By Car At Lower Falls

William Duncan, 30, of 48 Cedar st., Wellesley, was hit late Saturday night by an automobile driven by Waverley Underhill of 703 Moody st., Waltham. The accident occurred opposite 2285 Washington st., Lower Falls. Duncan, who is deaf, received several severe cuts and bruises and was taken to the Newton Hospital. Underhill reported that he sounded the horn on his car as he approached Duncan, but that the latter ran in front of the automobile.

This Is Ragweed--Destroy It!

The menace of Ragweed is well known to all sufferers of hay fever and it is the duty of every citizen of Newton to become acquainted with this weed and destroy it before it blooms and forms pollen. It must be pulled out by the roots, otherwise it will grow again. Highways and vacant lots are very often filled with it and many yards as well. Through the Conservation of Natural Resources Committee of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs, of which Mrs. Edgar P. Hay is president, moving pictures of this menace will be shown at the West Newton play house on July 10, 11, 12, and at the Newton Community Play house on July 13, 14, and 15.

There are two kinds: "A", Big ragweed, which often reaches a height of eight to ten feet, and "B", common ragweed, varying in height from six inches to three feet. The clusters of greenish-white male flowers of both these ragweeds are arranged in long terminal spikes. At maturity the flowers release large quantities of yellow pollen, which floats on a moderate wind for long distances, and in a strong wind is often carried for miles. Bulletins and posters have been spread all over the City and the Federation Chairman is most grateful to Mayor Childs, the Supt. of Public Schools, playground director, the forestry and street department, the girl scouts and boy scouts, school children, moving picture houses and the press for their enthusiasm and co-operation in this matter. Extra barrels will be placed on the playgrounds the week of July 10th. If you cannot pull it yourself, call the chairman, Mrs. Gordon Heath, C. N. 1610-W who will have it destroyed.

Rotary Club

The activities of the Newton Rotary Club are too many to be condensed into a half hour of reports, but such reports as were outstanding were given on Monday at the Braeburn Country Club at the weekly luncheon meeting which closed the year of the administration of Paul Ellicker, principal of the Newton High School. It was an entertaining and instructive half hour for those present, with humorous touches from the chairman of the various committees called upon to speak. Ray Lang gave an amusing account of the work of his Good Cheer Committee which somehow collected more birthday dollars than there are club members, and Dr. Cecil Clark enlarged on the place of singing at the weekly meetings. Excellent was the report of Dr. Frank Clark for the Boys Work Committee, one of the most important in the organization, dealing as it does especially with scholarships and loans.

A resolution thanking Harry Bascom for his 15 years of trusteeship of the loan fund was enthusiastically adopted. Dr. Frank Clark was elected for a period of three years in Mr. Bascom's place. President Paul Ellicker closed the reports with a brief survey of the year, reporting that nine new men had been admitted to membership with two more ready to be admitted at an early date in July. That will bring the total number of members up to 81, the largest in the club's history. It was also announced that, unlike the New Deal, Newton Rotary had balanced its budget. Attention was especially called to the nurturing during the last twelve months of the Brookline Rotary Club, which is now a going concern due to Newton's efforts. At the close, Mr. Ellicker gave his gavel over to John Cahill, newly elected vice-president, who took the place of the newly elected president, Norman Needy. Mr. Needy has not yet returned from the International Rotary meeting in Cleveland.

Arthur Campbell, Newton's commissioner of buildings, was welcomed into membership at this meeting by Dr. Philip Enholm. The members learned with regret of the resignation of Elwood Drake, who is leaving his place in the Newton schools for a fellowship in Columbia University. At next week's meeting the Watertown Club will meet with Newton at Braeburn.

LEGION JUNIOR NINE WINS OPENING GAME

The Junior baseball team of Newton Post 48, American Legion opened the summer season last week at Framingham with a 21 to 3 victory. The Newton players walloped the offenders of the Framingham hurlers for twenty-three hits with Grelia leading the attack with five safeties in seven trips to the plate.

Last Saturday the Newton Juniors lost a ten-inning struggle to Natick at Clifton field, Newtonville. The game was dead-locked at 3-all when pitcher Dunn weakened and Natick tied the count. In the tenth the visitors staged a rally to score four times while Newton was blanked in its half of the inning with the final score reading 7-3.

Newton plays Medford in its third game this evening at Clifton Field with play scheduled to start at six o'clock. Tomorrow the locals go to Wakefield. The remainder of the schedule is as follows:

Wednesday, July 5—Newton at Malden.
Friday, July 7—Lowell at Newton.
Saturday, July 8—Newton at Woburn.
Wednesday, July 12—Framingham at Newton.
Friday, July 14—Woburn at Newton.
Sunday, July 16—Newton at Lowell.
Tuesday, July 18—Newton at Medford.
Wednesday, July 19—Malden at Newton.
Friday, July 21—Wakefield at Newton.

200 Attend P.O. Employees Outing

Last Sunday the second annual reunion and outing of the employees connected with the postoffices in Newton and adjoining towns was held at Sellers Ten Acres, Wayland, where 200 gathered and made merry, despite the inclement weather prior to noon.

The biggest ovation of the day's program occurred when Toastmaster Joe O'Gorman, Supt. of the Newton Post Office, introduced letter carrier James Burns of that office. Mr. Burns has been employed 42 years in the Newton Postal Service and retires June 30th. He recalled the early days of the postoffices in this city and described the details involved in annexing Newton to the Boston Postal District which gave the people better service and the employees the same salary as those in Boston. Supt. O'Gorman described Jim Burns as the "ideal" carrier, who has won the respect of the public, and who is greatly appreciated by postal supervisors.

The baseball championship of the Newton postal branches was won by West Newton which defeated both Newton and Newton Centre.

The banquet took place at 2 p. m. with John H. O'Brien, asst. supt. of Mails of Boston Postal District, the principal speaker, representing Postmaster Peter F. Tague who was attending the national convention of postmasters in another part of the state. Hugh Noonan, president of the Boston Letter Carriers Union, also spoke. Chairman John Reinhardt was given a fine reception for his hard work in putting over the reunion.

Arrangements were made for the formation of a bowling league in September and a ladies party in October. A permanent organization will be completed at the September meeting.

Shifts Car Plates And Is Fined $125

Because Nicholas Balyozian of Canton lost his temper and gave a call down to another automobile driver at Newtonville square, he was fined $125 in the Newton court on Wednesday by Judge Mayberry. He was fined $100 for driving an uninsured automobile, and $25 for driving an unregistered auto. He appealed.

Kelly told the judge that his attention was attracted to Balyozian when the Canton man reprimanded another driver whose car was in the way of Balyozian's at Newtonville. When the policeman asked Balyozian to show his car registration, he found it had been issued for a make of car different from that which the Canton man was driving. He also found that Balyozian had shifted the plates on the car from another automobile illegally.

In court the same day Amenta Rotler of 72 Washington st., Newton, was fined $10 for driving without a license, and $5 for parking the car on a crosswalk at Newton Corner. Alden Cooley of Temple st., West Newton, was fined $5 for not slowing down at a street intersection.

MUSICALE

A musicale was given by the younger students of Marjorie Adele Schult at her home in Auburndale on last Saturday evening. Among those taking part were Patricia Wyman, Jackie Hayve, Constance Hartwell, Thelma Bergman, Dorothy Pierce, Suzanne Willis and Teddy de Leodernier.

Mrs. Helen Hamilton, 'cellist, and Miss Aida Pucciarelli, violinist, were the guest artists. Miss Janice Schult played two of her own compositions and the program concluded with a duet by Mrs. Schult and Miss Janice Schult. Refreshments were served.

Remarkable news comes from Philadelphia regarding Edward P. Burnham, well known Newton cyclist. He won five first prizes in the tournament held there this week. He rides the Victor tricycle and the Royal Mail bicycle. In the 5 mile race on Thursday his time was 16 minutes.

The Eliot Sunday school, observed its 39th anniversary on last Sunday evening with a large attendance. The report of the year show a membership of 413, the largest attendance being 332. There are 34 teachers in the main school, 9 in the primary department and 5 substitutes. There have been 2 deaths in members of the school the past year and 24 have joined the church.

Saturday was a gala day for the high school military battalion and their friends, the third annual prore drill taking place on the estate of Ex-Mayor Pulsifer at Auburndale. Seats were arranged around the broad lawn in front of the house and fully 500 persons were present. Before the drill a fine concert was given by Baldwin's Cadet Band. First prize in company drill was awarded to Company A and second prize to Company D. A bayonet squad commanded by Adjutant Fiske gave a fine exhibition. In the competitive drill for silver medals, 24 entered under command of Lieut. Allston Burr. Sgt. W. J. Clarke of Newton won 1st prize and Paul Van Duzee of Newtonville was awarded 2nd prize. The drill reflected credit on the boys who did well despite too heavy muskets, and poor drill accommodations.

William C. Gaudet of Newtonville won $300 in the superior court on Tuesday in his suit against the Boston & Albany railroad for ejectment from a train and false imprisonment. He was put off a train at Newton and arrested for evasion of fare because he tendered a ticket from Newton to Newtonville for passage from Faneuil. The fare to Faneuil was the same, and the ticket agent had told him that his Newton ticket would be accepted.

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night it was voted to publish the Mayor's warrant for the killing of unlicensed dogs, and the public works committee was asked to see how a better return of death reports and control of burials can be secured.

The sewing exhibition at the Bigelow School today is attracting numerous visitors. Fine specimens of needlework and embroidery are being shown.

A lawn party was held at the residence of Mr. B. Franklin Bacon on Washington st. Monday afternoon and evening. The Chataqua Circle of Eliot Church and friends were guests and numbered 20. Lawn tennis, archery and croquet were enjoyed between showers, and tea was served in the house.

At the meeting of the Board of Health on Tuesday evening an application from William Livingston to keep a pig on Walnut st., Newtonville was granted.

A new horse has been purchased for the horse wagon at Lower Falls. It is a fine looking animal and will no doubt prove satisfactory. The chestnut colored horse was removed because of broken wind.

There are signs of a building boom in the beautiful village of Waban. Some 8 lots of land have been sold there the past ten days through the J. F. C. Hyde agency. There are few locations around Boston which have so many natural advantages and the class of people who are building homes there will be a welcome addition to Newton. The place is being laid out with great care.

There has been a good deal of discussion about Newton high school and the class of pupils who attend it, and whether it is patronized by all the citizens, or only by those who could afford to send their children to private schools. To solve some of the questions raised, we print today a full list of the pupils at the school, arranged by classes, with the names of parents and residences. The length of the list shows that the school is certainly appreciated by the people of Newton, and its advantages are availed of by citizens generally. It is the most expensive portion of our school system, but good things are generally expensive, and if the work is well done the cost will not be regretted.

The school has more students than many colleges, and the course of study covers quite as much ground as that offered by the smaller colleges. When high schools were first established in Massachusetts, they were quite modest affairs, but with the advance in educational matters, they have grown and expanded into proportions that the projectors of the system never

EDWARD H.

Powers' Paragraphs

From 1928 until 1931, inclusive, the writer was a member of the Traffic Committee of the Newton Board of Aldermen. Before that time—and since, we have been constantly in touch with traffic conditions in Newton, and because we work in this city as well as reside in it, we naturally have more knowledge of traffic conditions here than is possessed by persons who only reside here, and who spend their days elsewhere. And we know more about traffic conditions in Newton than do self-proclaimed experts who observe traffic here for a few hours, and then tell Newton officials what to do and how to do it. Personally, we don't fall very hard for "traffic experts" or traffic engineers. We have seen too many instances of their expert judgment, and we have had more experience with and in traffic than most of them, and for a longer period of time, dating well back into the "horse and buggy days."

The reason for the preceding preface is the announcement in the press that the present Traffic Committee of the Board of Aldermen has ordered the removal of many traffic beacons in the city because some alleged traffic experts contend that beacons located in streets obstruct, rather than aid traffic, because Chief Randlett of the Fire Department favors their removal, and because the beacons allegedly cost $6 to $12 each per month for maintenance. At most of the intersections where the beacons in question were placed in past years, many automobile collisions had occurred. After the beacons were installed, the number of such collisions greatly diminished. The beacons have for years proved their value, notwithstanding the contention of certain "traffic experts." Insofar as the fire department is concerned, it is more important that dangerous intersections be safeguarded against collisions by heavy automobile traffic that passes such intersections every hour of each day, than it is to remove the beacons for the convenience of fire apparatus which may pass some of these intersections only at long intervals. The statement that each of these beacons costs from $6 to $12 monthly to maintain, is bosh in our opinion, and we would like to see this alleged cost proved.

As for obstructions in streets being a menace instead of an aid to traffic, we again refer to two beacons, one at either end of the business section at Stoughton where 3500 automobiles pass during an hour in the height of the summer traffic. There are no traffic lights at Stoughton to hold up traffic, and from the statement of the Chief of Police there, and our own observation, the two beacons cause the heavy traffic to move safely and expeditiously through that place. We hear much praise from traffic experts of rotary traffic circles. The object of such traffic circles is to keep lines of traffic from crossing or meeting. This is also the object of traffic beacons. We would much prefer a large beacon, such as those near the Trust Company building at Newton Corner, than the little traffic island at Auburndale, which certainly makes driving difficult at the intersection of Auburn and Lexington sts. Residents of Ward 1, including members of the Ward Improvement Associations, have protested against the removal of the beacon at the blind corner at Thornton and Pearl sts., and are making another protest.

We have been requested to call attention to a menace which has been growing in the Newtons;—the use of air rifles and even fire-arms by boys and youths. The breaking of windows and street lights by boys using air-rifles has become all too frequent in the Newtons, and lives have been even endangered by youths firing revolvers and real rifles. Last week a bullet from a high-powered rifle entered the window of a house on Fair Oaks ave., Newtonville and embedded itself in the wall of a room. Had anyone been in that room at the time, a fatality might have occurred. Parents who permit their boys to possess air-rifles or even more deadly weapons, display little common sense. They also should acquaint themselves with the law regarding the possession of air rifles by minors, and they will realize their responsibility.

Last week Newton's oldest public school ended its career. The little, old Lincoln School at the corner of Thornton and Pearl sts. was closed after 85 years of service as one of the city's educational units. It started in 1854 when it was built largely for the purpose of providing education for the children of Irish immigrants, a considerable number of whom had settled in that section of Newton. Although the old school had long since become antiquated, its passing will bring a touch of regret to the hundreds of old residents of the city who were pupils in it in years gone by. It is probable that the old building will be torn down to provide a needed widening of the dangerous intersection at Pearl and Thornton sts. The Eliot School on Pearl st., built about 30 years later than the Lincoln School, also has ended its career as a school structure and will probably be evolved into a community center.

The committee in charge of the field day of Newton Post, A. L., to be held at Clifton Field on July 4th, announces as a new feature "a bathing beauty contest." Inasmuch as there is no pond or swimming pool at Clifton Field, probably a portable tank, or even a bath tub may be provided for the alleged bathing beauties.

Governor Saltonstall is strongly in favor of a State tax of 2 cents on each package of cigarettes. Why not also recommend a tax on cigars, Governor? The rich fellows who can afford cigars should pay extra for their smokes as well as the ordinary gazaboos who have to be satisfied with the less expensive smokes.

According to Japanese army reports they have destroyed over 250 Mongolian (or Soviet) airplanes in combat the past month, while only a small number of Jap planes have been lost. According to Russian reports, the reverse is true. We are somewhat sceptical about the truth of the Japs' statements. We remember that during the Russian-Japanese war in the early years of this century, the Jap reports stated that the Russian losses were tremendous and their own negligible. But, after President Theodore Roosevelt had served as peacemaker between the two nations, and the real facts of the war came out, it was revealed that the Japs had also sustained large losses.

If you have any doubt that this country is progressing instead of degenerating, and that it is producing a race of virile, "he-men," look in the clothing store windows and see the men's bathing trunks that are now on display. Dainty, satin things with floral patterns.

Remember boys that July 4th is not until next Tuesday. So, don't discharge fireworks, or other explosives until that day. Obey the law, and show consideration for sick persons and old folks with frayed nerves.

Ignored Parking Rules; Pay Fine

According to the testimony of Patrolman Joe Smith in the Newton court last Friday, Dr. Louis Skirball of 14 Exmoor rd., Newton Centre, remarked, when he found a three-way police tag on his car "it did not mean a thing, and could be easily fixed." The patrolman also said that Skirball ignored the instructions on the tag which specified that he go to the office of the clerk of the Newton court. The tag was affixed to Skirball's car after he had parked it at the corner of Commonwealth ave. and Chestnut ter., Newton Centre, in violation of the city ordinance which prohibits automobiles being parked within 10 feet of a street intersection. Judge Mayberry asked Skirball how he could fix a "three-way ticket," and the defendant replied that he had never seen the policeman before to speak to. The judge then stated that fixing such a traffic ticket can't be done, and he fined Skirball $10.

Albert Gerstein of 134 Eastbourne rd., Newton Centre was fined $5 for parking his car at the same corner after Patrolman Smith had warned him not to do it. Smith told the judge that some drivers of automobiles have made a practice of parking their cars at this corner, which is opposite the Newton Squash & Tennis Club, and that complaints have been made to the police about this traffic hazard.

PIANO RECITAL

A pianoforte recital was given by the pupils of Mrs. Ethel P. Bragdon of Danvers at the Brae Burn Country Club on Tuesday evening. Among the Newton pupils who took part were Kate Gregg, Patricia Helms, Donald Perry, Eva Gregg, Dorothea Perry. The program was varied by blackboard drawings by Mr. Festus Rousseau illustrating the selections that were played.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"God" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, throughout the world, on Sunday, July 2.

The Golden Text is: "Unto the King eternal, immortal, invisible, the only wise God, be honour and glory for ever and ever" (1 Timothy 1:17).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "God that made the world and all things therein, seeing that he is Lord of heaven and earth, dwelleth not in temples made with men's hands; neither is worshipped with men's hands, as though he needed anything, seeing he giveth to all life, and breath, and all things" (Acts 17:24, 25).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "If God, the All-in-All, be the creator of the spiritual universe, including man, then everything entitled to a classification as truth, or Science, must be comprised in a knowledge or understanding of God, for there can be nothing beyond illimitable divinity" (p. 127).

Must Return Car To Ex-Girl Friend

A blighted romance which involved the ownership of an automobile, resulted in Albert Starke, 28, of Bigelow st., Brighton being ordered by Judge Crehan in the Newton court on Wednesday to return to Hazel Chapman of Everett, an automobile which both man and girl claimed they had paid for. Miss Chapman, employed in a Waban beauty parlor, told the judge that she and Starke had kept company for 2 years; that about a year ago she gave him $215 as the down payment on the car, and since had given him $210 for monthly payments on the car. She said she also paid for insurance and repairs on the vehicle. She testified that when the last payment on the car was made on May 19, Starke, who had bought the car in his name, transferred its ownership to her. On June 12 he borrowed the car from her and on the following day telephoned her, thanking her for the car and saying he would return the plates to her.

Starke denied that Miss Chapman had paid for the car, and said that his reason for transferring its ownership to the girl was because she had told him that in order to obtain a bond in connection with a new position, she had to own the car. He claimed that his alleged signature on the application blanks for the transfer, were forgeries. Judge Crehan ordered Starke to give the car back to Miss Chapman by July 1.

An unusual epilogue, or optical lantern for the projection of images, was installed in the operating room of the St. Louis hospital in Paris in 1924. Consisting of lights, prisms and lenses, says Collier's Weekly, it projected actual operations on a large screen in a lecture theater on the floor below, giving the audience an enlarged and close-up view of every movement of the surgeons' hands, accompanied by a vocal description of the progress over a loud-speaker.

School Committee Favors Taking of Stearns Land

At its meeting on last Monday night the Newton School Committee voted to recommend that the vacant lot of land on Watertown st., Nonantum, adjoining the Stearns School, be taken by the city for school or playground purposes. The lot in question has been a matter of controversy among the Aldermen and members of the School Committee and Playground Commission the past year and twice during that time the School Committee voted not to take any action on this matter. The reason for the committee finally deciding to favor the taking of the land by the city was the argument that a large, concrete block warehouse, which would have been located within 50 feet of the Stearns School, would adversely affect light and ventilation at the school, and also impede fire apparatus from reaching the school building.

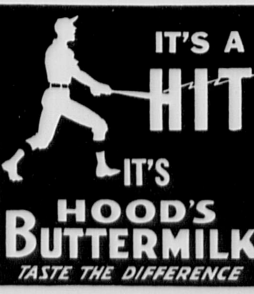

The property in question was formerly owned by M. Ethelyn Stearns who was for many years a teacher at the Stearns School, and who died in 1937. Early last year the lot of land in question was sold by the Stearns estate to the G & S Paper Company of Nonantum and a permit was obtained for the erection of a large warehouse for the storage of paper. Residents of Nonantum then presented a petition asking the city to take the land for community or recreation purposes. The Aldermen reversed their action in granting a permit for a garage in the warehouse and there was considerable discussion over the taking of the land, with responsibility being shifted between the Aldermen, the Mayor, the Playground Commission and the School Committee. The Aldermen were opposed to the taking of the land for community purposes, as this might obligate the city to build a community center building on it; the School Committee had voted that the land was not needed for school purposes; and the Mayor sought to justify the taking of the property for recreational purposes, which some of the Aldermen thought not explicit enough. The action of the School Committee will probably satisfy those members of the Aldermen who would not vote for the taking of the land until they could be absolved of favoring such action by a definite request from either the School Committee or the Playground Commission.

"LAND OF THE BIG FEET"

When Magellan was on his voyage around the world, which ended for him in the Philippines, he stopped in a place in South America where he found large footprints in the sand. For this reason he called the place Patagonia, or the "Land of Big Feet."

Hunters Find Moose Are The Wariest of Animals

The moose is capable of great speed and has remarkable powers of endurance, writes Mortimer Norton in the Montreal Star. It is an awkward, clumsy animal, but never fails to inspire interest and respect when seen in the forests or feeding on lily pads in wilderness river.

In winter moose seek the elevated ridges where hardwood trees abound, and when the snow gets deep they "yard up" in the valleys as do the whitetailed deer. They move about according to the supply of food available—stripping maple, buttonwood, birch and aspen trees of their leaves and small twigs.

A moose will trot, run and jump when occasion demands and can crash through thick underbrush with ease. It is also a good swimmer. When stalking a moose, the hunter must go quietly and proceed against the wind, for these animals have keen sense of hearing and smell. This is why, together with the density of the forest, it is so difficult for the hunter to see or get within firing range of one of these wary creatures.

Indeed, moose will often locate in almost impenetrable swamps, where the only practicable means of bringing them within reach is to use a moose call. Where possible the method of still-hunting is to be recommended, so that the quarry will have a reasonable chance for its life. An experienced moose caller is frequently able to lure a bull moose out of the swamps where the waiting hunter can drop it with a well placed shot. This method entices the game to its death without the slightest warning and under this practice a section of the country can easily be depleted of its necessary breeding stock.

Where the terrain is not so thickly wooded then the sportsman will rely on his initiative to track down the moose and bag it by still-hunting, or, during especially dry weather, by an organized drive.

Nicknames Given Kings;

'Charles' Were in Lead

Not even kings are immune from nicknames, and history provides many examples—unkind as well as flattering. The various Kings Charles, especially of France, seem to have been particularly liable, and lead the way in the royal nickname parade, says Pearson's London Weekly.

There was Charles the Bald, son of the second wife of Louis the Kind; Charles the Simple, son of Louis the Stammerer; Charles the Handsome, son of Philip the Handsome; and Charles the Wise, who was fond of books, rather a rare distinction in his day. He inherited the library of 20 volumes which had satisfied the literary yearnings of his father, but left, at his death in 1380, some 900, about all there were then. Then there was Charles the Well-Beloved, who fell ill from a magic spell and was treated by wizards instead of doctors; Charles the Victorious, who recaptured nearly all his kingdom from the English; Charles the Courteous, who was so polite to his servants that two fell dead on hearing of his death.

Charles the Fat was king of Swabia and Italy. Charles the Bad misgoverned Navarre. Charles the Bold reigned over Burgundy, and Charles the Warrior over Savoy.

Belief in Fairies

Scientists tell us that many years ago a pigmy race spread all over Europe. They were credited with supernatural powers, and it is from them that we get our belief in fairies, observes a writer in London Tit-Bits magazine. But apart from scientists pure and simple, there are others who believe that fairies still exist. Years ago the late Sir Arthur Conan Doyle submitted to the world photographs and facts about fairies. In spite of this, most people are still skeptical. It is not only in places like the wilds of Eire, the mountains of Wales and on the Cornish coasts that people believe in the existence of these little people. There is in Kent a Fairy Investigation society, to which belong scores of rational members, all sure that the "little people" are still to be found.

Flows From East to West

A feature of the Columbia river that looms large in history but has been overlooked in later years is that it is the only great waterway of the nation that flows from east to west. It courses southward through the state of Washington, then swings sharply to the left and flows westward for more than 300 miles to the ocean. In 1803, when Thomas Jefferson sent Lewis and Clark to claim the great river for the United States, he knew of it mainly as the stream that flowed east and west. All the other important American rivers—the Mississippi, the Hudson, the Colorado, the Tennessee—flow principally north and south.

Hot Baths in Jamaica

At Bath, in the parish of St. Thomas in Jamaica, the waters of the spring are the hottest in the island, with a temperature at the fountain head of 126 to 128 degrees Fahrenheit. These waters are sulphuric and are beneficial in gout, rheumatism, skin affections and fevers. They lose about nine degrees of heat in transit to the baths themselves.

Scent Boxes Once Used

By Both Women and Men

Small silver scent boxes and vinaigrettes came into fashion late in the Eighteenth century. They were considered an indispensable part of a lady's toilet a century and more ago. Every lady carried one in her pocket or reticule or suspended from her chateleine. It was the fashion to sniff at it delicately whenever the opportune time came, for the oftener a lady of those times came to swooning, the more highly was she regarded. The ladies, however, according to Alice R. Rollins in the Los Angeles Times, were not alone in using these small trifles.

Those for the men were larger and more masculine in taste. They included such designs as a skull, a fish or fruit. They were worn suspended from the watch chain or carried in the pocket.

Vinaigrettes were usually made of silver but a few of gold and ivory are known. One of the latter is described as being egg-shaped, pierced all over and unscrewing in the middle for the insertion of the sponge soaked in aromatic vinegar. The silver ones are of many shapes and sizes. As a general rule the earlier ones are plain and have detached lids. On the inside of the box was a gridded compartment that held spices, musk or a tiny sponge that had been moistened with sweet-smelling liquids.

In shape they were round, oval, convex and flat. Sometimes in the form of tiny books, pocketbooks, letter wallets or shells. Some of those made in the shape of books are beautifully chased in imitation of tooled binding. Fish-shaped scent-bottles and vinaigrettes from Holland are not uncommon.

Praying Mantis Perfect

In Its Stalking Manner

Some wild creatures are immune from destruction by human beings, because legends have caused them to be looked upon as sacred. Robin Redbreast is an example, for it is considered unlucky to kill a robin or destroy its nest. Some think it unlucky to kill a spider, but the most fortunate creature is the praying mantis, writes Oliver G. Pike, F. Z. S., in London Tit-Bits Magazine.

The mantis preys upon other insects; it requires a lot of food and as there is an unlimited supply all around, it will often kill, eat a small portion of its victim, cast it aside, and capture more. When wanting a meal it sits among the green vegetation looking exactly like the surroundings and it takes a trained observer to detect it as it stands motionless, body erect, forelegs raised. In this position it appears to be in an attitude of prayer. Sometimes it waits until an insect comes within striking distance, at other times it will stalk the prey, and this stalking has been brought to perfection. It moves so slowly that action is almost indistinguishable, then like a flash the two long legs go forward, and the insect is gripped in a firm hold between the toothed edges of these limbs.

The ancient Greeks looked upon the praying mantis as a small god. In parts of India the mantis is considered a creature favored by heaven, and if a person is fortunate enough to have one settle upon him he is thought to be a saint. In all parts of the world it is either considered sacred, or legends protect it.

Great Power of Music

Music has power not only to soothe, but also to irritate and to destroy. Sounds are caused by air vibrations which produce high or low notes according to their frequency. The lowest note audible to the human ear is about 16 vibrations per second, and the highest is 20,000. The higher the note the more disagreeable it can sound, and these vibrations have a damaging effect upon the nerves if experienced too often. Others can shatter glass vessels; Caruso could break a wine glass by singing a certain high note, and many scientists believe that in this power lies the secret of the shattering of the walls of Jericho, as related in the Bible.

Use of Fiery Cross in Scotland

Telegrams may be handier and swifter, but much of the romance of early days died when the fiery cross went out of use as a messenger in Scotland. The cross was made of two sticks of wood and the ends were burned in fire, then dipped in goat's blood. In emergencies two runners of the clan were each given a fiery cross and sent out through the countryside, to call the clan squire and give the name of a meeting place. At each village a fresh runner took the cross and continued rallying the clan, for every male had to report to the chieftain at once. The last fiery cross recorded in Scotland was one sent out in 1746.

Famous Mangrove Swamp

One of the largest mangrove swamps in the world is in the southwestern Everglades. In places the forest extends five or more miles inland. The soils here are mostly raw, fibrous peat, frequently over 12 feet deep, indicating that organic debris has accumulated over a long period. It is probable, says a Carnegie report, that many thousands of formerly small mangrove islands of the region grew together to form mangrove land, thereby pushing further and further into the Gulf of Mexico.

Burglars

Attempts were made to enter stores in Newtonville late Monday night, including the Thornton Market, Washington Pharmacy and S. K. Ames' store. Dr. P. B. Howard of Washington Park surprised two youths about midnight acting suspiciously at the rear of the pharmacy. They fled when he shouted at them.

When the family of James B. Palmer returned to their home at 230 Mount Vernon st., Newtonville, on Monday, after an absence of several days, they found that the house had been entered and $12 taken from a children's bank.

Someone obviously well acquainted with the place, entered the Community Service Station, 79 Needham st., Newton Highlands, early yesterday morning and stole $83 in cash from where it was hidden in a cigarette vending machine. The burglar forced open a rear window and tore a hole in a wallboard partition.

Patrolman John Mullen captured Alphonse Levy of Common st., Boston, as the latter emerged from the Stuart Building, Newton Centre, about 7 a. m. yesterday. Mullen had observed the man in Newton Centre sq. at 1:30 that morning. Investigation showed that Levy had entered the office of Constable Louis Ebb and stolen $10. Levy was arraigned in the Newton court yesterday and his case continued until July 1. He recently served 6 months for robbing poor boxes in South Boston churches.

Animals and Birds Find

Plenty of Use for Tails

Certain species of mice have extraordinary long tails which are used as balancing organs while making long leaps. In another species of mice the tail seems to have no purpose at all as it is only a remnant. Among the larger mammals the bear and elephant have about the smallest tails in relation to their size, although the elephant has his compensated for by a proboscis on the other end. We may think the common cottontail was slighted in this respect, writes a correspondent in the Detroit News, but it has a tail nearly as long as a bear and furthermore it serves as a signal of danger much the same as the tail of the deer.

The Gila monster finds his tail an excellent place for food storage. The alligator uses its tail as a weapon and as a powerful lever in turning its body over and over after seizing its prey. In this way the alligator tears its food or victim as the case may be. The great order of insects show a wide diversity in structure and function of tails or tail-like appendages.

If one is expert enough to read the signals of the skunk's tail he can tell when to retreat to a safety zone. Some people claim they can pick up a skunk by the tail with perfect impunity, but some skunks are too clever for persons to take this advantage of them. Others claim they can pick up a porcupine by the tail without danger; however, unless you are an expert you will probably find it a very effective war club worthy of considerable respect. The beaver's tail is used to spunk out on the water a warning of approaching danger.

Some tails serve chiefly as ornaments as in the peacock, the lyre bird and pheasants. The ruffed grouse is a famous dandy which, during the drumming period, struts about vainly displaying the coloration of his tail feathers. Of course, we all know that the horse's tail is not only an ornament but also a fly swatter. The question still remains of what use is a pig's tail?

Pneumatic Organ Old

The pneumatic style of organ made its appearance in the Fourth century. It was used on festive occasions for secular purposes.

Tutoring

riod should be one hour, unless physical condition of pupil will warrant an hour period.

4. All financial arrangements will necessarily be apart from the school, but it is recommended that the rate be no less than $2 per hour and no more than $2.50 per hour.

5. It is imperative that the selected teacher should confer frequently with the teacher of the pupil.

6. If it is evident after a few lessons that pupil cannot make up work satisfactorily, the parent should be informed of the status and probable outcome of prolonged tutoring. No tutor should continue with private instruction if there is no, or very slight, prospect of success.

Committeeman Harry Bryant commented that the matter of private tutoring is none of our business, but the plan is all right unless an attempt is made to dictate. Supt. Warren said no such attempt will be made, and the purpose of the plan is to establish a central clearing house for such tutoring.

STEWARDESSES ON OCEAN LINES WELL TRAINED

It usually requires considerable training in service and hospitality, as well as a good background, to become a stewardess aboard a modern liner. Many of the stewardesses chosen for the new Cunard White Star liner Mauretania have had many years of training in this calling.

In selecting the personnel for the stewardesses' division in the new Mauretania, only the most skillful of the present generation were selected. The women chosen come from many walks of life. Some have been trained nurses, linguists, hair dressers, athletic instructors, and traveling companions, but all have served for years aboard ships of Cunard White Star.

It is the duty of stewardesses to make things pleasant for all women passengers, as well as children, during a transatlantic voyage. Other duties include the arrangement of flower, dusting, making beds, and serving meals in ladies' staterooms.

There is another important service which falls to the stewardesses. They often act as interpreters for passengers from continental Europe. They wear a small flag on their uniform which designates the foreign languages they speak.

Each stewardess has her specified work and is not required to do anything else aboard the ship. They like their work, as is indicated by the number of years they retain their positions. They meet many interesting people, the most famous in the world.

The new Mauretania is scheduled to arrive in New York on June 23 and will sail back to England on June 30.

Passenger Pigeons Once Numbered Into Millions

Passenger pigeons were formerly numerous throughout most of the United States and southern Canada east of the Great Plains. Audubon and Wilson, early naturalists, reported that they saw these wild pigeons flying in flocks eight or ten miles long, more than a mile wide and so compact that the sun was hidden from view as they passed. When they settled down on a forest for the night, notes a writer in the Indianapolis News, trees broke down under their weight. Their cooing and the whirring of their wings were so loud that the report of a gun could not be heard. During the breeding season hundreds of them would nest in a single tree. The entire species is now extinct.

According to the United States biological survey, the last known survivor was a captive bird which died in the Cincinnati zoological gardens in September, 1914. Many theories have been advanced to account for the complete disappearance of these birds. The early settlers and hunters shot them by thousands and knocked them down with clubs and poles.

It is generally believed by naturalists that this indiscriminate slaughter of the passenger pigeons led to their ultimate extinction as a species. As civilization encroached upon the wilderness the birds began to disappear and kept on disappearing until there was not a single specimen living. One writer, however, believes that the birds were destroyed by a species of chicken mite introduced from Europe. He reported that during the seventies and early eighties he found thousands of dead squabs under the trees where the pigeons were nesting. Upon examination they were found to be literally covered with mites.

Many Species of Insects

The United States department of agriculture estimates that there are 624,000 species of insects in the world. In the United States there are more than 20,000 different species, 6,000 of which are actual pests.

Some Fined For Breaking Traffic Rules, Some Fined

Mortimer Stuart of 24 Fellmere rd., Newton Centre was supposed to appear in Newton court last Friday to answer a charge of not stopping his automobile before entering a through way. Stuart did not only not appear, sending his secretary as his proxy, and entering through her plea of guilty, but Judge Mayberry also placed the case on file. The case of Estelle Rubin of 36 Tangleton rd., Newton Centre, charged by Patrolman McHugh with not stopping her car before entering a through way, was also placed on file by Judge Mayberry. In court last Saturday two similar charges against Arthur Levine of Stuart rd., Newton Centre, and Dorothy Eskin of Hobart rd., Newton Centre were also placed on file.

In court last Friday Mary LaPort of 84 Walker st., Newtonville, was fined $3 by Judge Mayberry for not stopping her car before entering a through way. Sergeant Bannon testified that she had been notified twice before to appear in court. The defendant testified that she is a nurse and was away when the summonses were left at her residence.

In court on Saturday Ira Mick of Medford was fined $5 for not stopping at a traffic signal with the red light against him. Lovell Rawson of Wellesley was fined $5 for a like offence. Fines of $5 each for speeding were imposed on Charles Halpert of Brookline and Bernard Shapiro of Mandelay rd., Newton Centre. Irving Horwitz of Worcester was fined $5 for driving to the left of the centre of a street. Stephen Hopkins of Brookline and Thomas Nelson of Jamaica Plain were fined $3 each for not stopping before entering a through way. Giacomo Salustri of Bradford st., Boston, was charged with driving after his license had been revoked. His case was continued until July 1. He was arrested at his home the night before by Inspector King and Patrolman Dowling. On April 29 Dowling stopped Salustri on Crafts st. for speeding. The latter said he had left his license at home and promised to bring it to headquarters the next day. He did not come and Dowling found his license had been revoked in 1938 following a second conviction for drunken driving. Salustri later ignored two summonses to appear in Newton court.

Most of the stories of dogs of the monasteries in the Alps deal with their life-saving exploits, but here is one in a different vein. In a certain monastery every day at noon the cook rang a bell to call the Fathers to the noonday repast. The dog who belonged to the monastery was always given his meal at that time, too. He used to wait patiently and anxiously for the signal.

One day the bell didn't ring at the accustomed time. The dog didn't know that it was Good Friday and that the monks fasted all day long. He must have supposed that the cook forgot his duty—and he was hungry. After a long wait the dog galloped over to the bell, seized the rope in his teeth and pulled with all his might. The monks rushed out to see who was ringing the bell, and discovering it was their dog, they realized he had not been fed. It is almost needless to add that the dog was given a very special meal by his many masters, so proud were they of their pet's ingenuity.

About this time of year dogs are hosts to their usual summer visitors—fleas. Very often little thought is given to ridding an animal of these parasites. Fleas affect a dog's health. They extract their food from the superficial capillaries of a dog's skin and produce severe inflammation by the injection of an irritating fluid into the skin. Some dogs have an apparent hypersensitivity to this secretion and are much more affected by flea bites than are others, just as some humans are worse affected by mosquito bites than are others. Sometimes the dog's scratching produces a secondary infection which may develop with serious consequences. Fleas are also carriers of bacterial diseases. Certain types of worm infestations are transmitted to the dog by fleas. If possible, keep your dog free from these parasites. Your veterinarian can supply a flea powder that will give the desired results.

nozeno of 116 Florence st.; and the Newton Centre Savings Bank. Since the Worcester turnpike was built several years ago the Newton Board of Aldermen, in common with officials of most towns along the route of the pike, have consistently turned down attempts of those who petitioned for permits to convert the big automobile highway into a business thoroughfare. The boulevard was constructed for the express purpose of providing a high-speed artery for motor vehicles between Boston, Worcester and points west, and to accomplish this, it was kept from business areas of the cities and towns through which it passes. To allow business on it would defeat the purpose for which taxpayers of Massachusetts spent millions of dollars. The latest petition, will, in all probability, meet the same fate as those which preceded it.

The renewal of another attempt to get business onto the turnpike comes in a petition from Carl Tishler of 63a Charles st., Boston, for a permit to use the barn at 1185 Boylston st., Upper Falls as an antique shop, and to use two rooms in the dwelling at that address for the display of antiques. A similar petition was refused by the Board of Aldermen last year. The property is located near Rockland place, and the barn has been used as a paint shop, under the non-conforming clause in the zoning ordinance.

Engaged In Scrap And Got Arrested

John Caruso, 21 of 33 Alden place, West Newton was fined $20 by Judge Mayberry in the Newton court on Monday; $10 for drunkenness and $10 for disturbing the peace. He appealed. Alfred Foley of 64 Webster st., West Newton was fined $5 each on two similar charges. Patrolman Mague testified that the two were participants in a battle royal at Washington and Elm sts. at 1 a.m. Sunday. Caruso told the judge that he was merely trying to stop a fight between Foley and another man.
